U. S. Calls On Russia To Pay Lend-Lease Bill

News Of Action Withheld During Moscow Meetings

WASHINGTON, Sept. 28 (AP)—The United States has called upon Russia in a new note to resume negotiations for settling its long overdue lend-lease account of $11,000,000,000.

Officials disclosed tonight that the State Department had sent the not about two weeks ago to Ambassador Alexander S. Panyushkin.

The Department kept all news of the action secret, they said, for fear of upsetting the delicate discussions with Russian officials on the Berlin blockade.

Top American officials felt Moscow might mistake a public announcement of the lend-lease note as an American maneuver to embarrass the Russians at a critical stage in diplomatic negotiations.

Now that these talks with Moscow have collapsed, these officials revealed that the State Department has:

Seek Settlement Discussion

1. Expressed willingness to talk over the latest Soviet counter proposal on lend-lease as a means of hastening agreement.

2. Suggested the two sides get together for their first face-to-face meeting on the subject since last March when negotiations were suspended.

Ambassador Panyushkin has not replied, presumably because he is awaiting new instructions from Moscow.

The lend-lease discussions with the Russians began 17 months ago and have continued sporadically since with very little progress.

Russia is the only country that got sizeable quantities of lend-lease that has balked at settling its wartime account. Great Britain and France closed their accounts two years ago.

In general, the United States has asked the Soviet Union, as it has other countries, to pay a "reasonable value" for the civilian type lend-lease goods in its possession as of V-J Day, September 2, 1945. This in most cases has averaged less than 10 per cent of the total sent under lend-lease.

No payment was requested of Russia or any other lend-lease nation for the strictly war materials used in the common war effort against Germany and Japan.

Moscow Owes Big Bill

A factor holding up settlement with Russia may be the relatively higher bill Moscow is being asked to pay. Government officials explained this by pointing out that a greater percentage of lend-lease goods with peacetime value was sent to Russia.

Among the civilian-type lend-lease material exported to Russia were $1,078,965,000 in machinery and equipment; 2,800,000 tons of steel; 1,198 locomotives; 11,155 freight cars; $10,910,000 in construction machinery; 8,071 tractors; 375,883 motor trucks; 2,670 tons of petroleum products and 802,000 tons of non-ferrous metals.

Among the vast quantities of war materials shipped to Russia were 14,795 planes; 7,056 tanks; 51,503 jeeps; 131,633 submachine guns; 8,218 anti-aircraft guns; 345,735 tons of explosives; 87 sub chasers and 105 torpedo boats.

Russia thus far has failed to return 87 American merchant vessels furnished under lend-lease, 28 frigates and three ice breakers along with certain smaller Naval craft.

Ilse Koch Case To Be Re-Examined

WASHINGTON, Sept. 28 (INS)—Army Secretary Royall said today he has ordered Gen. Lucius D. Clay in Berlin to re-examine the case of Ilse Koch, whose prison sentence was reduced to four years.

Royall said there is a possibility that new charges may be brought against the widow of the Nazi commander at the dread Buchenwald prison where thousands of Jews perished.

Her sentence was commuted from life to four years. A flood of protesting letters to Congress touched off a probe being conducted by Senate Investigating Chairman Ferguson (R) Mich.

The Army Secretary was called in for a closed-door conference with Ferguson's committee today. Ferguson said he plans to hold public hearings on the subject later on.

Royall also set forth his views in a letter to Rep. Klein (D) N. Y. The letter said:

"The decision of the theater (in Germany) is final as to the charges on which Ilse Koch was tried. Nor could the accused be tried again for the same offense.

"From the information that has come to me I am rather inclined to think the available evidence would justify no other charges.

"However, I will be glad to have the case further reviewed by the theater to see if other proceedings can properly be taken."

Royall explained that Frau Koch, who reportedly made lamp shades of human skin when victims were dying by the hundreds at the prison, had been granted her commutation by an authorized board of review.

Truman's Statement That Russia Wants GOP Win 'Ridiculous'

Sen. Ferguson Says Republicans Leading Fight Against Reds

DECLINES TO ANSWER—Julius Emspak, secretary-treasurer of the CIO Electrical Workers Union, yesterday appeared before a House Committee investigating Communist activities in labor unions. He refused to say whether he is or ever was a communist. (see story this page)

[By The Associated Press]

President Truman said last (Tuesday) night that the Communists want the Republicans to win because they think confusion and strife will follow. A Republican Senator replied: "Ridiculous!"

Mr. Truman, smashing back at Republican attacks, declared his administration faithfully prosecuted subversive activities "but we must have real evidence. We cannot use the speeches of Republican politicians."

In Washington, Senator Ferguson (R-Mich.), said it is "utterly ridiculous" to charge that the Communists want his party to win. The Republicans, Ferguson said, "have been leading the fight against Communism in America."

Dewey Speaks In Montana

While Mr. Truman spoke at Oklahoma City, Gov. Thomas E. Dewey turned to the dark international picture before a Missoula, Mont., audience. Dewey declared again that his nation is united behind its representatives at the Paris United Nations meeting.

The GOP Presidential candidate said they "are laboring mightly against great odds to bring about a peaceful settlement even at this late hour.

"As a united people, we stand shoulder to shoulder with them.

"We will not compromise our principles."

Mr. Truman, in major speech on the return leg of his western tour, said the country has little to fear from spies and subversives "so long as the FBI and other security agencies can do their job without having the ground cut from under them by committees of Congress."

In the background were criticisms, by Dewey and others, of the administration's handling of alleged Communists. The House UnAmerican Activities Committee on Monday charged the administration had failed to prosecute persons linked to a "Soviet espionage conspiracy."

Mr. Truman asserted that the Republicans have failed to turn up any significant information about Communist espionage that the FBI didn't have, and had "impaired our nation's atomic energy program by their intemperate and unjustified attacks on our atomic scientists."

Cites Wallace Aid

The Republican Party has not hurt the Communist party, but has helped it, and is "the unwitting ally of the Communists in this country," the President said. The Communists are aiding Henry Wallace's Party, he said, and they are doing this because they want to help the Republicans.

Dewey visioned the northwest's power as a substitute for oil as he spoke at Spokane, Wash., on his way to Montana.

Oil consumption is increasing at faster pace than production, he said. An oil deficiency could be a

Clay Asserts Reds Beaten In 'Cold War'

Says Tactics Earn Hostility In Reich

BERLIN, Sept. 28 (INS) — Gen. Lucius D. Clay declared tonight Russia has lost the "cold war" among Berliners because of her "ruthless attempts to starve the people into yielding."

In an exclusive interview with International News Service, the U. S. Military Governor said the Soviet starvation tactics earned the widespread hostility of the Germans.

Now, he declared, the Russians cannot gain their political objectives of controlling all Berlin—peacefully.

"War Not Imminent"

As for the possibility of war Gen. Clay said he regarded it as "neither imminent nor necessary" but added:

"Our government has declared we will stay here to the end and I assume that means exactly that."

Clay was enthused at the Western Allied decision to put the case before the U. N. Security Council although he does not expect the U. N. to produce any quick solution.

The Military Governor favored it because it demonstrates American willingness to abide by her pledges and utilize U. N. machinery to the fullest.

Clay said the effect on Russia of recourse to the U. N. will be determined mostly by the effect of "the mounting pressure of world opinion."

The General said he saw no indication, however, of early Russian relaxation of the blockade.

Will Continue Airlift

Clay declared the United States is ready to continue the air supply service into Berlin indefinitely — "one year or five years more if necessary."

Larger planes will enable a complete substitution for former rail and road traffic, but he admitted the sky freights will only provide for "all normal needs of life" among the more than 2,000,000 Germans.

Reconstruction materials will have to await normal supply services.

Clay again took vigorous exception to charges he imposes his own policy in Germany. He said he is only a "government representative and soldier who must abide by and obey" the orders of his superiors.

Prospective failure of the U. N. to work out a solution for the Berlin problem apparently does not disturb the general.

He said a failure would only leave the situation as at present and one "which we are willing and prepared to cope with as long as necessary."

Navy Discovers Peary Documents In Arctic Circle

The navy was similarly reticent. Some government officials said the Navy's caution was dictated by fears that Russia might be tipped off about navigable waters in the ice-choked region where Peary's notes were found.

This vast Polar area has assumed more and more strategic importance in post-war years since tension between the United States and Russia has tightened.

R. I. Girl Slain In Love Tragedy

CUMBERLAND, R. I., Sept. 28 (INS)—The attractive daughter of a Rhode Island State Representative was slain today in a tragedy of shattered love.

Police said that Francis Kelley, 22, confessed the drowning of his former fiancee, Mary Burns, 26, after an all-night tryst in the woods near a beautiful woodland pond.

Kelley was quoted as saying he "pushed her head into the water" and held her there after Miss Burns refused to resume their broken engagement.

"She broke off our engagement. She said she was willing to see me but would not marry me.

"We had been at the water's edge almost all night arguing. When daybreak came I pushed her into the water and held her head under until she did not move any more—until she stopped kicking.

"She fought back when I first grabbed her and that is how I got the scratches on my cheek."

"I'm going to break up with him tonight."

Miss Burns had returned Kelley's ring a few nights ago to terminate their engagement of two years. Kelley was to have entered the Army next week. He had been unemployed recently.

The tragedy was discovered when Kelley came to the home of Samuel P. Boulter, owner of the pond where Miss Burns' body was found.

Mrs. Boulter said the young man was drenched with water and obviously nervous. He asked for dry clothing, she said, and then declared:

"I'm in great trouble. My girl is in your pond."

Police said Kelley told them he met Miss Burns last night and they attended a motion picture. After, according to Kelley, they took a bus to the forest adjoining the pond.

Remington Takes Appeal In Case Of "Disloyalty"

Regional Board Finds 'Grounds' For Belief

WASHINGTON, Sept. 28 (AP) — Counsel for William W. Remington said today a regional board has ruled there are "reasonable grounds to believe" the suspended Commerce Department official was "disloyal." He announced Remington will appeal to President Truman's loyalty review board.

Joseph L. Rauh, the attorney, released this statement from Remington:

"I have appealed the case to the Loyalty Review Board with the request that I be given an opportunity to confront and cross-examine Miss Bentley."

Miss Elizabeth Bentley, is the Vassar graduate who accused Remington of giving her "secret" information when she was a Communist spy ring courier during the war. Remington then was an official of the War Production Board.

Was CD Official

More recently, Remington was a $10,000-a-year Commerce Department official. As such, he presided over a board which passed on what exports could be made to Russia.

Remington, a week ago told the press he would file a libel action against Miss Bentley and the National Broadcasting Company for repeating on a television broadcast the charges she made originally before Congressional Committees — provided they do not publish retractions by noon Thursday.

Remington, it was learned, did not receive notice of the regional board's findings against him until some hours after he threatened the libel action. There had been no previous word that the board was near decision.

Attorney Rauh said the regional board's finding does not mean any change in Remington's plans to sue Miss Bentley and NBC unless they apologize.

Denied Charges

The regional board's finding was at odds with an earlier finding of the Commerce Department Loyalty Board, which had said there was no evidence before it which gave reasonable grounds to believe Remington disloyal.

After Miss Bentley's charges were made on Capitol Hill, Remington went before the Congressional Committees and swore he had never done anything disloyal.

Remington was suspended from his Commerce Department post in June by Secretary of Commerce Sawyer. Sawyer acted after learning the Civil Service Board was checking on Remington's loyalty.

Three Soldiers Die In Alaskan Air Plane Crash

FAIRBANKS, Alaska, Sept. 28 (INS) — Air Force officials announced tonight that three men burned to death and 10 were saved when a B-29 crashed approaching Shemya Air Field.

The officials withheld the names of the men who were killed and any word on condition of the survivors.

Officials said the motors conked out at a low altitude as the superfort came in for a landing yesterday. The plane stalled and crashed near the runway, and the three men were trapped.

Electric Union Termed Largest Communist Unit

WASHINGTON, Sept. 28 (AP)—A self - described former Communist told Congressmen today that the United Electrical, Radio and Machine Workers (CIO) is "the largest Communist-dominated organization in the United States."

A House Labor Subcommittee received that testimony from James J. Conroy, who said he used to belong to the union and for about six years was a member of the Communist Party. The House Group is conducting an inquiry into Communist influence in labor unions.

James J. Matles, director of organization for the UE Union, was called to the stand immediately. He refused to tell whether he is or ever was a Communist basing his refusal on Constitutional grounds.

Matles declared, however, that Conroy "is lying."

"Conroy comes from the gutter," Matles told Chairman Kersten (R-Wis). "He is a management man who tried to wreck our union.

"He stands for everything that is evil, just like you do, Mr. Chairman."

Matles declared that for him to answer the committee's question "would betray my people and my union."

Conroy told the committee that "the real leaders" of the union are Julius Emspak, secretary-treasurer, and Matles. He said that Albert J. Fitzgerald, the union's president, is just "a front man."

He also said that Emspak was known as "Comrade Juniper."

Conroy listed what he said were three principal objectives of the UE leadership and the Communist party:

"The damnation of the European Recovery Program and the United States' Foreign Policy."

Angry Germans Beat Up Russian Officer

BERLIN, Sept. 28 (INS)—U. S. Military and German police tonight seized 50 truckloads of food, coal and supplies bound from the Soviet Zone to the Russian sector of Berlin.

The Americans and their German aides set up roadblocks on the Potsdamerchausse and other main arteries in the U. S. sector used by the Russians as a short-cut from the Soviet Occupation Zone on the west side of the city.

Maul Russian Officer

Simultaneously a group of angry Germans severely mauled a Russian officer whom they said insulted German women outside the Zoo train station inside the British sector.

The beating of the unidentified officer coincided with an interview with Gen. Lucius D. Clay who said Russia's "ruthless attempts" to starve Berlin into yielding to Soviet control has aroused widespread German hostility.

Police reports said the Germans beat the Russian, smashed his pistol, and ripped off his belt and gunholster before German police intervened.

The Russian was taken to a West Berlin police station and turned over to the British military police who held him for delivery to the Russians.

This beating may have repercus-

Johnson Restored To Texas Ballot

Black's admonition came in striking down a temporary injunction issued in Texas which barred Rep. Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex.) from the November 2 ballot.

But Black declared:

"It would be a drastic break with the past to permit a Federal Judge and Federal Courts to go into the business of conducting a contest over elections in a state.

"There is no statuatory justification for a Federal Court to enjoin the steps of an election."

Black's conclusion was announced after a four-hour hearing in his chambers during which he gave attorneys for Johnson and Stevenson all the time they wished to argue points.

Black set a precedent by permitting newsmen to attend the hearing. By the time he heard everybody and reached his decision, his desk was piled 18 inches high and six feet across with thick law books.

Two former governors of Texas took part in the prolonged debate —Dan Moody for Stevenson and James V. Allred for Johnson. Allred also is a former Federal District Judge.

Moody told newsmen he will file a request for the full supreme court to overthrow Black's order. Any action on this request would be delayed until October 4 when the full court opens the new term.

French Minister Upbraids Soviets For Inability To Work With Western Powers

West To Ask U.N. For New Berlin Setup

Letters Will Be Delivered Today

PARIS, Sept. 28 (AP) — The three Western Powers will ask the United Nations Security Council to establish a new setup in Berlin on the ground the Soviet blockade threatens peace, a French spokesman said tonight.

The French spokesman said three identical letters were sent to Secretary-General Trygv Lie submitting the case. The notes cite article 39 and 40 of chapter seven of the U. N. Charter.

Article 40 gives the Security Council power to establish a provisional (temporary) arrangement in disputed areas, and calls upon the parties to the dispute to respect such an arrangement until there is a settlement.

Originally the notes were scheduled to be delivered to Lie today. But instead, the day was spent in drafting a 30-page annex documenting the history of the four-power talks which lasted eight weeks in Moscow and Berlin.

A British spokesman said the letters would be tagged with a request for urgent consideration. All was reported in readiness to give the case formally to the Security Council tomorrow. The council's decks were cleared for consideration of the Berlin question when it is presented.

Investigation Of Rep. Thomas, N. J. Is Under Study

WASHINGTON, Sept. 28 (AP)—A request for an investigation of the way Rep. J. Parnell Thomas (R-N.J.) has conducted his office has been "taken under advisement" by the Department of Justice.

Thomas is chairman of the House Committee on Un-American Activities.

"I refuse to be intimidated," Thomas said when newsmen advised him of the development. He had nothing else to say.

Seventeen New Jersey lawyers petitioned the Department for such an investigation on September 23, Assistant Attorney General Alex M. Campbell disclosed today. He said the matter has been taken "under advisement."

Columnist's Stories Used

Clipped to the lawyers' petition was a sheaf of newspaper columns by Drew Pearson dealing with the handling of the payroll in Thomas' office. The attorneys said they were "deeply concerned" over Pearson's charges and asked the Justice Department to determine if any federal laws had been violated in connection with Thomas' personnel.

Only yesterday Thomas' committee isued a preliminary report on its investigation of atomic espionage. The report said that the Justice Department's failure to prosecute alleged atomic spies was "indefensible."

Earlier today, Thomas had disclosed that the espionage investigation will move to Milwaukee, with hearings Friday and Saturday in charge of Rep. Vail (R-Ill.)

Follow Up Inquiry

Three committee investigators went there today to follow up on one phase of the inquiry. The witnesses were not announced in advance.

The hearings, Thomas told reporters, will involve one of the cases mentioned in the committee's preliminary report on atomic espionage made public yesterday.

That report recommended the

"Satira" May Get Freedom In Cuban Harbor Murder

HAVANA, Sept. 28 (INS) — Documents that may give Patricia "Satira" Schmidt her freedom within the next 12 days were placed in the hands of Cuba's Minister of Justice tonight.

Defense Counsel Carols Mencio withdrew an appeal for reduction of the American dancer's 15-year-prison sentence for the fatal yacht shooting of her American lover.

The legal papers necessary for pardon action were then sent to the Justice Minister who may recommend to Cuba's president that the night club entertainer be freed after serving 18 months.

The pardon decree may be signed before October 12.

USSR Accused Of Policy Ambition Surpassing Czars

PARIS, Sept. 28 (AP) — Paul-Henri Spaak of Belgium accused Russia today of maintaining a fifth column which he said made that of Hitler's "look like a boy scout movement."

He said the Soviet Union has organized a "fifth column in every country represented" in the United Nations General Assembly before which he spoke. The entire 58-nation assembly with the exception of the Soviet bloc responded with laughter, cheers and a five-minute ovation.

Outside the assembly the Berlin case of the Western Powers against Russia was reported ready tonight for immediate Security Council action. A source close to the diplomats drawing up detailed charges running up to more than 30 pages said the council might meet before the week end. No definite date will be set until the U.N. formally receives the case.

Schuman Upbraids Soviets

In addition to the attack from Spaak, the Soviet Union was upbraided by French Foreign Minister Robert Schuman for inability to get along with the Western Powers.

A spokesman for the Soviet Bloc—K. U. Kysilev of White Russia, retorted that a "war psychosis is being fanned" in the United Nations. He charged that the United States was engaging in an arms race and that "the feeling of the inevitability of a new war is being popularized in the minds of man."

Spaak, Premier and Foreign Minister of Belgium, delivered a sharp reply to Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Andrei Vishinsky's attack of last Saturday on the Western Powers.

He accused the Russians of an imperialist policy "more ambitious than the policy of the Czars themselves," and added: "We fear you when you preach this antiquated, this absolute doctrine of absolute national sovereignty."

Spaak, the first president of the U. N. Assembly in 1946 who has crossed lances repeatedly with the Russians, said the assembly needs a "spectacular coup — a compromise."

He said that as a remedy to the East-West dispute, attempts to revise the U.N. Charter must be abandoned. He said later this meant he would drop his opposition to the veto. In return, he added, Russia "must promise us to co-operate, to work with the genuine spirit of the charter.'

"Perhaps it's not too late," he said.

Spaak said that in the deadlock between the East and West it was the Western powers who were willing to be open and free.

"It is not we who wish to put ourselves up behind an iron curtain," he exclaimed.

Cites "War Mongering"

Vishinsky had declared the publishing in American newspapers of air maps showing distances to Moscow was war mongering.

Spaak asked the Soviet delegation if he thought it more dangerous for such maps to be published in the press or be studied by military staffs.

"The basis of our policy is fear," he said: "Not the fear of a coward—the fear of someone who looks ahead and considers the horror and tragedy which faces us, may face us in the future."

Then, to the Soviet delegation:

"It is the fear of you, gentlemen,

Soviets Predict 2 Camps In U.N.

MOSCOW, Sept. 28 (AP) — The Soviet Press said today British Foreign Secretary Bevin's speech to the United Nations raised the possibility of two camps in the U.N. going separate ways.

A Tass dispatch from Paris informed the Russian people for the first time that the East-West dispute over Berlin is to be appealed to the Security Council.

The dispatch, printed in all Russian papers, made no comment on the development over Berlin, but carried prominently comment on Bevin's speech.

A Tass dispatch quoted Bevin as telling the assembly on Monday that Britain may have to depend on regional pacts "if we cannot continue on a world basis, as we hope. We must agree with those with whom we can work, understand and trust those who wish to enter our confidence and understand us."

"This thesis of Bevin's is not difficult to decipher," said the dispatch. "It is a preparation for completion of the schism of the United Nations."

Tass accused the Western powers of putting into effect "unconcealed military preparations," and declared Bevin's speech was an effort to "cover up their refusal to accept" Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Andre Vishinsky's proposals for a one-third cut this year in big power armaments.

Mentioning Bevin's support of the proposals of the late Count Bernadotte for settlement in Palestine, Tass said "it is well known that these proposals are in effect revisions of the General Assembly's decision last year."

U. S. Calls On Russia To Pay Lend-Lease Bill

News Of Action Withheld During Moscow Meetings

WASHINGTON, Sept. 28 (AP)—The United States has called upon Russia in a new note to resume negotiations for settling its long overdue lend-lease account of $11,000,000,000.

Officials disclosed tonight that the State Department had sent the not about two weeks ago to Ambassador Alexander S. Panyushkin.

The Department kept all news of the action secret, they said, for fear of upsetting the delicate discussions with Russian officials on the Berlin blockade.

Top American officials felt Moscow might mistake a public announcement of the lend-lease note as an American maneuver to embarrass the Russians at a critical stage in diplomatic negotiations.

Now that these talks with Moscow have collapsed, these officials revealed that the State Department has:

Seek Settlement Discussion

1. Expressed willingness to talk over the latest Soviet counter proposal on lend-lease as a means of hastening agreement.

2. Suggested the two sides get together for their first face-to-face meeting on the subject since last March when negotiations were suspended.

Ambassador Panyushkin has not replied, presumably because he is awaiting new instructions from Moscow.

The lend-lease discussions with the Russians began 17 months ago and have continued sporadically since with very little progress.

Russia is the only country that got sizeable quantities of lend-lease that has balked at settling its wartime account. Great Britain and France closed their accounts two years ago.

In general, the United States has asked the Soviet Union, as it has other countries, to pay a "reasonable value" for the civilian type lend-lease goods in its possession as of V-J Day, September 2, 1945. This in most cases has averaged less than 10 per cent of the total sent under lend-lease.

No payment was requested of Russia or any other lend-lease nation for the strictly war materials used in the common war effort against Germany and Japan.

Moscow Owes Big Bill

A factor holding up settlement with Russia may be the relatively higher bill Moscow is being asked to pay. Government officials explained this by pointing out that a greater percentage of lend-lease goods with peacetime value was sent to Russia.

Among the civilian-type lend-lease material exported to Russia were $1,078,965,000 in machinery and equipment; 2,800,000 tons of steel; 1,198 locomotives; 11,155 freight cars; $10,910,000 in construction machinery; 8,071 tractors; 375,883 motor trucks; 2,670 tons of petroleum products and 802,000 tons of non-ferrous metals.

Among the vast quantities of war materials shipped to Russia were 14,795 planes; 7,056 tanks; 51,503 jeeps; 131,633 submachine guns; 8,218 anti-aircraft guns; 345,735 tons of explosives; 87 sub chasers and 105 torpedo boats.

Russia thus far has failed to return 87 American merchant vessels furnished under lend-lease, 28 frigates and three ice breakers along with certain smaller Naval craft.

Ilse Koch Case To Be Re-Examined

WASHINGTON, Sept. 28 (INS)—Army Secretary Royall said today he has ordered Gen. Lucius D. Clay in Berlin to re-examine the case of Ilse Koch, whose prison sentence was reduced to four years.

Royall said there is a possibility that new charges may be brought against the widow of the Nazi commander at the dread Buchenwald prison where thousands of Jews perished.

Her sentence was commuted from life to four years. A flood of protesting letters to Congress touched off a probe being conducted by Senate Investigating Chairman Ferguson (R) Mich.

The Army Secretary was called in for a closed-door conference with Ferguson's committee today. Ferguson said he plans to hold public hearings on the subject later on.

Royall also set forth his views in a letter to Rep. Klein (D) N. Y. The letter said:

"The decision of the theater (in Germany) is final as to the charges on which Ilse Koch was tried. Nor could the accused be tried again for the same offense.

"From the information that has come to me I am rather inclined to think the available evidence would justify no other charges.

"However, I will be glad to have the case further reviewed by the theater to see if other proceedings can properly be taken."

Royall explained that Frau Koch, who reportedly made lamp shades of human skin when victims were dying by the hundreds at the prison, had been granted her commutation by an authorized board of review.

Truman's Statement That Russia Wants GOP Win 'Ridiculous'

DECLINES TO ANSWER—Julius Emspak, secretary-treasurer of the CIO Electrical Workers Union, yesterday appeared before a House Committee investigating Communist activities in labor unions. He refused to say whether he is or ever was a communist. (see story this page)

Sen. Ferguson Says Republicans Leading Fight Against Reds

[By The Associated Press]

President Truman said last (Tuesday) night that the Communists want the Republicans to win because they think confusion and strife will follow. A Republican Senator replied: "Ridiculous!"

Mr. Truman, smashing back at Republican attacks, declared his administration faithfully prosecuted subversive activities "but we must have real evidence. We cannot use the speeches of Republican politicians."

In Washington, Senator Ferguson (R-Mich.), said it is "utterly ridiculous" to charge that the Communists want his party to win. The Republicans, Ferguson said, "have been leading the fight against Communism in America."

Dewey Speaks In Montana

While Mr. Truman spoke at Oklahoma City, Gov. Thomas E. Dewey turned to the dark international picture before a Missoula, Mont., audience. Dewey declared again that his nation is united behind its representatives at the Paris United Nations meeting.

The GOP Presidential candidate said they "are laboring mightily against great odds to bring about a peaceful settlement even at this late hour.

"As a united people, we stand shoulder to shoulder with them.

"We will not compromise our principles."

Mr. Truman, in major speech on the return leg of his western tour, said the country has little to fear from spies and subversives "so long as the FBI and other security agencies can do their job without having the ground cut from under them by committees of Congress."

In the background were criticisms, by Dewey and others, of the administration's handling of alleged Communists. The House UnAmerican Activities Committee on Monday charged the administration had failed to prosecute persons linked to a "Soviet espionage conspiracy."

Mr. Truman asserted that the Republicans have failed to turn up any significant information about Communist espionage that the FBI didn't have, and had "impaired our nation's atomic energy program by their intemperate and unjustified attacks on our atomic scientists."

Cites Wallace Aid

The Republican Party has not hurt the Communist party, but has helped it, and is "the unwitting ally of the Communists in this country," the President said. The Communists are aiding Henry Wallace's Party, he said, and they are doing this because they want to help the Republicans.

Dewey visioned the northwest's power as a substitute for oil as he spoke at Spokane, Wash., on his way to Montana.

Oil consumption is increasing at faster pace than production, he said. An oil deficiency could be a

Says Tactics Earn Hostility In Reich

BERLIN, Sept. 28 (INS) — Gen. Lucius D. Clay declared tonight Russia has lost the "cold war" among Berliners because of her "ruthless attempts to starve the people into yielding."

In an exclusive interview with International News Service, the U. S. Military Governor said the Soviet starvation tactics earned the widespread hostility of the Germans.

Now, he declared, the Russians cannot gain their political objectives of controlling all Berlin—peacefully.

"War Not Imminent"

As for the possibility of war Gen. Clay said he regarded it as "neither imminent nor necessary" but added:

"Our government has declared we will stay here to the end and I assume that means exactly that."

Clay was enthused at the Western Allied decision to put the case before the U. N. Security Council although he does not expect the U. N. to produce any quick solution.

The Military Governor favored it because it demonstrates American willingness to abide by her pledges and utilize U. N. machinery to the fullest.

Clay said the effect on Russia of recourse to the U. N. will be determined mostly by the effect of "the mounting pressure of world opinion."

Will Continue Airlift

Clay declared the United States is ready to continue the air supply service into Berlin indefinitely — "one year or five years more if necessary."

Larger planes will enable a complete substitution for former rail and road traffic, but he admitted the sky freights will only provide for "all normal needs of life" among the more than 2,000,000 Germans.

Reconstruction materials will have to await normal supply services.

Clay again took vigorous exception to charges he imposes his own policy in Germany. He said he is only a "government representative and soldier who must abide by and obey" the orders of his superiors.

Prospective failure of the U. N. to work out a solution for the Berlin problem apparently does not disturb the general.

He said a failure would only leave the situation as at present and one "which we are willing and prepared to cope with as long as necessary."

Navy Discovers Peary Documents In Arctic Circle

The navy was similarly reticent. Some government officials said the Navy's caution was dictated by fears that Russia might be tipped off about navigable waters in the ice-choked region where Peary's notes were found.

This vast Polar area has assumed more and more strategic importance in post-war years since tension between the United States and Russia has tightened.

R. I. Girl Slain In Love Tragedy

CUMBERLAND, R. I., Sept. 28 (INS)—The attractive daughter of a Rhode Island State Representative was slain today in a tragedy of shattered love.

Police said that Francis Kelley, 22, confessed the drowning of his former fiancee, Mary Burns, 26, after an all-night tryst in the woods near a beautiful woodland pond.

Kelley was quoted as saying he "pushed her head into the water" and held her there after Miss Burns refused to resume their broken engagement.

"She broke off our engagement. She said she was willing to see me but would not marry me.

"We had been at the water's edge almost all night arguing. When daybreak came I pushed her into the water and held her head under until she did not move any more—until she stopped kicking.

"She fought back when I first grabbed her and that is how I got the scratches on my cheek."

"I'm going to break up with him tonight."

Miss Burns had returned Kelley's ring a few nights ago to terminate their engagement of two years. Kelley was to have entered the Army next week. He had been unemployed recently.

The tragedy was discovered when Kelley came to the home of Samuel P. Boulter, owner of the pond where Miss Burns' body was found.

Mrs. Boulter said the young man was drenched with water and obviously nervous. He asked for dry clothing, she said, and then declared:

"I'm in great trouble. My girl is in your pond."

Police said Kelley told them he met Miss Burns last night and they attended a motion picture. After, according to Kelley, they took a bus to the forest adjoining the pond.

Remington Takes Appeal In Case Of "Disloyalty"

Regional Board Finds 'Grounds' For Belief

WASHINGTON, Sept. 28 (AP) — Counsel for William W. Remington said today a regional board has ruled there are "reasonable grounds to believe" the suspended Commerce Department official was "disloyal." He announced Remington will appeal to President Truman's loyalty review board.

Joseph L. Rauh, the attorney, released this statement from Remington:

"I have appealed the case to the Loyalty Review Board with the request that I be given an opportunity to confront and cross-examine Miss Bentley."

Miss Elizabeth Bentley, is the Vassar graduate who accused Remington of giving her "secret" information when she was a Communist spy ring courier during the war. Remington then was an official of the War Production Board.

Was CD Official

More recently, Remington was a $10,000-a-year Commerce Department official. As such, he presided over a board which passed on what exports could be made to Russia.

Remington, a week ago told the press he would file a libel action against Miss Bentley and the National Broadcasting Company for repeating on a television broadcast the charges she made originally before Congressional Committees — provided they do not publish retractions by noon Thursday.

Remington, it was learned, did not receive notice of the regional board's findings against him until some hours after he threatened the libel action. There had been no previous word that the board was near decision.

Attorney Rauh said the regional board's finding does not mean any change in Remington's plans to sue Miss Bentley and NBC unless they apologize.

Denied Charges

The regional board's finding was at odds with an earlier finding of the Commerce Department Loyalty Board, which had said there was no evidence before it which gave reasonable grounds to believe Remington disloyal.

After Miss Bentley's charges were made on Capitol Hill, Remington went before the Congressional Committees and swore he had never done anything disloyal.

Remington was suspended from his Commerce Department post in June by Secretary of Commerce Sawyer. Sawyer acted after learning the Civil Service Board was checking on Remington's loyalty.

Three Soldiers Die In Alaskan Air Plane Crash

FAIRBANKS, Alaska, Sept. 28 (INS) — Air Force officials announced tonight that three men burned to death and 10 were saved when a B-29 crashed approaching Shemya Air Field.

The officials withheld the names of the men who were killed and any word on condition of the survivors.

Officials said the motors conked out at a low altitude as the superfort came in for a landing yesterday. The plane stalled and crashed near the runway, and the three men were trapped.

Electric Union Termed Largest Communist Unit

WASHINGTON, Sept. 28 (AP)—A self - described former Communist told Congressmen today that the United Electrical, Radio and Machine Workers (CIO) is "the largest Communist-dominated organization in the United States."

A House Labor Subcommittee received that testimony from James J. Conroy, who said he used to belong to the union and for about six years was a member of the Communist Party. The House Group is conducting an inquiry into Communist influence in labor unions.

James J. Matles, director of organization for the UE Union, was called to the stand immediately. He refused to tell whether he is or ever was a Communist basing his refusal on Constitutional grounds.

Matles declared, however, that Conroy "is lying."

"Conroy comes from the gutter," Matles told Chairman Kersten (R-Wis). "He is a management man who tried to wreck our union.

"He stands for everything that is evil, just like you do, Mr. Chairman."

Matles declared that for him to answer the committee's question "would betray my people and my union."

Conroy told the committee that "the real leaders" of the union are Julius Emspak, secretary-treasurer, and Matles. He said that Albert J. Fitzgerald, the union's president, is just "a front man."

He also said that Emspak was known as "Comrade Juniper."

Conroy listed what he said were three principal objectives of the UE leadership and the Communist party:

"The damnation of the European Recovery Program and the United States' Foreign Policy."

Angry Germans Beat Up Russian Officer

BERLIN, Sept. 28 (INS)—U. S. Military and German police tonight seized 50 truckloads of food, coal and supplies bound from the Soviet Zone to the Russian sector of Berlin.

The Americans and their German aides set up roadblocks on the Potsdamerchausse and other main arteries in the U. S. sector used by the Russians as a short-cut from the Soviet Occupation Zone on the west side of the city.

Maul Russian Officer

Simultaneously a group of angry Germans severely mauled a Russian officer whom they said insulted German women outside the Zoo train station inside the British sector.

The beating of the unidentified officer coincided with an interview with Gen. Lucius D. Clay who said Russia's "ruthless attempts" to starve Berlin into yielding to Soviet control has aroused widespread German hostility.

Police reports said the Germans beat the Russian, smashed his pistol, and ripped off his belt and gunholster before German police intervened.

The Russian was taken to a West Berlin police station and turned over to the British military police who held him for delivery to the Russians.

This beating may have repercus-

Johnson Restored To Texas Ballot

Black's admonition came in striking down a temporary injunction issued in Texas which barred Rep. Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex.) from the November 2 ballot.

Federal District Court Judge T. Whitfield Davidson had issued the injunction in Dallas on complaint of Johnson's opponent in a neck-and-neck primary race, former Gov. Coke R. Steveson of Texas. Stevenson charged ballot frauds in three south Texas counties.

But Black declared:

"It would be a drastic break with the past to permit a Federal Judge and Federal Courts to go into the business of conducting a contest over elections in a state.

"There is no statuatory justification for a Federal Court to enjoin the steps of an election."

Black's conclusion was announced after a four-hour hearing in his chambers during which he gave attorneys for Johnson and Stevenson all the time they wished to argue points.

Black set a precedent by permitting newsmen to attend the hearing. By the time he heard everybody and reached his decision, his desk was piled 18 inches high and six feet across with thick law books.

Two former governors of Texas took part in the prolonged debate —Dan Moody for Stevenson and James V. Allred for Johnson. Allred also is a former Federal District Judge.

Moody told newsmen he will file a request for the full supreme court to overthrow Black's order. Any action on this request would be delayed until October 4 when the full court opens the new term.

French Minister Upbraids Soviets For Inability To Work With Western Powers

West To Ask U.N. For New Berlin Setup

Letters Will Be Delivered Today

PARIS, Sept. 28 (AP) — The three Western Powers will ask the United Nations Security Council to establish a new setup in Berlin on the ground the Soviet blockade threatens peace, a French spokesman said tonight.

The French spokesman said three identical letters were sent to Secretary-General Trygv Lie submitting the case. The notes cite article 39 and 40 of chapter seven of the U. N. Charter.

Article 40 gives the Security Council power to establish a provisional (temporary) arrangement in disputed areas, and calls upon the parties to the dispute to respect such an arrangement until there is a settlement.

Originally the notes were scheduled to be delivered to Lie today. But instead, the day was spent in drafting a 30-page annex documenting the history of the four-power talks which lasted eight weeks in Moscow and Berlin.

A British spokesman said the letters would be tagged with a request for urgent consideration. All was reported in readiness to give the case formally to the Security Council tomorrow. The council's decks were cleared for consideration of the Berlin question when it is presented.

Investigation Of Rep. Thomas, N. J. Is Under Study

WASHINGTON, Sept. 28 (AP)—A request for an investigation of the way Rep. J. Parnell Thomas (R-N.J.) has conducted his office has been "taken under advisement" by the Department of Justice.

Thomas is chairman of the House Committee on Un-American Activities.

"I refuse to be intimidated," Thomas said when newsmen advised him of the development. He had nothing else to say.

Seventeen New Jersey lawyers petitioned the Department for such an investigation on September 23, Assistant Attorney General Alex M. Campbell disclosed today. He said the matter has been taken "under advisement."

Columnist's Stories Used

Clipped to the lawyers' petition was a sheaf of newspaper columns by Drew Pearson dealing with the handling of the payroll in Thomas' office. The attorneys said they were "deeply concerned" over Pearson's charges and asked the Justice Department to determine if any federal laws had been violated in connection with Thomas' personnel.

Only yesterday Thomas' committee isued a preliminary report on its investigation of atomic espionage. The report said that the Justice Department's failure to prosecute alleged atomic spies was "indefensible."

Earlier today, Thomas had disclosed that the espionage investigation will move to Milwaukee, with hearings Friday and Saturday in charge of Rep. Vail (R-Ill.)

Follow Up Inquiry

Three committee investigators went there today to follow up on one phase of the inquiry. The witnesses were not announced in advance.

The hearings, Thomas told reporters, will involve one of the cases mentioned in the committee's preliminary report on atomic espionage made public yesterday.

That report recommended the

"Satira" May Get Freedom In Cuban Harbor Murder

HAVANA, Sept. 28 (INS) — Documents that may give Patricia "Satira" Schmidt her freedom within the next 12 days were placed in the hands of Cuba's Minister of Justice tonight.

Defense Counsel Carols Mencio withdrew an appeal for reduction of the American dancer's 15-year-prison sentence for the fatal yacht shooting of her American lover.

The legal papers necessary for pardon action were then sent to the Justice Minister who may recommend to Cuba's president that the night club entertainer be freed after serving 18 months.

The pardon decree may be signed before October 12.

USSR Accused Of Policy Ambition Surpassing Czars

PARIS, Sept. 28 (AP) — Paul-Henri Spaak of Belgium accused Russia today of maintaining a fifth column which he said made that of Hitler's "look like a boy scout movement."

He said the Soviet Union has organized a "fifth column in every country represented" in the United Nations General Assembly before which he spoke. The entire 58-nation assembly with the exception of the Soviet bloc responded with laughter, cheers and a five-minute ovation.

Outside the assembly the Berlin case of the Western Powers against Russia was reported ready tonight for immediate Security Council action. A source close to the diplomats drawing up detailed charges running up to more than 30 pages said the council might meet before the week end. No definite date will be set until the U.N. formally receives the case.

Schuman Upbraids Soviets

In addition to the attack from Spaak, the Soviet Union was upbraided by French Foreign Minister Robert Schuman for inability to get along with the Western Powers.

A spokesman for the Soviet Bloc—K. U. Kysilev of White Russia, retorted that a "war psychosis is being fanned" in the United Nations. He charged that the United States was engaging in an arms race and that "the feeling of the inevitability of a new war is being popularized in the minds of man."

Spaak, Premier and Foreign Minister of Belgium, delivered a sharp reply to Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Andrei Vishinsky's attack of last Saturday on the Western Powers.

He accused the Russians of an imperialist policy "more ambitious than the policy of the Czars themselves," and added: "We fear you when you preach this antiquated, this absolute doctrine of absolute national sovereignty."

Spaak, the first president of the U. N. Assembly in 1946 who has crossed lances repeatedly with the Russians, said the assembly needs a "spectacular coup — a compromise."

He said that as a remedy to the East-West dispute, attempts to revise the U.N. Charter must be abandoned. He said later this meant he would drop his opposition to the veto. In return, he added, Russia "must promise us to co-operate, to work with the genuine spirit of the charter."

"Perhaps it's not too late," he said.

Spaak said that in the deadlock between the East and West it was the Western powers who were willing to be open and free.

"It is not we who wish to put ourselves up behind an iron curtain," he exclaimed.

Cites "War Mongering"

Vishinsky had declared the publishing in American newspapers of air maps showing distances to Moscow was war mongering.

Spaak asked the Soviet delegation if he thought it more dangerous for such maps to be published in the press or be studied by military staffs.

"The basis of our policy is fear," he said: "Not the fear of a coward—the fear of someone who looks ahead and considers the horror and tragedy which faces us, may face us in the future."

Then, to the Soviet delegation: "It is the fear of you, gentlemen,

Soviets Predict 2 Camps In U.N.

MOSCOW, Sept. 28 (AP) — The Soviet Press said today British Foreign Secretary Bevin's speech to the United Nations raised the possibility of two camps in the U.N. going separate ways.

A Tass dispatch from Paris informed the Russian people for the first time that the East-West dispute over Berlin is to be appealed to the Security Council.

The dispatch, printed in all Russian papers, made no comment on the development over Berlin, but carried prominently comment on Bevin's speech.

A Tass dispatch quoted Bevin as telling the assembly on Monday that Britain may have to depend on regional pacts "if we cannot continue on a world basis, as we hope. We must agree with those with whom we can work, understand and trust those who wish to enter our confidence and understand us."

"This thesis of Bevin's is not difficult to decipher," said the dispatch. "It is a preparation for completion of the schism of the United Nations."

Tass accused the Western powers of putting into effect "unconcealed military preparations," and declared Bevin's speech was an effort to "cover up their refusal to accept" Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Andre Vishinsky's proposals for a one-third cut this year in big power armaments.

Mentioning Bevin's support of the proposals of the late Count Bernadotte for settlement in Palestine, Tass said "it is well known that these proposals are in effect revisions of the General Assembly's decision last year."

County Must Pay Cost In Liquor Law Court Case

The Allegany County Board of Commissioners was informed yesterday by John T. Fey, board attorney, that an opinion by J. Edgar Harvey, deputy attorney general, states that the county should pay the court costs in the case of Eldred A. Cromwell which resulted in the 1933 county liquor law being declared unconstitutional.

State auditors at the Court House last week informed the board that the approximately $300 in court costs paid by the late Clerk of Court Robert Jackson after the case was completed should be paid by the county.

The ruling by the attorney general's office stated that in view of the fact that the county commissioners receive funds from the sale of liquor licenses the court costs should come from this source.

The money paid out by Jackson came from funds remitted to the state at the end of each year from fees in the clerk of court's office.

Fey suggested that the board give a copy of the letter to Clerk of Court Joseph E. Boden so that the money can be taken from the funds realized from the sale of liquor licenses and paid to the fund from which the costs had been taken previously.

Training Class To Be Conducted Saturday

The Cumberland Girl Scouts will sponsor their second annual "Canine Pet Show" October 9 on the grounds in back of the headquarters. The show will begin at 2 o'clock, and entries must be made by October 8, and do not have to be pedigreed or registered animals. No dog under three months old will be allowed in the show and each dog must be equipped with a strong collar and leash.

An instruction class will be held October 2 at 2 o'clock at the scout house, with officials explaining show the dogs must be shown. Entry blanks can be obtained at the headquarters.

Fey suggested that the board give a copy of the letter to Clerk of Court Joseph E. Boden so that the money can be taken from the funds realized from the sale of liquor licenses and paid to the fund from which the costs had been taken previously.

Training Class To Be Conducted Saturday

The Cumberland Girl Scouts will sponsor their second annual "Canine Pet Show" October 9 on the grounds in back of the headquarters. The show will begin at 2 o'clock, and entries must be made by October 8, and do not have to be pedigreed or registered animals. No dog under three months old will be allowed in the show and each dog must be equipped with a strong collar and leash.

Mrs. R. T. Armstrong is chairman assisted by Mrs. Arthur Friedland, Mrs. J. Elmer Minnick, Mrs. William B. Ludman and Mrs. John W. Stark.

Thinking uses up a small amount of energy, but not nearly as much as muscular action. Tiredness may result from mental effort, but it may be due to eye strain or the strain of muscles held stiffly.

According to the State Health Department in Connecticut, 61 per cent of cancer patients were alive one year after treatment, and nearly 40 per cent survived.

Return To Security Of Oneness Is Purpose Of GOP

Governor Earl Warren of California, and Republican vice presidential candidate, who will come into Maryland on Saturday for a major address in Baltimore has, without losing the persuasive quality that is one of his assets as a public speaker, taken to a more militant tone on several occasions during his swing through the East.

The people, he urges, are tired of the national Democratic Administration—and it is tired of itself, for it has been in power too long. It has become "petulant," Gov. Warren said a few days ago, and resents every act of Congress as an intrusion. It has split "into 1,816 component parts,"—many of them duplicates—"a vast mystic maze." Should it win again, then in four years more, the party would itself split up into four factions. Too much and too prolonged "inbreeding!"

While Gov. Warren finds that the American people are determined to put an end to mismanagement and bungling of their affairs in Washington, through the election of Gov. Dewey and himself to the presidency and vice presidency, he has endeavored to point out the necessity of the election of a Republican Congress in order to strengthen their hands and to permit the "housecleaning" so necessary for the welfare of the country.

In the history, political solidarity and present program of the Republican Party, Mr. Warren bases the promise of restored national unity and of needed public service. One point stands out: While Communists are boring like termites into nearly everywhere else, they are not found inside the Republican Party. Nor will they plague the next Administration from within, "for Tom Dewey will never let them get there."

The Republican emphasis on unity, both in the Party and in the nation, as opposed to the class consciousness and disunity which is offered by the Democrats, should strike a responsive chord in all real Americans. Unity and Union have been the rocks upon which the great development of this nation is based.

Through all of American history the idea of unity prevails. The very preamble of the Constitution with its phrases "to establish a more perfect union," hints at the near disaster which befell the young republic under Articles of Confederation. That loose federation, with its squabbles, division of authority and inherent weaknesses, was a dismal failure.

The nation's coins bear the motto "E Pluribus Unum," the Declaration of Independence refers to Americans as "one people" and the pledge to the flag stresses "one nation, indivisible." Down through the years the great of America have spoken deathless words on the subject. Andrew Jackson's toast, "Our Federal Union, it must be preserved," and Daniel Webster's "Liberty and union, now and forever, one and inseparable," were echoed by Lincoln's "A house divided against itself cannot stand." The slogans "United we stand, divided we fall," and "In union there is strength," were watchwords of the Revolution.

This is all a part of American heritage. It is a part which Harry Truman and the Democrats are trying to trample in the dust by appeals to group prejudices, by lambastings and threats and prophecies of doom, and by deliberate efforts to divide the country by erecting walls of sectionalism. Unity, and a return to a feeling of national oneness is the expressed purpose of the Republicans. That is the real American approach to the problem of keeping the nation on the road to progress and strength. That is the road along which Governors Dewey and Warren are determined that the people of America shall be led.

Almanac's Editor

The death in New York of E. Eastman Ervine, for 11 years editor of the "World Almanac," marks another chapter in the history of this venerable and revered publication.

It would be interesting to know how many times, in the six-odd decades the Almanac has been published, the phrase "Look it up in the Almanac" has echoed through the city rooms of the American press. To a working newspaperman no other reference—with the possible exception of the local city directory—is quite so necessary to his trade as is this thick, squatty (and usually dog-eared) volume.

Information gleaned from its authoritative pages has won bets, settled fights and in general kept the working newsmen out of trouble by supplying the right dates, facts and figures on almost every conceivable subject.

Mr. Ervine became editor of the Almanac in 1937 after years as a newsman. The 11 years he served in his post were among the most momentous in world history, placing on him a great responsibility as an editor. That he succeeded in separating useful fact from useless fancy can be confirmed by a glance at the 1948 edition.

College Boy Blues

Before the U. S. proceeded to make the world safe for democracy in World War I students could go to college for $400 or $500 a year—less if they economized or worked part time. Now many a college charges that much for board alone.

The three major items of expense at Harvard—tuition, board and room—add up to $1,236. In far less expensive schools it is probable a student would have difficulty in getting by on a thousand dollars a year.

This explains why college enrollment has begun to recede from the postwar highs when veterans thronged to college by government aid. College education is becoming too expensive for the average person.

The youth goes away to school by borrowing and working or on remittances from his sire. In either case it is becoming more and more difficult to make the grade unless the old man is well-to-do.

Inflation is hard on everybody, but there must be this year many youths in school and many families who deserve sympathy. At both ends there is scrimping and saving to make the grade, and often-assumption of debts that will be burdensome for years.

Higher education will be handicapped until the dollar recovers some of its lost value.

If, as scientists say, motor fuel can be made from carrots, this will be a boon to humanity in more ways than one.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

To the limit of space, questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made under proper limitations, when return stamped envelope is enclosed. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnosis or prescribe for individual diseases.

Treatment Of Leg Ulcers

Many individuals with varicose veins and other circulatory disturbances have the idea that ulcers on the legs are incurable. Much of this stems from the fact that these lesions have been given undue prominence and a bad reputation by those who are not being treated properly. Healing is delayed because those thus afflicted may be relying on salves to cure, rather than maging an attempt to eliminate the basic cause. In this respect the situation is analagous to the gentleman who is scraping his fingers raw on a grindstone and wonders why his pet ointment will not cure the wound. Healing would be prompt if he protected his fingers from the grindstone.

Dr. Van Dellen

It is logical to assume that if leg ulcers develop in individuals with circulatory disturbances healing will occur if the circulation is improved. The majority of these lesions develop under one of two conditions. The tissues in and about the ankle become unhealthy if the arteries bringing blood from the heart are narrowed and cannot convey their quota of nourishment. A somewhat similar situation exists when the veins which carry the vital fluid back to the heart are incompetent (varicosed) or obstructed. Under these circumstances the extremities become swollen and congested with stagnant blood. Consequently, when an injury occurs healing is delayed. Furthermore, the wound becomes infected because the cells are powerless to ward off bacterial invasion. As a result, when ulcers develop they have two strikes against them and consequently are difficult to heal.

The local application of a salve or an ointment occasionally is successful, especially if it stimulates the cells or controls the infection, but the basic fault remains and repeated engagments can be anticipated. On the other hand, there are very few lesions of this nature which will not yield to treatment if the individual remains in bed with the extremities elevated. This is true especially when the veins are at fault because the tissues are no longer handicapped by the stagnant blood and water-logged cells.

Now the inflamed area can be treated like any other infection. The inflammation is overcome by applying warm moist dressings or antiseptic solutions containing the sulfonamides, penicillin, streptomycin, or tyrothricin. The latter is particularly efficacious in conditions such as these. Healing is slow but definite; when the lesions are large considerable time can be saved by grafting healthy skin over the raw surface. But many individuals cannot afford to remain in bed for economic reasons. They need a supporting bandage which can be wrapped around the leg to prevent swelling and improve the blood flow temporarily.

Various types of bandage are available. They include the elastic stocking, rubber bandage, elastoplast, or Unna paste boot. These usually are applied over the ulcer, which is covered by a sterile gauze pad or piece of rubber sponge into which the antiseptic is inserted. These measures are continued until the tissues are returned to health. Now and then bandages must be worn indefinitely, especially when the circulatory trouble cannot be remedied. This is not necessary, however, if the varicose veins are corrected or the arteries can be encouraged to bring more blood into the extremities. In some instances improvement follows an operation in which the nerves leading to these passageways are severed.

CATARACT

Mrs. F.R.F. writes: What causes cataracts? What is the rate of growth until total blindness comes on?

Reply

The majority are incident to the aging process. Faulty metabolism, systematic diseases and poisonings, injury, and other eye disorders may also contribute to their formation. Several years may elapse before sight is so impaired that the individual becomes blind. Fortunately, most victims can be helped by surgery.

FLARING RIBS

B. writes: What would be the cause of ribs spreading out like wings?

Reply

In some persons, the shape of the chest is such that the ribs appear wingshaped. As a rule, this condition is hereditary but changes in this area may result from emphysema.

Baering Down On The News

By ARTHUR "BUGGS" BAER
(Distributed by International News Service)

What do you do when a citizen of the world decides he's a baby on your doorstep?

It happened at the United Nations protocol factory in Paris. A former American citizen camped out all night in the rain. We have looked all through Emily Post for advice on this situation. All we found was a recipe for removing a mouse nest from a fireless cooker.

We examined the homesteading of Kansas, the usurping of the Indian lands and the soonerism of the Cherokee strip. And it says nothing about a squatter on the door mat.

Looks like you will have to invite the guy in so you can throw him out.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

Truman Seeks New Job For Admiral Leahy; Congressmen Thwarted In Attempt To See Ignor Gouzenko; Judge Roseman Bad Influence On Truman?

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—President Truman has been privately turning on the heat to ease out his chief of staff, 73-year-old elder statesman Adm. William D. Leahy.

Mr. Truman, who hates to fire anyone himself, recently called in Leahy's close friend, Adm. Louis Denfeld, chief of naval operations and the man who really runs the Navy. Addressing Denfield as "Lou," though he usually calls him "Admiral," Truman said:

"Lou, I want you to do something for me. I want you to ask Leahy to retire.

"I like the old man," the President continued, "but he's outgrown his usefulness. I just hate to do this, but you can find a way of suggesting it to him. When I first came here, he offered to resign and I said no. Then last year he offered to resign again, and I asked him to stay. So it's very embarrassing to me and I can't very well ask him myself."

Admiral Denfeld, who has known Leahy all his life, demurred.

"I supose Secretary Forrestal has been telling you that I have two votes in the joint chiefs of staff—mine and Leahy's," he said. "But just look at the record. You'll find Leahy voted against me most of the time."

"He's gotten too reactionary," countered the President. "He and George Marshall are hardly on speaking terms. Everything Marshall proposes, Leahy tears to pieces. Clark Clifford tells me the public reaction to him is bad."

Denfeld replied that he didn't see how he could possibly ask Admiral Leahy to retire.

"He's my superior," he said, "and I can't go to him with a proposal like that."

Leahy, Ambassador To Spain ? ?

"Well, figure out some big job we can give him," countered the President. "I want him to retire in a blaze of glory. After his career he deserves it. Think up some important mission we can send him on—something really important."

Admiral Denfeld promised to look into the matter, came back a few days later with the idea that Admiral Leahy be appointed U. S. ambassador to Spain. Leahy had already served as ambassador to France and Governor of Puerto Rico, has something of a diplomatic background and Truman was delighted with the idea. However, he overlooked the fact that we have no diplomatic relations with Spain, and have agreed not to appoint an Ambassador until the Franco government is recognized by the United Nations.

This fact was promptly brought to Mr. Truman's attention when he suggested that Leahy become ambassador to Spain. The State Department was emphatic and adamant. No ambassador, it said—not even Admiral Leahy—would be sent to Madrid.

Mr. Truman is still looking for a job for Admiral Leahy.

Gouzenko Shuns Congress

For weeks the House un-American Activities Committee has been trying to make contact with Igor Gouzenko, the Soviet code clerk who jarred the world with his sensational revelations on Russia's atomic spy ring in Canada.

Gouzenko, however, is living under another name on a Canadian farm closely guarded by the Canadian government which doesn't trust headline-hunting American congressmen to keep his identity secret.

Once the committee almost got to Gouzenko, but upset its own applecart. Arrangements had been made with Prime Minister MacKenzie King who agreed to meet committee members secretly in Ottawa for further discussions.

But when the three congressmen reached New York they were greeted with glaring headlines revealing their plans. A member of the committee had leaked the whole story to the press.

Since then the committee has got the royal brush-off from the Canadian government.

Note—What the committee wants to question Gouzenko about is Soviet spies in the United States. It had a tip that Gouzenko knows about two key spies in America who were not mentioned in the Canadian royal commission's report.

Ex-Ghostwriter

Sagacious Judge Sam Rosenman of New York, who used to write speeches for both Franklin D. Roosevelt and Harry Truman, gave a private diagnosis of Truman's campaign talks the other day that would have delighted the ears of Dewey forces.

Chatting with a close friend, Rosenman declared: "I don't know who is writing this stuff the President has been delivering from the platform, but it will lose him more votes than he will win.

"In my opinion, the President is harping on that Wall Street-against-the-farmer and capital-against-labor theme too heavy. That type of appeal doesn't register any more, except maybe with the Wallaceites. The farmers are too well off this year to be frightened by Wall Street.

Judge Rosenman said he would have been glad to have offered his advice on Truman's speeches, "for whatever it was worth," but added that "some people around the President apparently think I am a bad influence."

Rosenman didn't name names, but it was jealous Secretary of the Treasury John Snyder who euchred Rosenman from riding on the President's train.

"I helped prepare the President's convention acceptance speech and his message to the special session of Congress," Judge Rosenman told a friend, "but I haven't been called in since."

New National Labor-Industry Relations Pattern Emerging

By SAMUEL B. PETTENGILL

The growing refusal of management to bargain with unions whose officers refuse to swear that they are not Communists, shows that a new national pattern in labor-industry relations is emerging.

For some months after the Taft-Hartley Law went into effect, on August 22, 1947, various companies and unions temporized with this issue. The unions claimed they were not required to file non-Communist affidavits unless they asked the protection of the law. Otherwise they claim the right to bargain collectively as if neither the Wagner Act nor the Taft Hartley Law had ever been enacted, and in such case, it was no business of anybody whether their officers were Communists.

This position, though possibly on a sound legal basis, is not working out practicably. Unions are finding that the "no-business-of-anybody-if-we-are-Communists" attitude is a poor way to make friends and influence people — even their own members.

One of the first employers to take a firm position was Remington Rand. A year ago it asked the United Electrical Workers, CIO, whether it had filed the non-Communist oaths. The union said it was not required to file them.

Remington Rand then asked the National Labor Relations Board whether it would certify the UE-CIO in the absence of non-Communist affidavits. NLRB ruled last February that UE-CIO was "ineligible to invoke any of the processes of this Board in protection of any of its members", because it had not filed the non-Communist oaths.

This ruling seemed to make it plain that if the employer would consent to make a deal "under the table" and outside the law, any contract so made would not protect the members of the union, the company, or the public.

So, one of the most useful provisions of the Taft-Hartley Law is proving itself. Unions that refuse to comply are either losing the protection of the law, the sympathy of the public, or are losing members to other unions which do comply with the law.

A number of companies have suffered violent strikes in consequence of their refusal to deal with Red-led unions, but have stood their ground. Among them are The Caterpillar Tractor Company, of Peoria, Illinois; the Bucyrus-Erie Company of Evansville, Indiana; Colt's Manufacturing Company of Hartford, Connecticut, and others. As the Congressional investigations of Communist infiltration in labor unions begin to function, the example first set by Remington Rand takes on the semblance of a new "national pattern".

In the light of our dangerous international situation, it does not seem likely that the public will punish at the polls those Congressmen and Senators who put into the hands of loyal union members their most potent weapon to rid their unions of disloyal officials.

President Truman's position demanding the repeal of the Taft-Hartley Law becomes incomprehensible on any other ground than a play for votes on a low level.

Of 280 Congressmen who voted for the Taft-Hartley Law and who sought renomination, 268 have won. Of the remaining 12, it cannot be clearly proven that a single one was defeated for this reason alone.

On the other hand, labor leaders claim that no Congressman who voted against the law, has been defeated in a primary.

The public is still to be heard from.

Depth

Those who have dug deep into life have been those who have lived most—and best. It is said of the Hon. William E. Gladstone that "he lived from a great depth of being." For this reason, undoubtedly, he gave much of his heart and hope to those who most needed his words and counsel, as well as his eloquent appeals for the unfortunate.

How unwise and unintelligent it is for one to judge another with no eyes with which to inspect that one's heart! People carry secret things there, often too sacred and full of meaning, to be exposed to the misunderstanding. To a lesser or greater extent we all have this secret chamber where we store away the depth of ourselves.

Those who think and feel deeply are usually those of few words, but nevertheless with a vision and understanding that are evident in every deed performed. Their horizon is so broad that they have to go into the deep mysteries and wonders of life that they may well embellish their world. Some call such people humanitarians, and aptly so.

The deep river usually runs slowly, because it has a big burden to move. Likewise many a quiet human being, through the simplest of methods, achieves great things, because he has that "great depth of being" that Gladstone had. It's the depth of character that makes anyone notable.

Make it a point to fasten your attention upon the silent listener, for if you are patient enough, you may hear something worth remembering. The loquacious person can easily be dismissed from all attention for usually he babbles because he imagines that people await his words, whereas they are merely bored. There is depth to silence.

In the summing up of the life of the elder Marshall Field, who was the founder of the great Field fortune, I recall one line that was written—"He was a man of few words." But he did big things in a business way. He established a high standard of merchandising that lives to this day. There were principles and ideals behind his methods of dealing with the public.

People who put their foundations deep into the earth of their being, build enduring structures thereon! Look about you. They are in every community.

American Officials In Dark As To Inconsistency Of Soviet

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON, Sept. 28—Publication of the full texts of the record of the lengthy negotiations over the Berlin blockades does not solve the mystery as to why Generalissimo Stalin was checkmated by his own military general and humiliated before all the world as a man who either doesn't keep his word or is prevented from doing so by one of his subordinates.

American officials are in the dark as to the meaning of the inconsistency. They do not know whether it represents a sharp split in the politburo over methods or whether it merely reflects the day-by-day changes in Soviet technique.

Clearly the three governments—Great Britain, the United States and Russia—made public the documents not to force any showdown of arms but merely as a means of mobilizing world opinion. The United naions is opportunely available as a forum for discussion and there is likely to be no act of war, at least until the debate has concluded.

Few Expect War In Near Future

If Russia, however, intends war—and it may be that extremists inside the politburo think this is the time for it—the puzzle still presents itself as to why aggression was not begun earlier when it was so easy for the Soviet armies to sweep all over Europe in a few weeks.

Despite the outward appearance of gravity and crisis, there are few here who expect war to develop in the immediate future. This view is based on the theory that the Russians will not commit acts of aggression to bring on war but will quibble and harass the western powers up to the point of determining whether armed resistance to an aggressive move will follow.

The airlift provides a test. If the Russians want trouble, they can interfere with the transport planes going to Berlin. This would lead to an Allied announcement of an intention to provide support with fighter planes. That would be the climax. Then Russia would definitely be confronted with a decision as to whether she wants to force a war. It may be necessary for the Allies to go that far in order to persuade Moscow that aggression will be resisted.

It will be admitted that the present controversy contains no issue that cannot be easily resolved—currency and blockade problems that are simple enough—provided the basic question of who is to control Germany can be amicably handled.

The record of the negotiations indicates that the parleys mostly concerned narrow points and not the over-all problems that have been separating the East and West. Apparently an effort was made by the western powers to get an agreement to lift the blockade and arrange for currency in Berlin without tackling the broad questions that are behind the whole "cold war".

It seems unfortunate that there is a grave crisis over what kind of marks shall circulate in Berlin or how a central bank there is to handle the issuance of currency. Neither these small matters nor the "technical difficulties' that Russia gave as an excuse for the blockade are in themselves as vital as the broad question of how Germany and particularly the Ruhr, shall be governed in the future.

It would have been better if the Allies had developed a plan for the temporary lifting of the blockade while all the bigger questions were discussed. But evidently the western representatives have all along felt there was no use talking to Russia, and the Soviets have probably had the same impression about the governments at Washington, London and Paris.

But here there are rumors of another war—and Foreign Secretary Bevin warns it will be an atomic war—and somehow or other nobody knows of any long-range policies as to Germany having been formulated as yet among the western powers or by Russia. It seems a tragic turn of history that a war should be fought over how to handle a defeated poower from whom Russia still fears a recurrent attack some day.

Diplomacy has failed again to steer the negotiations into peaceful channels and has returned to the open debate. Maybe it will return to the negotiations stage again when the extremists inside the politburo see that Stalin was probably right in his earlier efforts to make a compromise settlement.

We Need A Law

MISS Edna Lonigan raises an interesting point in an article in "Human Events":

"'It can't be true," say the pseudo-liberals. 'The Grand Jury would have indicted. The FBI would have proved them guilty.' But guilty of what? Most American followers of the N. K. V. D. have committed no crime. They have violated no law. If every statement in the testimony of Miss Bentley and Mr. Chambers is proved true, the Grand Jury will still find it difficult to indict. We have no law compelling Government employes to propose only ideas that are for the good of their country."

That is why such committees as the Thomas, the Ferguson and the Revercomb committees are having such a difficult time of it. Let us take the Hiss case as an example. It has not been established that Alger Hiss is a Communist, a Communist agent, a Russian spy, an N.K.V.D. agent or even a fellow-traveler. All that has been proved about Hiss is that he once kept some very bad company and tried to cover up and failed.

If there is more evidence on Hiss, the President refuses to permit Congress to have it and the American people to know it. And under the law, the President has a legal right to keep those files secret as long as he chooses. The American people have no legal rights in the matter.

We may assume that all those who decline to answer questions on the ground that to answer would incriminate them are guilty of some offense. Otherwise, nothing that they said could incriminate them. They have been advised by their lawyers that they have a legal and constitutional right to silence. We know from the investigations of the Dies Committee, the Rapp-Coudert Committee in New York, the California Legislative Investigation, the Canadian report and other sources that Soviet Russia has been operating in this country, as she has in every country, through natives directed by Europeans.

The more native the native, the better he is for the kind of work they need to have done. Earl Browder's ancestry goes back to colonial times—he is obviously a better man than Jay Lovestone or Ben Gitlow, who are of recent immigrant stock.

This pattern is universal. One meets it in Korea, in Germany, in China, in Czechoslovakia. It is the American pattern. But it is not an illegal pattern. Certainly, Louise Bernstein-Bransten-Berman has a right to serve mankind as she chooses. Cleverly she places herself on the lofty pedestal of noble service. Tommy Manville spends his money on gals and mink coats; she spends hers on the underdog. So does John D. Rockefeller, Jr. Is anything wrong? What about Mr. Adams? She legally refuses to answer him—to answer would incriminate her. And that is her legal right. Was Mr. Adams an underdog or a spy?

While he was trapesing around this country, the Hearst press exposed him as a spy and tried to trace him down, but he was permitted to leave the United States with valuable documents. What is the FBI record on Adams?

That secret has been guarded by President Truman and is only now being forced out. And so far there is no record that Mrs. Bransten did anything contrary to the law, except her own acknowledgment that if she talked it would incriminate her—and legally the statement does not raise the presumption of guilt no matter what you or I may think about it.

There is, however, this essential difference between John D. Rockefeller, Jr., and this lady. Through his foundations or personality, he has publicly accounted for his contributions. The American people can know how he spent his money. Mrs. B. B. B. inherited her money from a fine father who earned it in canned groceries. She has spent her money without notifying the public. That, too, is legally her right. She can spend it on dogs, cats, philosophies, artists, men and women, spies and jewelry. Communists or Prohibitionists as she will. It is all within the law.

So how does this nation protect itself against its own sons and daughters? Ask Jan Masaryk! Maybe now he knows.

It Says Here

By BOB HOPE

One school is so crowded that every morning the teacher formally invites the kids to play hookey.

In my day there was plenty of room . . . every kid had a little desk and I had my little corner.

The rich kids used to bring the teacher apples . . . I was poor, so I just drew a map of Wenatchee, Washington.

Once I skipped school to go swimming and got my back burned . . . my dad found out about it and finished the job.

I went to a little green school house. . .we wanted a little red one, but we were afraid of Walter Winchell.

And some of the instructors are sort of sly these days, if you do something wrong, you have to go to the blackboard and write: "School teachers should get more money," a hundred times.

Return To Security Of Oneness Is Purpose Of GOP

Governor Earl Warren of California, and Republican vice presidential candidate, who will come into Maryland on Saturday for a major address in Baltimore has, without losing the persuasive quality that is one of his assets as a public speaker, taken to a more militant tone on several occasions during his swing through the East.

The people, he urges, are tired of the national Democratic Administration—and it is tired of itself, for it has been in power too long. It has become "petulant," Gov. Warren said a few days ago, and resents every act of Congress as an intrusion. It has split "into 1,816 component parts,"—many of them duplicates—"a vast mystic maze." Should it win again, then in four years more, the party would itself split up into four factions. Too much and too prolonged "inbreeding!"

While Gov. Warren finds that the American people are determined to put an end to mismanagement and bungling of their affairs in Washington, through the election of Gov. Dewey and himself to the presidency and vice presidency, he has endeavored to point out the necessity of the election of a Republican Congress in order to strengthen their hands and to permit the "housecleaning" so necessary for the welfare of the country.

In the history, political solidarity and present program of the Republican Party, Mr. Warren bases the promise of restored national unity and of needed public service. One point stands out: While Communists are boring like termites into nearly everywhere else, they are not found inside the Republican Party. Nor will they plague the next Administration from within, "for Tom Dewey will never let them get there."

The Republican emphasis on unity, both in the Party and in the nation, as opposed to the class consciousness and disunity which is offered by the Democrats, should strike a responsive chord in all real Americans. Unity and Union have been the rocks upon which the great development of this nation is based.

Through all of American history the idea of unity prevails. The very preamble of the Constitution with its phrases "to establish a more perfect union," hints at the near disaster which befell the young republic under Articles of Confederation. That loose federation, with its squabbles, division of authority and inherent weaknesses, was a dismal failure.

The nation's coins bear the motto "E Pluribus Unum," the Declaration of Independence refers to Americans as "one people" and the pledge to the flag stresses "one nation, indivisible." Down through the years the great of America have spoken deathless words on the subject. Andrew Jackson's toast, "Our Federal Union, it must be preserved," and Daniel Webster's "Liberty and union, now and forever, one and inseparable," were echoed by Lincoln's "A house divided against itself cannot stand." The slogans "United we stand, divided we fall," and "In union there is strength," were watchwords of the Revolution.

This is all a part of American heritage. It is a part which Harry Truman and the Democrats are trying to trample in the dust by appeals to group prejudices, by lambastings and threats and prophecies of doom, and by deliberate efforts to divide the country by erecting walls of sectionalism. Unity, and a return to a feeling of national oneness is the expressed purpose of the Republicans. That is the real American approach to the problem of keeping the nation on the road to progress and strength. That is the road along which Governors Dewey and Warren are determined that the people of America shall be led.

Almanac's Editor

The death in New York of E. Eastman Ervine, for 11 years editor of the "World Almanac," marks another chapter in the history of this venerable and revered publication.

It would be interesting to know how many times, in the six-odd decades the Almanac has been published, the phrase "Look it up in the Almanac" has echoed through the city rooms of the American press. To a working newspaperman no other reference—with the possible exception of the local city directory—is quite so necessary to his trade as is this thick, squatty (and usually dog-eared) volume.

Information gleaned from its authoritative pages has won bets, settled fights and in general kept the working newsmen out of trouble by supplying the right dates, facts and figures on almost every conceivable subject.

Mr. Ervine became editor of the Almanac in 1937 after years as a newsman. The 11 years he served in his post were among the most momentous in world history, placing on him a great responsibility as an editor. That he succeeded in separating useful fact from useless fancy can be confirmed by a glance at the 1948 edition.

College Boy Blues

Before the U. S. proceeded to make the world safe for democracy in World War I students could go to college for $400 or $500 a year—less if they economized or worked part time. Now many a college charges that much for board alone.

The three major items of expense at Harvard —tuition, board and room—add up to $1,236. In far less expensive schools it is probable a student would have difficulty in getting by on a thousand dollars a year.

This explains why college enrollment has begun to recede from the postwar highs when veterans thronged to college by government aid. College education is becoming too expensive for the average person.

The youth goes away to school by borrowing and working or on remittances from his sire. In either case it is becoming more and more difficult to make the grade unless the old man is well-to-do.

Inflation is hard on everybody, but there must be this year many youths in school and many families who deserve sympathy. At both ends there is scrimping and saving to make the grade, and often-assumption of debts that will be burdensome for years.

Higher education will be handicapped until the dollar recovers some of its lost value.

If, as scientists say, motor fuel can be made from carrots, this will be a boon to humanity in more ways than one.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

To the limit of space, questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made under proper limitations, when return stamped envelope is enclosed. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnosis or prescribe for individual diseases.

Treatment Of Leg Ulcers

Many individuals with varicose veins and other circulatory disturbances have the idea that ulcers on the legs are incurable. Much of this stems from the fact that these lesions have been given undue prominence and a bad reputation by those who are not being treated properly. Healing is delayed because those thus afflicted may be relying on salves to cure, rather than maging an attempt to eliminate the basic cause. In this respect the situation is analagous to the gentleman who is scraping his fingers raw on a grindstone and wonders why his pet ointment will not cure the wound. Healing would be prompt if he protected his fingers from the grindstone.

Dr. Van Dellen

It is logical to assume that if leg ulcers develop in individuals with circulatory disturbances healing will occur if the circulation is improved. The majority of these lesions develop under one of two conditions. The tissues in and about the ankle become unhealthy if the arteries bringing blood from the heart are narrowed and cannot convey their quota of nourishment. A somewhat similar situation exists when the veins which carry the vital fluid back to the heart are incompetent (varicosed) or obstructed. Under these circumstances the extremities become swollen and congested with stagnant blood. Consequently, when an injury occurs healing is delayed. Furthermore, the wound becomes infected because the cells are powerless to ward off bacterial invasion. As a result, when ulcers develop they have two strikes against them and consequently are difficult to heal.

The local application of a salve or an ointment occasionally is successful, especially if it stimulates the cells or controls the infection, but the basic fault remains and repeated engagments can be anticipated. On the other hand, there are very few lesions of this nature which will not yield to treatment if the individual remains in bed with the extremities elevated. This is true especially when the veins are at fault because the tissues are no longer handicapped by the stagnant blood and water-logged cells.

Now the inflamed area can be treated like any other infection. The inflammation is overcome by applying warm moist dressings or antiseptic solutions containing the sulfonamides, penicillin, streptomycin, or tyrothricin. The latter is particularly efficacious in conditions such as these. Healing is slow but definite; when the lesions are large considerable time can be saved by grafting healthy skin over the raw surface. But many individuals cannot afford to remain in bed for economic reasons. They need a supporting bandage which can be wrapped around the leg to prevent swelling and improve the blood flow temporarily.

Various types of bandage are available. They include the elastic stocking, rubber bandage, elastoplast, or Unna paste boot. These usually are applied over the ulcer, which is covered by a sterile gauze pad or piece of rubber sponge into which the antiseptic is inserted. These measures are continued until the tissues are returned to health. Now and then bandages must be worn indefinitely, especially when the circulatory trouble cannot be remedied. This is not necessary, however, if the varicose veins are corrected or the arteries can be encouraged to bring more blood into the extremities. In some instances improvement follows an operation in which the nerves leading to these passageways are severed.

The majority are incident to the aging process. Faulty metabolism, systematic diseases and poisonings, injury, and other eye disorders may also contribute to their formation. Several years may elapse before sight is so impaired that the individual becomes blind. Fortunately, most victims can be helped by surgery.

Truman Seeks New Job For Admiral Leahy; Congressmen Thwarted In Attempt To See Ignor Gouzenko; Judge Roseman Bad Influence On Truman?

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — President Truman has been privately turning on the heat to ease out his chief of staff, 73-year-old elder statesman Adm. William D. Leahy.

Mr. Truman, who hates to fire anyone himself, recently called in Leahy's close friend, Adm. Louis Denfeld, chief of naval operations and the man who really runs the Navy. Addressing Denfield as "Lou," though he usually calls him "Admiral," Truman said:

"Lou, I want you to do something for me. I want you to ask Leahy to retire.

"I like the old man," the President continued, "but he's outgrown his usefulness. I just hate to do this, but you can find a way of suggesting it to him. When I first came here, he offered to resign and I said no. Then last year he offered to resign again, and I asked him to stay. So it's very embarrassing to me and I can't very well ask him myself."

Admiral Denfeld, who has known Leahy all his life, demurred.

"I supose Secretary Forrestal has been telling you that I have two votes in the joint chiefs of staff—mine and Leahy's," he said. "But just look at the record. You'll find Leahy voted against me most of the time."

"He's gotten too reactionary," countered the President. "He and George Marshall are hardly on speaking terms. Everything Marshall proposes, Leahy tears to pieces. Clark Clifford tells me the public reaction to him is bad."

Denfeld replied that he didn't see how he could possibly ask Admiral Leahy to retire.

"He's my superior," he said, "and I can't go to him with a proposal like that."

Leahy, Ambassador To Spain ? ?

"Well, figure out some big job we can give him," countered the President. "I want him to retire in a blaze of glory. After his career he deserves it. Think up some important mission we can send him on—something really important."

Admiral Denfeld promised to look into the matter, came back a few days later with the idea that Admiral Leahy be appointed U. S. ambassador to Spain. Leahy had already served as ambassador to France and Governor of Puerto Rico, has something of a diplomatic background and Truman was delighted with the idea. However, he overlooked the fact that we have no diplomatic relations with Spain, and have agreed not to appoint an Ambassador until the Franco government is recognized by the United Nations.

This fact was promptly brought to Mr. Truman's attention when he suggested that Leahy become ambassador to Spain. The State Department was emphatic and adamant. No ambassador, it said—not even Admiral Leahy—would be sent to Madrid.

Mr. Truman is still looking for a job for Admiral Leahy.

Gouzenko Shuns Congress

For weeks the House un-American Activities Committee has been trying to make contact with Igor Gouzenko, the Soviet code clerk who jarred the world with his sensational revelations on Russia's atomic spy ring in Canada.

Gouzenko, however, is living under another name on a Canadian farm closely guarded by the Canadian government which doesn't trust headline-hunting American congressmen to keep his identity secret.

Once the committee almost got to Gouzenko, but upset its own applecart. Arrangements had been made with Prime Minister MacKenzie King who agreed to meet committee members secretly in Ottawa for further discussions.

But when the three congressmen reached New York they were greeted with glaring headlines revealing their plans. A member of the committee had leaked the whole story to the press.

Since then the committee has got the royal brush-off from the Canadian government.

Note—What the committee wants to question Gouzenko about is Soviet spies in the United States. It had a tip that Gouzenko knows about two key spies in America who were not mentioned in the Canadian royal commission's report.

Ex-Ghostwriter

Sagacious Judge Sam Rosenman of New York, who used to write speeches for both Franklin D. Roosevelt and Harry Truman, gave a private diagnosis of Truman's campaign talks the other day that would have delighted the ears of Dewey forces.

Chatting with a close friend, Rosenman declared: "I don't know who is writing this stuff the President has been delivering from the platform, but it will lose him more votes than he will win.

"In my opinion, the President is harping on that Wall Street-against-the-farmer and capital-against-labor theme too heavy. That type of appeal doesn't register any more, except maybe with the Wallaceites. The farmers are too well off this year to be frightened by Wall Street.

Judge Rosenman said he would have been glad to have offered his advice on Truman's speeches, "for whatever it was worth," but added that "some people around the President apparently think I am a bad influence."

Rosenman didn't name names, but it was jealous Secretary of the Treasury John Snyder who euchred Rosenman from riding on the President's train.

"I helped prepare the President's convention acceptance speech and his message to the special session of Congress," Judge Rosenman told a friend, "but I haven't been called in since."

New National Labor-Industry Relations Pattern Emerging

By SAMUEL B. PETTENGILL

The growing refusal of management to bargain with unions whose officers refuse to swear that they are not Communists, shows that a new national pattern in labor-industry relations is emerging.

For some months after the Taft-Hartley Law went into effect, on August 22, 1947, various companies and unions temporized with this issue. The unions claimed they were not required to file non-Communist affidavits unless they asked the protection of the law. Otherwise they claim the right to bargain collectively as if neither the Wagner Act nor the Taft Hartley Law had ever been enacted, and in such case, it was no business of anybody whether their officers were Communists.

This position, though possibly on a sound legal basis, is not working out practicably. Unions are finding that the "no-business-of-anybody-if-we-are-Communists" attitude is a poor way to make friends and influence people — even their own members.

One of the first employers to take a firm position was Remington Rand. A year ago it asked the United Electrical Workers, CIO, whether it had filed the non-Communist oaths. The union said it was not required to file them.

Remington Rand then asked the National Labor Relations Board whether it would certify the UE-CIO in the absence of non-Communist affidavits. NLRB ruled last February that UE-CIO was "ineligible to invoke any of the processes of this Board in protection of any of its members", because it had not filed the non-Communist oaths.

This ruling seemed to make it plain that if the employer would consent to make a deal "under the table" and outside the law, any contract so made would not protect the members of the union, the company, or the public.

So, one of the most useful provisions of the Taft-Hartley Law is proving itself. Unions that refuse to comply are either losing the protection of the law, the sympathy of the public, or are losing members to other unions which do comply with the law.

A number of companies have suffered violent strikes in consequence of their refusal to deal with Red-led unions, but have stood their ground. Among them are The Caterpillar Tractor Company, of Peoria, Illinois; the Bucyrus-Erie Company of Evansville, Indiana; Colt's Manufacturing Company of Hartford, Connecticut, and others. As the Congressional investigations of Communist infiltration in labor unions begin to function, the example first set by Remington Rand takes on the semblance of a new "national pattern".

In the light of our dangerous international situation, it does not seem likely that the public will punish at the polls those Congressmen and Senators who put into the hands of loyal union members their most potent weapon to rid their unions of disloyal officials.

President Truman's position demanding the repeal of the Taft-Hartley Law becomes incomprehensible on any other ground than a play for votes on a low level.

Of 280 Congressmen who voted for the Taft-Hartley Law and who sought renomination, 268 have won. Of the remaining 12, it cannot be clearly proven that a single one was defeated for this reason alone.

On the other hand, labor leaders claim that no Congressman who voted against the law, has been defeated in a primary.

The public is still to be heard from.

Depth

Those who have dug deep into life have been those who have lived most—and best. It is said of the Hon. William E. Gladstone that "he lived from a great depth of being." For this reason, undoubtedly, he gave much of his heart and hope to those who most needed his words and counsel, as well as his eloquent appeals for the unfortunate.

How unwise and unintelligent it is for one to judge another with no eyes with which to inspect that one's heart! People carry secret things there, often too sacred and full of meaning, to be exposed to the misunderstanding. To a lesser or greater extent we all have this secret chamber where we store away the depth of ourselves.

Those who think and feel deeply are usually those of few words, but nevertheless with a vision and understanding that are evident in every deed performed. Their horizon is so broad that they have to go into the deep mysteries and wonders of life that they may well embellish their world. Some call such people humanitarians, and aptly so.

The deep river usually runs slowly, because it has a big burden to move. Likewise many a quiet human being, through the simplest of methods, achieves great things, because he has that "great depth of being" that Gladstone had. It's the depth of character that makes anyone notable.

Make it a point to fasten your attention upon the silent listener, for if you are patient enough, you may hear something worth remembering. The loquacious person can easily be dismissed from all attention for usually he babbles because he imagines that people await his words, whereas they are merely bored. There is depth to silence.

In the summing up of the life of the elder Marshall Field, who was the founder of the great Field fortune, I recall one line that was written—"He was a man of few words." But he did big things in a business way. He established a high standard of merchandising that lives to this day. There were principles and ideals behind his methods of dealing with the public.

People who put their foundations deep into the earth of their being, build enduring structures thereon! Look about you. They are in every community.

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON, Sept. 28—Publication of the full texts of the record of the lengthy negotiations over the Berlin blockades does not solve the mystery as to why Generalissimo Stalin was checkmated by his own military general and humiliated before all the world as a man who either doesn't keep his word or is prevented from doing so by one of his subordinates.

American officials are in the dark as to the meaning of the inconsistency. They do not know whether it represents a sharp split in the politburo over methods or whether it merely reflects the day-by-day changes in Soviet technique.

Clearly the three governments—Great Britain, the United States and Russia—made public the documents not to force any showdown of arms but merely as a means of mobilizing world opinion. The United naions is opportunely available as a forum for discussion and there is likely to be no act of war, at least until the debate has concluded.

Few Expect War In Near Future

If Russia, however, intends war—and it may be that extremists inside the politburo think this is the time for it—the puzzle still presents itself as to why aggression was not begun earlier when it was so easy for the Soviet armies to sweep all over Europe in a few weeks.

Despite the outward appearance of gravity and crisis, there are few here who expect war to develop in the immediate future. This view is based on the theory that the Russians will not commit acts of aggression to bring on war but will quibble and harass the western powers up to the point of determining whether armed resistance to an aggressive move will follow.

The airlift provides a test. If the Russians want trouble, they can interfere with the transport planes going to Berlin. This would lead to an Allied announcement of an intention to provide support with fighter planes. That would be the climax. Then Russia would definitely be confronted with a decision as to whether she wants to force a war. It may be necessary for the Allies to go that far in order to persuade Moscow that aggression will be resisted.

It will be admitted that the present controversy contains no issue that cannot be easily resolved—currency and blockade problems that are simple enough—provided the basic question of who is to control Germany can be amicably handled.

The record of the negotiations indicates that the parleys mostly concerned narrow points and not the over-all problems that have been separating the East and West. Apparently an effort was made by the western powers to get an agreement to lift the blockade and arrange for currency in Berlin without tackling the broad questions that are behind the whole "cold war".

It seems unfortunate that there is a grave crisis over what kind of marks shall circulate in Berlin or how a central bank there is to handle the issuance of currency. Neither these small matters nor the "technical difficulties" that Russia gave as an excuse for the blockade are in themselves as vital as the broad question of how Germany and particularly the Ruhr, shall be governed in the future.

It would have been better if the Allies had developed a plan for the temporary lifting of the blockade while all the bigger questions were discussed. But evidently the western representatives have all along felt there was no use talking to Russia, and the Soviets have probably had the same impression about the governments at Washington, London and Paris.

But here there are rumors of another war—and Foreign Secretary Bevin warns it will be an atomic war—and somehow or other nobody knows of any long-range policies as to Germany having been formulated as yet among the western powers or by Russia. It seems a tragic turn of history that a war should be fought over how to handle a defeated poower from whom Russia still fears a recurrent attack some day.

Diplomacy has failed again to steer the negotiations into peaceful channels and has returned to the open debate. Maybe it will return to the negotiations stage again when the extremists inside the politburo see that Stalin was probably right in his earlier efforts to make a compromise settlement.

By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

We Need A Law

MISS Edna Lonigan raises an interesting point in an article in "Human Events":

"'It can't be true,' say the pseudo-liberals. 'The Grand Jury would have indicted. The FBI would have proved them guilty.' But guilty of what? Most American followers of the N. K. V. D. have committed no crime. They have violated no law. If every statement in the testimony of Miss Bentley and Mr. Chambers is proved true, the Grand Jury will still find it difficult to indict. We have no law compelling Government employes to propose only ideas that are for the good of their country."

That is why such committees as the Thomas, the Ferguson and the Revercomb committees are having such a difficult time of it. Let us take the Hiss case as an example. It has not been established that Alger Hiss is a Communist, a Communist agent, a Russian spy, an N.K.V.D. agent or even a fellow-traveler. All that has been proved about Hiss is that he once kept some very bad company and tried to cover up and failed.

If there is more evidence on Hiss, the President refuses to permit Congress to have it and the American people to know it. And under the law, the President has a legal right to keep those files secret as long as he chooses. The American people have no legal rights in the matter.

We may assume that all those who decline to answer questions on the ground that to answer would incriminate them are guilty of some offense. Otherwise, nothing that they said could incriminate them. They have been advised by their lawyers that they have a legal and constitutional right to silence. We know from the investigations of the Dies Committee, the Rapp-Coudert Committee in New York, the California Legislative Investigation, the Canadian report and other sources that Soviet Russia has been operating in this country, as she has in every country, through natives directed by Europeans.

The more native the native, the better he is for the kind of work they need to have done. Earl Browder's ancestry goes back to colonial times—he is obviously a better man than Jay Lovestone or Ben Gitlow, who are of recent immigrant stock.

This pattern is universal. One meets it in Korea, in Germany, in China, in Czechoslovakia. It is the American pattern. But it is not an illegal pattern. Certainly, Louise Bernstein-Bransten-Berman has a right to serve mankind as she chooses. Cleverly she places herself on the lofty pedestal of noble service. Tommy Manville spends his money on gals and mink coats; she spends hers on the underdog. So does John D. Rockefeller, Jr. Is anything wrong? What about Mr. Adams? She legally refuses to answer him—to answer would incriminate her. And that is her legal right. Was Mr. Adams an underdog or a spy?

While he was trapesing around this country, the Hearst press exposed him as a spy and tried to trace him down, but he was permitted to leave the United States with valuable documents. What is the FBI record on Adams?

That secret has been guarded by President Truman and is only now being forced out. And so far there is no record that Mrs. Bransten did anything contrary to the law, except her own acknowledgment that if she talked it would incriminate her—and legally the statement does not raise the presumption of guilt no matter what you or I may think about it.

There is, however, this essential difference between John D. Rockefeller, Jr., and this lady. Through his foundations or personality, he has publicly accounted for his contributions. The American people can know how he spent his money. Mrs. B. B. B. inherited her money from a fine father who earned it in canned groceries. She has spent her money without notifying the public. That, too, is legally her right. She can spend it on dogs, cats, philosophies, artists, men and women, spies and jewelry. Communists or Prohibitionists as she will. It is all within the law.

So how does this nation protect itself against its own sons and daughters? Ask Jan Masaryk! Maybe now he knows.

It Says Here

By BOB HOPE

One school is so crowded that every morning the teacher formally invites the kids to play hookey.

In my day there was plenty of room . . . every kid had a little desk and I had my little corner.

The rich kids used to bring the teacher apples . . . I was poor, so I just drew a map of Wenatchee, Washington.

Once I skipped school to go swimming and got my back burned . . . my dad found out about it and finished the job.

I went to a little green school house. . .we wanted a little red one, but we were afraid of Walter Winchell.

And some of the instructors are sort of sly these days, if you do something wrong, you have to go to the blackboard and write: "School teachers should get more money," a hundred times.

Most types of early cancer can be cured. For information to guard against this disease, send for the pamphlet, "Who, What, Why, Where, When of Cancer." Write your nearest American Cancer Society information center or ACS, 47 Beaver Street, New York 4, New York.

Although the over-all cancer death rate continues to rise, the American Cancer Society points out, there is now a slight decline in the women's death rate when adjustments are made for an aging population.

Cancer, the second most frequent cause of death in America, is one of the oldest diseases known to man. It was named by Hippocrates in the fourth century, B. C.

City Police Probe Weekend Thefts

City Police are investigating several thefts and other acts of vandalism, the most recent being the theft of clothing from a clothes line, siphoning of gasoline from five cars, theft of about $50 from a local store, and the theft of 75 cents at a cleaning establishment.

Detective Thomas J. See said Mrs. P. W. Hoffman, 31 Massachusetts Avenue, reported yesterday morning that some one had stolen several articles of clothing from the clothes lines on the back porch of her home and had siphoned five gallons of gasoline from her car.

The articles stolen, she said, included four pairs of boy's socks and some boy's underwear. Gas was siphoned from four other cars on the street, she said, adding that gas tank locks were broken in some cases.

See said entrance to McDade's Market and Tom's Cleaners, both located on Front Street, was gained by breaking a rear window in each building.

Mrs. Margaret A. McDade, wife of Michael F. McDade, proprietor of the store, discovered the buglary when she opened the store at 9 a. m. yesterday.

The other entry was discovered at 7:30 a. m. by Carl E. Hyde, a clerk at the cleaning establishment. He said only about 75 cents was taken, but was unable to say whether clothing there was disturbed.

Home Owner Sues Builder For Faulty Construction

Suit was docketed yesterday in Circuit Court by Kenneth P. Maphis against Norbert J. Zeller for $2,500 damages in connection with alleged faulty construction of a residence for Maphis.

William H. Geppert, attorney for Maphis, states in the declaration that on September 12, 1947, Maphis entered into an agreement with Zeller for the construction of a modernistic stone house in Glen View Court on the Braddock Road at a cost of $9,000.

The declaration states the home was built contrary to the contract and due to the "negligent and careless manner in which it was constructed" various defects appeared.

Maphis claims the roof leaks, mortar has crumbled, the garage floor has cracked, plaster damaged by water seeping in from the roof, and that the home was built on a portion of land owned by another party.

The American Cancer Society distributed more than 10 million pieces of educational literature during 1947.

Wins Two Prizes

Lynville Red took third prize in the stake class and again copped third place honors in the stallion and gelding class.

The fact that Purinton's horse won honors at the horse show on Sunday was inadvertently omitted from the account of the prize winners carried in Monday's News.

About one-third of those who die of cancer could have been cured had adequate treatment been started in time.

Keyser Firm Is Low Bidder On Road Job

FRANKLIN, W. Va.—The contracting girm of Stickley Brothers, Inc., Keyser, was low bidder on the construction of the slightly less than 3½ miles of the Ft. Seybert road. The bids were opened in Charleston last week.

The Stickley bid was $84,560.20, and awarding of the contract awaits only approval from the Public Roads Administration of the federal government, since the job is a Federal Aid project. The federal okay is expected at once and staking out the new roadway will begin as soon as possible under direction of Ronald C. Harper, Franklin, who will be resident engineer on the project.

Construction will begin about a mile and a half east of the Fort Seybert bridge. The road will have a 24-foot overall width besides necessary ditching, and will be topped with a 6-inch traffic bound surface 16 feet wide. There will be a four-foot berm on each side, exclusive of ditches.

Presbyterian Group Outlines Programs

Programs for the coming year were outlined at the meeting of the Young Women's Group of the First Presbyterian Church Monday night at the home of Mrs. John McBee, Kent Avenue. They will begin with the showing of the picture, "In the Temple and in Every Home," at the next meeting in the church house.

In November Mrs. Gilbert Miller will review "The Choice;" the group will attend the association tea in December; and in January Mrs. William Eisenberger and Mrs. James Martin will be hostesses at the manse.

Mrs. Albert List conducted the devotionals and Mrs. Norman Taylor gave the highlights of the summer conference at Lafayette College, Easton, Pa. Concluding the meeting refreshments were served by Mrs. Marvin Inge and Mrs. McBee.

"PITFALL"

STARTING FRIDAY AT THE MARYLAND

Mrs. Blizzard Heads Class

Mrs. Vera Blizzard was elected president of the Gleaners Bible Class of Trinity Methodist Church at the meeting recently at the home of Mrs. Dorothy Hinkle, Virginia Avenue. Other officers are Mrs. Betty June Miller, vice president; Mrs. Mary Miller, secretary; Mrs. Rebecca Wagner, treasurer; and Mrs. Nanie Watkins, teacher.

A devotional was conducted by Mrs. Geraldine Linn and a social followed the meeting.

Woman's Civic Club To Hear Mrs. Millard Tydings

The Woman's Civic Club will have Mrs. Millard E. Tydings as the guest speaker at the opening general meeting of the fall season to be held tomorrow. It will begin with a luncheon at 12:30 at the Cumberland Country Club.

Besides Mrs. Tydings' talk the program will include musical selections by Mrs. Vernon Cost, violinist; Mrs. Howard Irwin, clellist; and Mrs. William B. Ludman, pianist.

Mrs. William A. Douglas will preside and Mrs. Ralph R. Webster is in charge of arrangements.

Centre Street P-TA Discusses Projects

A mimeograph machine and a centralized library were named as projects of the Centre Street P-TA at the meeting recently. Mrs. Lawrence Grim presided.

Other officers are Clyde Runion, Mrs. Mary Brown, Mrs. Ralph Fearer. Committees named are Mrs. Vincent Eversole, Mrs. Frances Rinker, Mrs. Nelson Cessna, Ways and Means; Woodrow Grimes, Adult Education; Mrs. Rinker and Mrs. Eversole, Program; Mrs. Cleo Martens and Mrs. Mary Brown, Publicity.

Mrs. Claude Robinson reported the Playground committee purchased a movie projector and several seesaws with proceeds from the summer festival. Mrs. Grim gave a summary of the by-laws and it was decided to meet the second Thursday of every other month. Moving pictures were shown by Lawrence Grim and refreshments were served.

Club Plans Socials

Plans for two parties were formulated and a program on "What About the Comics" featured the meeting of the Child Guidance Club recently at the home of Mrs. George Simmons, Arundel Street.

A birthday party is to be held October 27 at the home of Mrs. James R. Smith, Oldtown Road. There also will be a Hallowe'en party for the children of members to be held October 28 at the home of Mrs. Orrie Sensabaugh, 701 Arundel Street.

Committee Named

The Cresap Homemakers Club named Mrs. Herbert Heineman, Mrs. Edgar Hounshell and Mrs. John Thompson as the election committee at the meeting recently at the home of Mrs. Heineman. Mrs. Arthur Ferguson was elected assistant art chairman.

Mrs. Herbert Logsdon presided and the group sang "Deep River" and "Little Liza Jane." Miss Dora Lewis spoke on sanitation in the home and ways to avoid accidents in the home; and Mrs. Heineman spoke on the men who "explored the Potomac."

A Brand New Experience in Shopping for Foods!

Come and See it!

THE MIRACLE OF 30 WINEOW STREET

In addition to the "Food-O-Mat" You'll Find . . .

- A New Bakery Dept.

You'll find tempting baked goods fresh from the ovens. Delicious desserts for dinner, crisp rolls for breakfast, and superb baked goodies for every meal . . . all attractively low priced.

- A New Lunch Counter

Sanwiches, drinks, milk shakes, and ice cream are available at our new luncheon counter. Eat while you shop.

- A Big Produce and Frozen-Foods Dept.

- A Big Meat Dept.

THE "FOOD-O-MAT"

and What it Means to You!

SHOP IN HALF THE USUAL TIME . . .

In one side, uncluttered aisle, running the full length of the store is concentrated over 1700 grocery items. You push one of the new, bigger, single-basket carts along the runways and select your items. As soon as one item is taken another slides into place. You can see at a glance just where everything is located. You reduce walking distance about two-thirds.

NO POSSIBILITY OF OLD or STALE GOODS . . .

The runways are fed from a stockroom behind the "Food-O-Mat" and stocks are replenished as they are sold. There's not a chance that any article will remain in stock to get old or stale. Feeding direct from the stockroom eliminates the bother of clerks cluttering up the aisles while they re-stock goods.

LOW PRICES . . .

Economies effected by more efficient handling and restocking are reflected in our low prices. "Food-O-Mat" eliminates work for us as well as for you . . . and you reap benefits two ways.

BETTER SERVICE . . .

You'll say it's fun and convenient to shop the modern "Food-O-Mat" way. Once you try it, you'll want to make it a habit to do all our marketing at Albert's Super-Market.

Just Between Us

Forget Your Fiance Once Dated Other Girl; That's Over Now

By NANCY MOTTRAM

(Q) "Dear Nancy: I went steady with a boy for six months and then we became engaged. Lately, I've found out that shortly after he asked me to marry him, he dated another girl. I should like to have him tell me about this but he doesn't know I know. Should I ask him for an explanation? What should I do?"

Nancy Mottram

(A) Don't make a mistake by dragging this out of the past. You might be risking your whole relationship because of something that happened some time ago, and it isn't important enough to bring up. You are the girl he's asked to be his wife. And it should be obvious that in spite of this drifting from the "steady" path once, you are the one who counts. Forget it, and don't let it come between you now.

• — • — •

(Q) "Dear Nancy: Some time ago, I met a boy, and began to care for him. He dropped over quite often, and this summer, he often walked me home whenever we met at the tennis courts or overtown. He never asked me for a date, but he was so friendly that I was sure he liked me, too. One day, one of my girl friends told him how I felt about him. He told her that he thought I was a wonderful girl, but that he thought of me only as a friend, and could never be interested in me in any other way. This hasn't changed my feelings though and I should like your advice. How could I make him care about me?"

(A) If you set out to chase him, you can bet that you'll see him disappearing whenever you come around. The boy has put his attitude in plain words, and although it blasts your hopes, you'd better accept it. There's a chance that eventually his friendship may turn into something more, but don't count on it. Just continue to be friendly. Otherwise he'll get out of touch with you altogether.

• — • — •

(Q) "Dear Nancy: I've been dating two boys who used to be buddies. Since they've both started taking me out, they won't speak or even be polite to each other. I'm right in the middle of this and I've had quarrels with both of them because of their jealousy. I don't have fun on dates at all any more. What would you suggest I do?"

(A) The time has come when you'd better make a choice, or forget about both of them. If your dates are open warfare, you can't enjoy yourself or keep from looking over your shoulder to see if your other friend is in sight when you're out with one. Either accept dates with the one you like better, and refuse the other lad's invitations, or get yourself out of this situation by turning down both of them, and dating lads who won't cause you unhappiness.

If you have a problem at school or at home, write Miss Mottram for her help.

Good News For Folks Who Suffer From

✔ STOMACH GAS
✔ ACID INDIGESTION

Do you feel bloated and miserable after every meal, taste sour, bitter food? If so, here is how you may get blessed relief from this nervous distress.

Everytime food enters the stomach a vital gastric juice must flow normally to break-up certain food particles; else the food may ferment. Sour food, acid indigestion and gas frequently cause a morbid, touchy, fretful, peevish, nervous condition, loss of appetite, underweight, restless sleep, weakness.

To get real relief you must increase the flow of this vital gastric juice. Medical authorities, in independent laboratory tests on human stomachs, have by positive proof shown that SSS Tonic is amazingly effective in increasing this flow when it is too little or scanty due to a non-organic stomach disturbance. This is due to the SSS Tonic formula which contains special and potent activating ingredients.

Also, SSS Tonic helps build-up non-organic, weak, watery blood in nutritional anemia—so with a good flow of this gastric digestive juice, plus rich red-blood you should eat better, sleep better, feel better, work better, play better.

Avoid punishing yourself with overdoses of soda and other alkalizers to counteract gas and bloating when what you so dearly need is SSS Tonic to help you digest food for body strength and repair. Don't wait! Join the host of happy people SSS Tonic has helped. Millions of bottles sold. Get a bottle of SSS Tonic from your drug store today. SSS Tonic helps Build Sturdy Health.

Gallup Poll:

President Truman Is Found Gaining In Latest National Election Poll

By GEORGE GALLUP
Director, American Institute of Public Opinion

PRINCETON, N. J., September 28—The latest nationwide political poll finds President Truman in the best position since the nominating conventions in June.

While Governor Thomas E. Dewey, the Republican candidate, still holds a substantial lead in popularity, Mr. Truman has gained in recent weeks. The poll, completed just before he started on his western campaign swing, shows the following trend:

"If the presidential election were being held TODAY how would you vote—for Truman, Dewey, Wallace or some other candidate?"

	June	Aug. 22	Today
Dewey	49%	48%	46½%
Truman	38	37	39
Wallace	6	4	3½
Thurmond	—	2	2
Others	*	*	*
No opinion	7	9	9

*Less than 1 per cent.

Norman Thomas, Socialist Party candidate, runs ahead of the other minor party candidates, although all minor parties combined poll a total of less than one per cent. Minor parties with candidates entered include the Socialist Workers Party, the Socialist Labor Party, the Prohibition Party, the Greenback Party, the Vegetarian Party and several others.

The Truman gain found in today's poll is also reflected in the Institute's most recent survey of one of the key states in the election — California. As reported yesterday, the poll found a 6 per cent gain for Mr. Truman in California as compared to early September.

However, the percentage that President Truman polls in the November election will still depend to a considerable extent on how successful the Democrats are in arousing interest in the election and stimulating a big turnout.

If voter apathy continues and turnout falls considerably under the 58,000,000 votes, which would be a normal turnout for 1948, that would be a factor unfavorable to Mr. Truman and favorable to Governor Dewey.

One of the best indicies of probable turnout in November is voter registration in New York City, which begins next Monday, Sept. 27. The percentage increase in the total number of registrations, as compared to 1944, will give a fairly reliable indication of how much the national turnout will increase in November as compared to 1944 when 47,974,868 votes were cast. Generally speaking, a small turnout hurts the Democrats because the stay-at-homes are predominantly Democratic in sentiment; or to put it another way, there is usually more voter apathy among Democratic ranks than among Republican ranks.

The importance to the Democrats of getting out a big vote is shown in a special analysis in today's poll based on the question, "How certain are you that you will vote?"

This shows that people who are not certain that they will vote or who don't plan to vote at all tend to favor Mr. Truman more than Governor Dewey.

In short, if the Democrats could overcome apathy and stay-at-home-ism, their candidate would poll a higher percentage on election day.

"How certain are you that you will vote in the election?"

	Absolutely Certain	Uncertain	Don't plan to vote
Favor Dewey	52%	41%	27%
Favor Truman	37	46	37
Favor Wallace	4	2	5
Favor Thurmond	2	2	1

Rev. Sheaffer Moved To Potomac Park Charge

FRANKLIN, W. Va.—Rev. Lee E. Sheaffer was transferred to the Potomac Park Charge by the Evangelical United Brethren Conference, which met in Staunton last weekend, and is preparing to move his family to that point.

Rev. Sheaffer has been pastor of the seven-church Franklin Charge for the past seven years.

Rev. B. F. Spitzer, who served this charge many years ago, has been appointed to Franklin from his old post at Great Cacapon. Rev. Spitzer also held a charge at Blue Grass some years back.

During his pastorate here, Rev. Sheaffer's work has resulted in increases in both membership and attendance. His transfer comes at a time when he was working hard toward the construction of a new church building.

Rev. S. J. Westfall remains at the Petersburg charge.

Group Discusses State Aid To Alcoholics

Noel Spier Cook, Frostburg, a member of the committee, said Virginia has appropriated $200,000 for a study of the alcoholic problem.

The Maryland group, Cook said, will recommend that the first clinic be placed at the University of Maryland or at Johns Hopkins University Hospital, Baltimore. Later, he said, a clinic would be established in Cumberland.

One hundred universities, hospitals and laboratories have received more than 250 grants for cancer research from the American Cancer Society.

Bruce at Flintstone

A field goal by Emmett Brennan, center forward, midway in the second period enabled Coach Paul Footen's Barton High School soccer team to defeat Beall High's defending champions by the score of 1 to 0 in a W. M. I. Soccer League contest yesterday at Frostburg.

The victory was Barton's first of the season against a single loss while the setback was the second straight for the Mountain City eleven.

Brennan hammered the ball between the uprights for the lone tally from about ten yards out after Barton's backs blocked Beall's free kick and the visitors marched down the field.

Highlighting the close game was the defensive play of Bill Kirk, goalie, and Fullback Tichnell, who were in Beall's hair all afternoon breaking up plays in front of the uprights.

Coach Johnny Meyers' Central Hight School aggregation from Lonaconing retained first place in the five-team circuit by scoring its second straight victory of the season at the expense of Flintstone High School on the latter's field. The score was 4-1.

Flintstone held the Orange and Black to a 1-0 score in the first half but the 'Coney team sewed up the game with two goals in the third period.

Ronald Roland scored Flintstone's only goal in the third period. Ray Ralston registered twice from the field and Alan Stafford and Cameron each scored once for the league leaders. The lineups:

Hendersons Score In CCC Golf Match

Top Nicholsons, 24-6, Mrs. Small Posts 80

Capturing seven out of eight foursomes, one threesome and halving a twosome, the Hendersons, captained by Mrs. Gordon L. Bowie, avenged an earlier defeat by winning over the Nicholsons, headed by Mrs. Somerville Nicholson, in the match between women's golf teams yesterday at the Cumberland Country Club. The score was 24 to 6.

Mrs. Fred T. Small had low net of 80 for the Hendersons while Mrs. W. Royce Hodges, Jr., posted an 83 for the losers. The results with the Hendersons listed first:

Mrs. Fuller B. Whitworth and Mrs. Howard B. Wood defeated Mrs. William Kramer and Mrs. William Somerville, 2 to 1.

Mrs. Milton Beneman and Mrs. A. Broterkle defeated Mrs. A. T. Smith and Mrs. Paul M. Fletcher, 3 to 0.

Mrs. William McFarland defeated Mrs. J. Mirkin and Mrs. S. Weisman, 3 to 0.

Mrs. Harrison Givens tied Mrs. Emmett Jones, 1½ to 1½.

Cincinnati Reds Buy "Citation" Merriman

Merriman, a former Stanford football star from Clovis, Cal., led the league with runs scored, triples and stolen bases. He batted .298 scored 120 times, had 18 triples, and stole 42 bases. He was known as "Citation" to the Columbia fans.

3,000 "JURY BOX" SEATS ARE SNATCHED SWIFTLY AT BOSTON

BOSTON, Sept. 28 (AP)—Three thousand unreserved bleacher tickets offered at $1 each by the Boston Braves for their first two world series home games were swiftly snatched up by fans today and some 2,000 would-be purchasers were turned away disappointed.

The first 300 in line who queued up before 10 windows this morning had kept an overnight vigil outside the box office to insure getting their "jury box" seats. Braves officials estimated at 2,000 the number still in line when the tickets were exhausted.

Robinson Clouts Home Run In 13th To Defeat Braves

Erskine Of Dodgers Scores 9-8 Victory

NEW YORK, Sept. 28 (INS) — The Brooklyn Dodgers, now exchampions since the Braves clinched the 1948 National League pennant, today trimmed Boston 9 to 8 on Jackie Robinson's 13th inning home run.

The Dodgers got 18 hits but were held scoreless from the seventh inning to the 13th.

Jeff Heath and Frank McCormick banged homers for Boston in the sixth and eighth innings respectively.

Rookie Carl Erskine pitched one inning — the 13th — to gain the win, the third time this season he has won a game by hurling only one inning. Box:

REDS LOSE TO CUBS

CHICAGO, Sept. 28 (AP) — The Cincinnati Reds became co-tenants with the Chicago Cubs of the National League cellar today as they dropped a 6 to 2 decision to the Chicagoans.

Lefty Bob McCall pitched the Cubs to victory, his third of the season, as Johnny Vander Meer weakened in the late innings. The Cubs jolted the veteran Cincinnati southpaw for two runs on three hits in the sixth. They added three more in the seventh when they mixed two singles with some fuzzy defensive play by the Reds. A final tally came in the eighth when Roy Smalley hit a home run. Box:

Bucs Release Queen, Wilson To Hoosiers

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 28 (AP)—The Pittsburgh Pirates today released outright pitcher Mel Queen and infielder Grady Wilson to Indianapolis of the American Association.

Queen was purchased from the New York Yankees last season. He won four and lost seven in 1947 for the Bucs and had a record of four and four this year.

The Pirates obtained Wilson on waivers from the Philadelphia Phils last April. Used in utility roles, he was optioned to the New Orleans Club of the Southern Association in July.

Players are: Tommy Holmes (1); Earl Torgeson (9); Jeff Heath (4) and Connie Ryan (8).

Oakland High Wins Overtime Contest

Corner Kicks Decide Tilt At Friendsville

FRIENDSVILLE, Md., Sept. 28 — Oakland High School's soccer team opened its season with a victory over the booters of Friendsville High School here today, corner kicks deciding the issue after the teams battled two extra five-minute periods to a 3-3 draw.

Baker, Rodeheaver and Kelly kicked field goals for Oakland and Frazee scored twice and J. Humbertson once for the home team.

Leland Byrd Reports To Knicks On Friday

MORGANTOWN, W. Va., Sept. 28 — Lefty Leland Byrd, West Virginia basketball star for the past four years, will report Friday to the professional New York Knickerbockers for training at Bear Mountain, N.Y.

Byrd set a new Mountaineer scoring record of 997 points during his four-year varsity career. He was permitted to play as a freshman under war time rules. The three-year mark of 774 points was established by Jack Gocke in 1935-37.

Two years ago the Matoaka, W. Va., southpaw was a first team All-American choice by the Helms Foundation. He closed out his brilliant career last season by winning a place on the Eastern All-Star squad for its annual charity battle with the West in New York's Madison Square Garden.

Allen And Britt Will Broadcast World Series

NEW YORK, Sept. 28 (INS)—The Mutual Broadcasting System announced today that sports announcers Mel Allen and Jim Britt will broadcast the play-by-play of the 1948 world series.

The series, which is scheduled to begin Oct. 6, will be broadcast exclusively by Mutual and will be relayed around the world by the Armed Forces Radio Service.

Simmons' Drop Kicks Amaze Football Fans

MORGANTOWN, W. Va., Sept. 28—The amazing thing about little Gene Simmons, West Virginia University dropkicker, is not so much that he has revived a lost art but that he doesn't take a step forward when his toe meets the ball. Old timers who saw plenty of dropkicking in the earlier days of football claim Simmons is the first dropkicker they've ever watched who plants himself and boots from that stance.

The Elkins, W. Va., sophomore, who dropkicked 61 in 68 extra points during his high school career, already has been responsible for nine of the Mountaineers' 63 points in two games. He had two conversions and a field goal against Waynesburg and four points after touchdown in the Wooster contest. So far he's had three misses.

The misses have so irked the 147-pounder that he has increased his daily practice from two to three hours.

LaSalle, Fort Hill Complete Plans For Grid Game Friday

Gates To Open At 6:30, Officials Are Chosen

Arrangements for the 20th meeting of LaSalle High School and Fort Hill High School on the gridiron Friday night were completed at a meeting yesterday between representatives of th local school.

Among things sttled at yesterday's session which was attended by Victor D. Heisey, principal, and John J. "Bobby" Cavanaugh, of Fort Hill and Brother F. Patrick and Brother Gregory of LaSalle, were:

1. LaSalle will be the home team.

2. All gates at the stadium will be open at 6:30 p. m., and the game will get under way at 8 p. m.

3. There will be no reserved seats sold. LaSalle passes will be honored.

4. LaSalle's student body and fans will occupy Sections B, C and D in the concrete stands.

5. Fort Hill's student body and fans will occupy the wooden bleachers and section "A" in the concrete stands.

6. The winning team will receive the ball. In event of a tie the teams will toss for the ball.

7. Tickets for the game may be purchased at both schools, Truitt's Drug Store, Wilson Hardware Company, Sport Shop, Shober's Restaurant, "Cotton" Geatz's Restaurant and at the homes of the Frostburg and Cumberland Knights of Columbus.

William P. Hahn, Fort Hill coach, announced last evening that officials for the game will be Dan Staley, referee; Gordon Eisman, umpire, and Ed Milbrada, head linesman. Mr. Eisman is principal of Charles Town (W. Va.) High School.

McClellan Posts 180 For Highest Average In Social Dux League

"Bud" McClellan led the pin spillers of the Social Bowling League for the season just concluded by turning in high average of 180.

He toppled over 200 pins 12 times, his highest score for one game being 249. In eight matches he spilled more than 500 maples, his best score for the set being 587. He also turned in totals of 617, 621 and 651 for three games.

The doubles championship was won by Dan Langer and William McDermott with a score of 1,081.

Amvets' Eleven Plays In Hagerstown Tonight

Coach Buck Shober's Cumberland Amvets football team will meet the Dorsey Marketeers tonight at the Hagerstown Municipal Stadium at 8:30 o'clock.

Hagerstown defeated the locals last year by the score of 33-0 and will be favored in tonight's contest. The local team will leave from the Amvets' Home at 4 p. m. Twenty-five players will make the trip.

Washington Twirler Bags 14th Triumph

BOSTON, Sept. 28 (INS)—Washington's Rae Scarborough pitched and batted the Senators to a six-hit, 4 to 2 win over the slumping Red Sox today to drop Boston 1½ games behind Cleveland in the hectic American League pennant scramble.

The Senators, who heretofore had lost 13 of 19 games with Boston, pinned the faltering Red Sox with their ninth defeat in 15 contests.

Scarborough won his 14th game by checking the Red Sox sluggers with the exception of Bobby Doerr who poled his 26th home run with none on in the sixth. Otherwise the Senators' ace was in complete charge.

Joe Dobson, seeking his 17th win was hammered from the hill in the second. Washington loaded the bases with none out on Mickey Vernon's double, a walk to Ed Yost, and a crisp single by Mark Christman.

Red Sox first baseman Bill Goodman then threw Jake Early's grounder wild to the plate and Vernon scored. Scarborough added two more tallies with a single and Al Kozar completed the scoring with a run-producing safety.

Lefthander Mickey Harris arrived to relieve Dobson and silenced the Senators the rest of the way.

Beard Uses Crutches, Suffers Ankle Sprain

BLACKSBURG, Va., Sept. 28 (AP)—Gloom appeared over the Virginia Tech football camp today as veteran fullback Ralph Beard, of Cumberland, Md., appeared on crutches with a badly sprained ankle, suffered last Saturday in the George Washington game.

Roger Neel, sophomore from Barboursville, W. Va., is being groomed for the fullback slot. Though it was reported that Beard was not definitely out of next Saturday's game with Virginia, it was doubtful whether he would be in the starting lineup.

George Leib Heads Shuffleboard Loop

League Hopes To Open Season With 12 Teams

George M. Leib, of the local Purple Heart Chapter, was elected president; Charles Morgan, vice president and Robert "Ace" Baker was re-elected secretary-treasurer at a meeting of the National Shuffleboard League of Allegany County last night at the K. of C. Home.

Ten teams, namely, Amvets, K. of C., Redmen, Owls, Veterans of Foreign Wars, South End Republican Club, Viaduct Inn, Military Order of the Purple Heart, all of Cumberland, Cresap Tavern of Cresaptown and the Century A. C., of Frostburg.

The league hopes to start the season with twelve teams.

The deadline for entering teams in the circuit is October 14 when the next meeting will be held at the K. of C. Home at 8 p. m.

Last season the K. of C. won the championship by the margin of three games.

ABINGTON, Mass., Sept. 28. (AP)—A 16-year-old Abington High School football player died today and a second—also 16—was in a serious condition from injuries suffered within the past week in a game and in practice scrimmage.

Edward Snyder, Jr., died this morning where he was taken a week ago today with a ruptured spleen suffered in a practice scrimmage.

SOFTBALL TWIN BILL SCHEDULED SUNDAY

Softball teams will engage in a doubleheader Sunday at Community Park for the benefit of Umpire George Leith.

In the opening game the Rocking Chair League All-Stars will play a team from the County League at 2 p. m., while in the nightcap the Frostburg League All-Stars will do battle with the City League All-Stars.

Last Sunday the City Leaguers won two games from the Rocking Chair League All-Stars.

Arrangements for Sunday's twin bill are in charge of the Cumberland Junior Association of Commerce.

Johnson Scores TKO

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 28 (AP)—Unbeaten light-heavyweight Harold Johnson of Philadelphia unleashed rights and lefts with murderous fury tonight to score a technical knockout over Agostino Guedes, Palmerton, Pa., in 2.16 of the third round in the featured 10-rounder at Convention Hall. Johnson weighed 176, Guedes 186.

LOUIS WAINGOLD'S DIXIES SEAMAN PAYS $56.60 AT WHEELING

Dixies Seaman, a seven-year-old gelding, owned by Louis Waingold of the Boulevard Hotel Apartments, this city, scored his second victory in five days at Wheeling (W. Va.) Downs yesterday, romping home first in the eighth race to return $56.60, $21 and $7.40 for $2 win, place and show tickets.

Waingold purchased Dixies Seaman at a private sale at a New England track last April and the horse scored its first win under new ownership last Thursday at Wheeling, copping the eighth race and paying $10.20, $3.60 and $2.80.

H. McKinney, negro jockey, was aboard Dixies Seaman in both winning starts.

Dixies Seaman raced at Fairgo and Hagerstown before being sent to Wheeling. Waingold also owns Sobre Todes and Coral Water.

Pat O'Brien, of Midland, booted home two winners yesterday at Wheeling—Rubicon in the third and Talcum Spray in the 6th. He also rode a second and third.

Bob Shirey, Hyndman, Pa., jockey, won with Lula Chatter in the 5th ($12.20) and piloted two place horeses.

Philadelphia A's Blast Yankees' Pennant Hopes

Carl Scheib Masters New Yorkers, 5 To 2

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 28 (INS) —The New York Yankees' pennant hopes were virtually blasted today when Carl Scheib scored a 5 to 2 victory for the Philadelphia A's.

The defeat dropped the Yankees a game and a half behind the pacesetting Cleveland Indians, who meet the Chicago White Sox in a night game.

The strapping young right-handed hurler shut out the Yankees until the ninth when Joe Collins, a rookie from the Yanks' Newark farm, accounted for two runs with a pinch double.

That was the only time in the important game when the Yankees managed to utilize any of their 11 hits as they advanced to within four games of the season's finish.

While Scheib was spinning his 14th victory of the year the Athletics were pounding out 10 hits against Vic Raschi, the loser, Joe Page and Allie Reynolds.

Raschi was driven to cover in the third by a barrage of three hits, including a triple by Ferris Fain. Page then was nicked for a double by Sam Chapman and the A's had rolled up a commanding 4 to 0 edge, which Scheib protected all the way.

The A's previously had scored in the first inning on Eddie Joost's leadoff triple and Barney McCosky's single. They picked up their fifth run in the fifth on Joost's walk, a sacrifice, Joost's leadoff triple and Barney McCosky's single. They picked up their fifth run in the fifth on Joost's walk, a sacrifice, Joost's theft of third and Hank Majeski's single. Box:

Tribe Gets 13 Hits, Bearden Notches Win

CLEVELAND, Sept. 29 (AP)—Backing Gene Bearden's shutout pitching with a 13-hit attack, the Cleveland Indians walloped the Chicago White Sox, 11 to 0 tonight, to open up a two-game lead over Boston and New York in the American League pennant race.

The victory, Cleveland's third straight and 17th in their last 20 games, gave the Tribe a strangle hold on the flag, since each of the three contenders has only four games remaining. The Red Sox and Yankees, deadlocked for second place, set the stage for the Indians' almost insurmountable lead by losing

FRIDAY GAMES
Central at Barton
Bruce at Flintstone

A field goal by Emmett Brennan, center forward, midway in the second period enabled Coach Paul Footen's Barton High School soccer team to defeat Beall High's defending champions by the score of 1 to 0 in a W. M. I. Soccer League contest yesterday at Frostburg.

The victory was Barton's first of the season against a single loss while the setback was the second straight for the Mountain City eleven.

Brennan hammered the ball between the uprights for the lone tally from about ten yards out after Barton's backs blocked Beall's free kick and the visitors marched down the field.

Highlighting the close game was the defensive play of Bill Kirk, goalie, and Fullback Tichnell, who were in Beall's hair all afternoon breaking up plays in front of the uprights.

Coach Johnny Meyers' Central Hight School aggregation from Lonaconing retained first place in the five-team circuit by scoring its second straight victory of the season at the expense of Flintstone High School on the latter's field. The score was 4-1.

Flintstone held the Orange and Black to a 1-0 score in the first half but the 'Coney team sewed up the game with two goals in the third period.

Ronald Roland scored Flintstone's only goal in the third period. Ray Ralston registered twice from the field and Alan Stafford and Cameron each scored once for the league leaders. The lineups:

Cincinnati Reds Buy "Citation" Merriman

Merriman, a former Stanford football star from Clovis, Cal., led the league with runs scored, triples and stolen bases. He batted .298 scored 120 times, had 18 triples, and stole 42 bases. He was known as "Citation" to the Columbia fans.

3,000 "JURY BOX" SEATS ARE SNATCHED SWIFTLY AT BOSTON

BOSTON, Sept. 28 (AP)—Three thousand unreserved bleacher tickets offered at $1 each by the Boston Braves for their first two world series home games were swiftly snatched up by fans today and some 2,000 would-be purchasers were turned away disappointed.

The first 300 in line who queued up before 10 windows this morning had kept an overnight vigil outside the box office to insure getting their "jury box" seats. Braves officials estimated at 2,000 the number still in line when the tickets were exhausted.

Robinson Clouts Home Run In 13th To Defeat Braves

Erskine Of Dodgers Scores 9-8 Victory

NEW YORK, Sept. 28 (INS) — The Brooklyn Dodgers, now ex-champions since the Braves clinched the 1948 National League pennant, today trimmed Boston 9 to 8 on Jackie Robinson's 13th inning home run.

The Dodgers got 18 hits but were held scoreless from the seventh inning to the 13th.

Jeff Heath and Frank McCormick banged homers for Boston in the sixth and eighth innings respectively.

Rookie Carl Erskine pitched one inning — the 13th — to gain the win, the third time this season he has won a game by hurling only one inning. Box:

REDS LOSE TO CUBS

CHICAGO, Sept. 28 (AP) — The Cincinnati Reds became co-tenants with the Chicago Cubs of the National League cellar today as they dropped a 6 to 2 decision to the Chicagoans.

Lefty Bob McCall pitched the Cubs to victory, his third of the season, as Johnny Vander Meer weakened in the late innings. The Cubs jolted the veteran Cincinnati southpaw for two runs on three hits in the sixth. They added three more in the seventh when they mixed two singles with some fuzzy defensive play by the Reds. A final tally came in the eighth when Roy Smalley hit a home run. Box:

Bucs Release Queen, Wilson To Hoosiers

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 28 (AP)—The Pittsburgh Pirates today released outright pitcher Mel Queen and infielder Grady Wilson to Indianapolis of the American Association.

Queen was purchased from the New York Yankees last season. He won four and lost seven in 1947 for the Bucs and had a record of four and four this year.

The Pirates obtained Wilson on waivers from the Philadelphia Phils last April. Used in utility roles, he was optioned to the New Orleans Club of the Southern Association in July.

Players are: Tommy Holmes (1); Earl Torgeson (9); Jeff Heath (4) and Connie Ryan (8).

Oakland High Wins Overtime Contest

Corner Kicks Decide Tilt At Friendsville

FRIENDSVILLE, Md., Sept. 28 — Oakland High School's soccer team opened its season with a victory over the booters of Friendsville High School here today, corner kicks deciding the issue after the teams battled two extra five-minute periods to a 3-3 draw.

Leland Byrd Reports To Knicks On Friday

MORGANTOWN, W. Va., Sept. 28 — Lefty Leland Byrd, West Virginia basketball star for the past four years, will report Friday to the professional New York Knickerbockers for training at Bear Mountain, N.Y.

Byrd set a new Mountaineer scoring record of 997 points during his four-year varsity career. He was permitted to play as a freshman under war time rules. The three-year mark of 774 points was established by Jack Gocke in 1935-37.

Two years ago the Matoaka, W. Va., southpaw was a first team All-American choice by the Helms Foundation. He closed out his brilliant career last season by winning a place on the Eastern All-Star squad for its annual charity battle with the West in New York's Madison Square Garden.

Allen And Britt Will Broadcast World Series

NEW YORK, Sept. 28 (INS)—The Mutual Broadcasting System announced today that sports announcers Mel Allen and Jim Britt will broadcast the play-by-play of the 1948 world series.

The series, which is scheduled to begin Oct. 6, will be broadcast exclusively by Mutual and will be relayed around the world by the Armed Forces Radio Service.

Simmons' Drop Kicks Amaze Football Fans

MORGANTOWN, W. Va., Sept. 28—The amazing thing about little Gene Simmons, West Virginia University dropkicker, is not so much that he has revived a lost art but that he doesn't take a step forward when his toe meets the ball. Old timers who saw plenty of dropkicking in the earlier days of football claim Simmons is the first dropkicker they've ever watched who plants himself and boots from that stance.

The Elkins, W. Va., sophomore, who dropkicked 61 in 68 extra points during his high school career, already has been responsible for nine of the Mountaineers' 63 points in two games. He had two conversions and a field goal against Waynesburg and four points after touchdown in the Wooster contest. So far he's had three misses.

The misses have so irked the 147-pounder that he has increased his daily practice from two to three hours.

LaSalle, Fort Hill Complete Plans For Grid Game Friday

Gates To Open At 6:30, Officials Are Chosen

Arrangements for the 20th meeting of LaSalle High School and Fort Hill High School on the gridiron Friday night were completed at a meeting yesterday between representatives of th local school.

Among things ettled at yesterday's session which was attended by Victor D. Heisey, principal, and John J. "Bobby" Cavanaugh, of Fort Hill and Brother F. Patrick and Brother Gregory of LaSalle, were:

1. LaSalle will be the home team.

2. All gates at the stadium will be open at 6:30 p. m., and the game will get under way at 8 p. m.

3. There will be no reserved seats sold. LaSalle passes will be honored.

4. LaSalle's student body and fans will occupy Sections B, C and D in the concrete stands.

5. Fort Hill's student body and fans will occupy the wooden bleachers and section "A" in the concrete stands.

6. The winning team will receive the ball. In event of a tie the teams will toss for the ball.

7. Tickets for the game may be purchased at both schools, Truitt's Drug Store, Wilson Hardware Company, Sport Shop, Shober's Restaurant, "Cotton" Geatz's Restaurant and at the homes of the Frostburg and Cumberland Knights of Columbus.

William P. Hahn, Fort Hill coach, announced last evening that officials for the game will be Dan Staley, referee; Gordon Eisman, umpire, and Ed Milbrada, head linesman. Mr. Eisman is principal of Charles Town (W. Va.) High School.

McClellan Posts 180 For Highest Average In Social Dux League

"Bud" McClellan led the pin spillers of the Social Bowling League for the season just concluded by turning in high average of 180.

He toppled over 200 pins 18 times, his highest score for one game being 249. In eight matches he spilled more than 500 maples, his best score for the set being 587. He also turned in totals of 617, 621 and 651 for three games.

The doubles championship was won by Dan Langer and William McDermott with a score of 1,081.

Amvets' Eleven Plays In Hagerstown Tonight

Coach Buck Shober's Cumberland Amvets football team will meet the Dorsey Marketeers tonight at the Hagerstown Municipal Stadium at 8:30 o'clock.

Hagerstown defeated the locals last year by the score of 33-0 and will be favored in tonight's contest. The local team will leave from the Amvets' Home at 4 p. m. Twenty-five players will make the trip.

The Amvets' probable starting lineup will include:

Washington Twirler Bags 14th Triumph

BOSTON, Sept. 28 (INS)—Washington's Rae Scarborough pitched and batted the Senators to a six-hit, 4 to 2 win over the slumping Red Sox today to drop Boston 1½ games behind Cleveland in the hectic American League pennant scramble.

The Senators, who heretofore had lost 13 of 19 games with Boston, pinned the faltering Red Sox with their ninth defeat in 15 contests.

Scarborough won his 14th game by checking the Red Sox sluggers with the exception of Bobby Doerr who poled his 26th home run with none on in the sixth. Otherwise the Senators' ace was in complete charge.

Joe Dobson, seeking his 17th win was hammered from the hill in the second. Washington loaded the bases with none out on Mickey Vernon's double, a walk to Ed Yost, and a crisp single by Mark Christman.

Red Sox first baseman Bill Goodman then threw Jake Early's grounder wild to the plate and Vernon scored. Scarborough added two more tallies with a single and Al Kozar completed the scoring with a run-producing safety.

Lefthander Mickey Harris arrived to relieve Dobson and silenced the Senators the rest of the way.

Beard Uses Crutches, Suffers Ankle Sprain

BLACKSBURG, Va., Sept. 28 (AP)—Gloom appeared over the Virginia Tech football camp today as veteran fullback Ralph Beard, of Cumberland, Md., appeared on crutches with a badly sprained ankle, suffered last Saturday in the George Washington game.

Roger Neel, sophomore from Barboursville, W. Va., is being groomed for the fullback slot. Though it was reported that Beard was not definitely out of next Saturday's game with Virginia, it was doubtful whether he would be in the starting lineup.

George Leib Heads Shuffleboard Loop

League Hopes To Open Season With 12 Teams

George M. Leib, of the local Purple Heart Chapter, was elected president; Charles Morgan, vice president and Robert "Ace" Baker was re-elected secretary-treasurer at a meeting of the National Shuffleboard League of Allegany County last night at the K. of C. Home.

Ten teams, namely, Amvets, K. of C., Redmen, Owls, Veterans of Foreign Wars, South End Republican Club, Viaduct Inn, Military Order of the Purple Heart, all of Cumberland, Cresap Tavern of Cresaptown and the Century A. C., of Frostburg.

The league hopes to start the season with twelve teams.

The deadline for entering teams in the circuit is October 14 when the next meeting will be held at the K. of C. Home at 8 p. m.

Last season the K. of C. won the championship by the margin of three games.

Jim Browning of Cumberland Council, Knights of Columbus, last night announced that 1,750 reserved seat tickets are now on sale for the football game between West Virginia University Freshmen and the University of Maryland freshmen to be played at the local stadium Thursday, November 18 at 8 p. m.

Tickets may be purchased at the local K. of C. Home, Wilson Hardware Company, Sport Shop and Porter's Restaurant.

The K. of C. are sponsoring the game.

SCHOOLBOY GRIDDER DIES OF INJURIES

ABINGTON, Mass., Sept. 28. (AP)—A 16-year-old Abington High School football player died today and a second—also 16—was in a serious condition from injuries suffered within the past week in a game and in practice scrimmage.

Edward Snyder, Jr., died this morning where he was taken a week ago today with a ruptured spleen suffered in a practice scrimmage.

SOFTBALL TWIN BILL SCHEDULED SUNDAY

Softball teams will engage in a doubleheader Sunday at Community Park for the benefit of Umpire George Leith.

In the opening game the Rocking Chair League All-Stars will play a team from the County League at 2 p. m., while in the nightcap the Frostburg League All-Stars will do battle with the City League All-Stars.

Last Sunday the City Leaguers won two games from the Rocking Chair League All-Stars.

Arrangements for Sunday's twin bill are in charge of the Cumberland Junior Association of Commerce.

Johnson Scores TKO

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 28 (AP)—Unbeaten light-heavyweight Harold Johnson of Philadelphia unleashed rights and lefts with murderous fury tonight to score a technical knockout over Agostino Guedes, Palmerton, Pa., in 2.16 of the third round in the featured 10-rounder at Convention Hall. Johnson weighed 176, Guedes 186.

LOUIS WAINGOLD'S DIXIES SEAMAN PAYS $56.60 AT WHEELING

Dixies Seaman, a seven-year-old gelding, owned by Louis Waingold of the Boulevard Hotel Apartments, this city, scored his second victory in five days at Wheeling (W. Va.) Downs yesterday, romping home first in the eighth race to return $56.60, $21 and $7.40 for $2 win, place and show tickets.

Waingold purchased Dixies Seaman at a private sale at a New England track last April and the horse scored its first win under new ownership last Thursday at Wheeling, copping the eighth race and paying $10.20, $3.60 and $2.80.

H. McKinney, negro jockey, was aboard Dixies Seaman in both winning starts.

Dixies Seaman raced at Fairgo and Hagerstown before being sent to Wheeling. Waingold also owns Sobre Todes and Coral Water.

Pat O'Brien, of Midland, booted home two winners yesterday at Wheeling—Rubicon in the third and Talcum Spray in the 6th. He also rode a second and third.

Bob Shirey, Hyndman, Pa., jockey, won with Lula Chatter in the 5th ($12.20) and piloted two place horeses.

Philadelphia A's Blast Yankees' Pennant Hopes

Carl Scheib Masters New Yorkers, 5 To 2

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 28 (INS) —The New York Yankees' pennant hopes were virtually blasted today when Carl Scheib scored a 5 to 2 victory for the Philadelphia A's.

The defeat dropped the Yankees a game and a half behind the pace-setting Cleveland Indians, who meet the Chicago White Sox in a night game.

The strapping young right-handed hurler shut out the Yankees until the ninth when Joe Collins, a rookie from the Yanks' Newark farm, accounted for two runs with a pinch double.

That was the only time in the important game when the Yankees managed to utilise any of their 11 hits as they advanced to within four games of the season's finish.

While Scheib was spinning his 14th victory of the year the Athletics were pounding out 10 hits against Vic Raschi, the loser, Joe Page and Allie Reynolds.

Raschi was driven to cover in the third by a barrage of three hits, including a triple by Ferris Pain. Page then was nicked for a double by Sam Chapman and the A's had rolled up a commanding 4 to 0 edge, which Scheib protected all the way.

The A's previously had scored in the first inning on Eddie Joost's leadoff triple and Barney McCosky's single. They picked up their fifth run in the fifth on Joost's walk, a sacrifice, Joost's leadoff triple and Barney McCosky's single. They picked up their fifth run in the fifth on Joost's walk, a sacrifice, Joost's theft of third and Hank Majeski's single. Box:

Tribe Gets 13 Hits, Bearden Notches Win

CLEVELAND, Sept. 29 (AP)—Backing Gene Bearden's shutout pitching with a 13-hit attack, the Cleveland Indians walloped the Chicago White Sox, 11 to 0 tonight, to open up a two-game lead over Boston and New York in the American League pennant race.

The victory, Cleveland's third straight and 17th in their last 20 games, gave the Tribe a strangle hold on the flag, since each of the three contenders has only four games remaining. The Red Sox and Yankees, deadlocked for second place, set the stage for the Indians' almost insurmountable lead by losing their afternoon games.

More than 45,000,000 pieces of literature were distributed by the American Cancer Society during its 1947 campaign for $12,000,000.

Cancer is not contagious and is painful only in advanced stages. Frequent medical exams are the best safeguard against this disease.

Edwards Promoted To B. And O. Post

A former superintendent of the Cumberland Division of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, John Edwards, Jr., has been promoted to general manager of the line's Central Region, it was announced yesterday.

Edwards will succeed John D. Beltz, who will retire Thursday after being employed by the railroad for 51 years. Edwards will have his headquarters in Pittsburgh. He has been general superintendent of transportation for the B. and O. with headquarters in Baltimore.

Other promotions included:

P. K. Partee, superintendent of the Baltimore Division, becomes general superintendent transportation, succeeding Edwards.

W. M. Murphey, superintendent, Baltimore Terminal Division, becomes superintendent, Baltimore Division, succeeding Partee.

J. D. Warfield, assistant superintendent, Baltimore division, becomes superintendent, Baltimore Terminal Division, succeeding Murphey.

J. A. Curtis, trainmaster, Monongah Division, becomes trainmaster, West End, Baltimore Division, succeeding Stevens.

F. G. Hoskins, Jr., assistant trainmaster, Baltimore Division, becomes trainmaster on the Monongah Division, suceeding Curtis.

T. M. Cavey, road foreman of engines, Baltimore Terminal Division, becomes assistant trainmaster, Baltimore Division, succeeding Hoskins.

L. K. Swint, assistant road foreman of engines, Baltimore Division, becomes road foreman of engines, Baltimore Terminal Division, succeeding Cavey.

J. G. Stewart, assistant road foreman of engines, Brunswick, becomes assistant road foreman of engines, Baltimore Division, succeeding Swint.

Will Probated

The will of Rachel Miller Marriott, this city, who died September 4, was admitted to probate in Orphans Court yesterday with her two sons, Paul M. Marriott and Oliver Stewart Marriott, being named joint executors and sole beneficiaries. Bond was furnished by the executors in the amount of $4,000.

Cancer is not confined to the aged. Only half of those who died of this disease last year were over 65 years of age.

MONEY ...to consolidate bills

You can get a cash loan here quickly and privately, on the friendly basis that made Personal Finance Co. the choice of over one million persons last year.

"I'm Sold On You!"

You don't have to ask others to sign with you here. No "board" or committee passes on your loan. Friends or employer not notified.

Simple To Get

If you can repay small monthly instalments—which you select to fit your purse—you should not hesitate to see Personal's YES MAN for a loan at once. Come in or telephone.

HOW TO REDUCE Your Monthly PAYMENTS

By "lumping" all your bills or credit accounts into one place, you can usually cut way down the total of your monthly payments.

We do this for our customers every day. We'll be glad to tell you, without charge, just how much we can cut your payments.

Loans up to $1000

Open Monday thru Friday from 9 to 5. Closed Saturday. Evenings by appointment.

More than 45,000,000 pieces of literature were distributed by the American Cancer Society during its 1947 campaign for $12,000,000.

Cancer is not contagious and is painful only in advanced stages. Frequent medical exams are the best safeguard against this disease.

Edwards Promoted To B. And O. Post

A former superintendent of the Cumberland Division of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, John Edwards, Jr., has been promoted to general manager of the line's Central Region, it was announced yesterday.

Edwards will succeed John D. Beltz, who will retire Thursday after being employed by the railroad for 51 years. Edwards will have his headquarters in Pittsburgh. He has been general superintendent of transportation for the B. and O. with headquarters in Baltimore.

Other promotions included:

P. K. Partee, superintendent of the Baltimore Division, becomes general superintendent transportation, succeeding Edwards.

W. M. Murphey, superintendent, Baltimore Terminal Division, becomes superintendent, Baltimore Division, succeeding Partee.

J. D. Warfield, assistant superintendent, Baltimore division, becomes superintendent, Baltimore Terminal Division, succeeding Murphey.

J. A. Curtis, trainmaster, Monongah Division, becomes trainmaster, West End, Baltimore Division, succeeding Stevens.

F. G. Hoskins, Jr., assistant trainmaster, Baltimore Division, becomes trainmaster on the Monongah Division, succeeding Curtis.

T. M. Cavey, road foreman of engines, Baltimore Terminal Division, becomes assistant trainmaster, Baltimore Division, succeeding Hoskins.

L. K. Swint, assistant road foreman of engines, Baltimore Division, becomes road foreman of engines, Baltimore Terminal Division, succeeding Cavey.

J. G. Stewart, assistant road foreman of engines, Brunswick, becomes assistant road foreman of engines, Baltimore Division, succeeding Swint.

Will Probated

The will of Rachel Miller Marriott, this city, who died September 4, was admitted to probate in Orphans Court yesterday with her two sons, Paul M. Marriott and Oliver Stewart Marriott, being named joint executors and sole beneficiaries. Bond was furnished by the executors in the amount of $4,000.

Cancer is not confined to the aged. Only half of those who died of this disease last year were over 65 years of age.

County Urged To Lift Bounty On Hawks, Owls

The Allegany County Board of Commissioners received a letter yesterday from Joseph A. Minke, regional game warden, stating that the county bounty on hawks and owls should be removed.

Minke stated that he received a letter from Kendrick Y. Hodgdon, science teacher at Central High School, Lonaconing, in which the teacher deplored the bounty on the two species birds as being harmful and not necessary. Minke said he concurred in Hodgdon's reasons why the bounty should be lifted.

The regional game warden stated that even the most harmful species of hawks and owls are no longer plentiful and no trouble to farmer's poultry.

John T. Fey, attorney to the board, said the county commissioners only set the amounts of bounty and as far as the law goes it is a state regulation.

Twenty-five cents of each dollar raised by the American Cancer Society is spent on research.

MIRROR Of Your MIND

By LAWRENCE GOULD
Consulting Psychologist

Can hostility be the first stage of love?

Answer: Yes. Writers of fiction who picture their heroines falling in love with men they start by "hating" show sound insight into human nature. For example, you may fall in love with someone because he has qualities which you admire and envy, but which you believe may make him so much superior to you that you would not interest him, or conversely, because he embodies a side of yourself which you've been trying to repress and are ashamed to admit. In either case, telling yourself that you hate him seems the safest way out.

Should a new-born baby "room in" with its mother?

Answer: In most cases, yes, if it is practicable. There's a growing trend toward the practice of keeping a new-born baby in his mother's room instead of in a "baby ward," and letting her take full care of him as soon as she is able. This has real and permanent advantages for both, provided the mother is a healthy, well-adjusted person. But if she is tense and anxious, or inclined to "over-stimulate" her child by trying too hard to rouse his attention, "rooming-in" is unwise. A competent doctor is the best judge.

Is a timid person a would-be dictator?

Answer: Yes, although he would not dare admit it, even to himself. The way in which we assume that "people in general" feel toward us is at bottom a projection of the way we feel toward them. Hence the person who feels that the slightest act of self-assertion would turn everyone against him is unconsciously attributing to others the same wish to dominate him, and to punish him if he refuses to obey them, that has been his secret dream since he developed his first grievance against those who "bossed" him when he was a baby.

...with your automatic GAS clothes dryer

When it rains—you shine

—your Automatic Gas Clothes Dryer fluff-dries clothes ready for ironing as fast as your washer can wash them. You never knew you could finish a big wash so fast... so easy. You never saw such spotlessly clean clothes.

No more stoop and stretch

Say goodbye to the wearying drudgery of picking up each wet piece and then reaching high to pin it to the line. No more lines to stretch . . . no rushing out to get clothes in out of the rain.

Wash and iron the same day!

With an Automatic Gas Clothes Dryer, every washday is completely automatic from start to finish! You wash and dry in the morning! It's all fast, automatic. And it's so easy, you'll have plenty of pep in the afternoon to iron.

Now your clothes are really clean and sterile

Your speedy Automatic Gas Clothes Dryer fluff-dries at high temperature—190°. Sanitizes fabrics, in many respects, more effectively than sunlight. Hospitals and commercial laundries use high heat for sanitary washing.

Your weight-lifting days are over

No heavy baskets of wet clothes to tote to the yard. You merely transfer clothes direct from washer to your Automatic Gas Clothes Dryer. While one load washes, the previous load dries.

Is a timid person a would-be dictator?

Answer: Yes, although he would not dare admit it, even to himself. The way in which we assume that "people in general" feel toward us is at bottom a projection of the way we feel toward them. Hence the person who feels that the slightest act of self-assertion would turn everyone against him is unconsciously attributing to others the same wish to dominate him, and to punish him if he refuses to obey them, that has been his secret dream since he developed his first grievance against those who "bossed" him when he was a baby.

When it rains—you shine

—your Automatic Gas Clothes Dryer fluff-dries clothes ready for ironing as fast as your washer can wash them. You never knew you could finish a big wash so fast... so easy. You never saw such spotlessly clean clothes.

Say goodbye to the wearying drudgery of picking up each wet piece and then reaching high to pin it to the line. No more lines to stretch . . . no rushing out to get clothes in out of the rain.

With an Automatic Gas Clothes Dryer, every washday is completely automatic from start to finish! You wash and dry in the morning! It's all fast, automatic. And it's so easy, you'll have plenty of pep in the afternoon to iron.

Your speedy Automatic Gas Clothes Dryer fluff-dries at high temperature—190°. Sanitizes fabrics, in many respects, more effectively than sunlight. Hospitals and commercial laundries use high heat for sanitary washing.

No heavy baskets of wet clothes to tote to the yard. You merely transfer clothes direct from washer to your Automatic Gas Clothes Dryer. While one load washes, the previous load dries.

Express Worker Hurt In B&O Wreck

ST. MARYS, W. Va., Sept. 28 (AP)—The Baltimore and Ohio Railroad's Ohio Valley Express hit a defective rail near here early today, derailing the engine, tender and three cars.

One man was hurt in the mishap. Lawrence See, Parkersburg, an employe of the Railway Express Company who was riding in one of the derailed cars, injured an arm and was taken to a Parkersburg Hospital. His condition was not believed to be serious.

The engine, tender, baggage car, express car and one truck of a coach which followed left the rails. The coach remained standing, however, and none of the passengers was reported injured.

A second coach, which was empty, and the Pullman car on the rear of the train stayed on the track.

Traffic on the Ohio River Division was delayed for several hours while crews cleared the wreckage and repaired the damage to the track.

German press reports persisted that the Russians are creating a German Army in the Soviet Zone masked as police.

The speculation is that the Russians, using Moscow-indoctrinated Germans captured during the war, are preparing an armed force to take over after the withdrawal of Soviet troops on the pattern of such a Soviet plan in Korea.

He said France no more than Poland would think or reviving a Germany equipped for aggression. But he said France would not repeat the mistake of the last war when Germany, "handed over to unemployment and isolation," turned to Hitler.

Schuman said the situation in Berlin was getting worse. He said there ought to be four-power control but there was a "minimum of good will" among "our Russian partners."

He said the Berlin blockade was an act of force which direct negotiations had failed to halt.

A Soviet spokesman at the assembly answered speculation that the Russians might boycott the Berlin issue in the Security Council. He said persons spreading such reports must be responsible for them, that Russia would be there.

Donna Jean Oliver Becomes Bride Of Lawrence W. Ward

PARSONS, W. Va.—Miss Donna Jean Oliver, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald A. Oliver, Parsons, was married to Lawrence W. Ward, son of Mrs. Ray Ward, Crystal Springs, and the late Ray Ward, in a simple but impressive ceremony on the lawn of the bride's home in Parsons at 11:30 a. m. September 18. The ceremony was read by Rev. Walter W. White of South Charleston, a brother-in-law of the bridegroom before an archway of Japanese yew and decorations of baskets of dahlias and mums.

Before the ceremony Miss Carolyn Jane Lambert, Parsons, sang "Indian Love Call" and "Through the Years" and also played the traditional wedding marches for the ceremony.

The bride was married in a white wool crepe dress with taffeta line cascade back effect and wore a white velvet bonnet trimmed with vari-colored pink veiling fastened with a pin worn by her mother at her wedding. She carried an old-fashioned nosegay of babybreath and pink rosebuds and carried a handkerchief owned by her grandmother.

Nancy Caroline Oliver, a sister of the bride, was maid of honor and wore a rose colored taffeta dress with sheer veil held in place by pink velvet roses. She carried a nosegay of pink roses.

Following the ceremony a reception was held for the immediate families after which the couple left for a honeymoon with the bride traveling in a suit of blue plaid with a white beret and antique red shoes and bag.

Mrs. Ward is a graduate of Parsons High School and studied fashion illustration at the Art Institute of Pittsburgh. She has recently been employed by the art staff of Cain Sloans in Nashville, Tenn.

Mr. Ward, a graduate of Elkins High School and of the Forestry School of the University of Michigan, is a member of Kappa Sigma fraternity. At present he is employed as a game technician by the State Conservation Commission. During World War II he served as a bombardier in the 8th Air Force in Europe.

Among the out-of-town guests at the wedding were Betty Ann Winsett, Pittsburgh, Pa.; Jean Hayden, Lansing, Mich.; Mrs. Rena Ripley, Fenton, Mich.; Mrs. Page Triplett, Baltimore, Md.; Mr. and Mrs. Harry Toadvine, Arlington, Va.; Mr. and Mrs. Willard Ward, Arlington, Va.; Rev. and Mrs. W. CELANESE WORKERS ARE ON STRIKE!

AT ROME, GEORGIA

● Eighteen hundred Celanese workers in Rome, Georgia, are now entering the seventh week of their strike.

● They are striking in demand for the same wage increase that was won here in Cumberland on August 8, 1948 . . . an increase of fifteen cents per hour on base rates.

● The Rome, Georgia, workers of Celanese Corporation are members of the Textile Workers Union of America, C.I.O. The members of Local 1874 T.W.U.A. in Cumberland intend to support the Rome, Georgia, Celanese strikers to the limit.

● Every major rayon corporation has granted a wage increase of fifteen cents per hour . . . with the exception of the Celanese Corporation, which has offered an increase of only eight cents per hour to the Rome, Georgia, strikers.

● Celanese Corporation has managed to maneuver its Celco, Narrows, Virginia plant workers into accepting an eleven cent hourly raise. The workers there are represented at present by District 50, U.M.W.A.

● The further south that Celanese Corporation Rayon Textile units move, the lower and lower wage they offer their employees. BUT, they charge the same price . . . for their yarns and fabrics regardless of pay scales at their different plants.

● Everyone in this community is affected by the Celanese Corporation "policy." We draw your special attention to the editorial reprinted below from the "Floyd County Herald" of Rome, Georgia, September 23, issue.

EDITORIAL

A couple of days ago one of our good friends accosted us on the street with the remark, "Was last week's edition of the Floyd County Herald written, edited and presided over by the Textile Workers Union of America?"

That query, lightly tossed off by a fellow ranking high among this community's most capable men, hurt us deeply.

The answer, of course, is NO. The Floyd County Herald has at no time, editorially or otherwise, taken a stand with regard to the strike currently snarling the big Rome unit of the Celanese Corporation of America. What is more, this newspaper has no intention of committing itself in the future for or against the contesting forces.

It is unfortunately true, however, that our paper last week contained nothing but stories presenting the union point of view. As an objective newspaper dedicated to giving its public the whole picture, this circumstance cut us more deeply than perhaps many of our readers appreciate. Before putting the paper on the street, it had been our honest desire to present all angles of the economic disaster now in its sixth week.

We were thwarted by one grievous development: the company declined to talk. Earlier in the month, we gave our readers a general view of the Celanese attitude, but after that company leaders decided to clam up. Three times we have approached them for information and three times have been repulsed with a no-comment dictum.

Remember, our only desire was for clarification of the strike issues so as to let the public know why Rome commerce was losing $100,000 a week. Faced with the company's keep-mum decision, we had to decide whether to junk that high purpose or keep on writing about the strike in an attempt to perform what practically everyone in Rome agrees is a badly-needed public service.

We decided to keep the strike on the front page where it belonged. If that meant presenting only union-tinged articles . . . well, the company would just have to make the best of it or get out from behind its iron curtain.

This week, as is readily noticeable, we are again discussing the strike and again in an apparently one-sided way. We hope Celanese officials will give us the opportunity next week to even the score for them.

The Floyd County Herald will never be anything but a limp rag, we contend, if its editors stop performing their public duties the moment one of the contestants in a momentous issue of the day decides to take his bat and ball and go home.

● So you can read that local opinion of the Celanese Corporation's attitude in Rome, Georgia, is not highly regarded by the local weekly newspaper.

● The Rome, Georgia strike should be of interest to everyone in this area. If Celanese can beat down its employees in the south they will be given the weapon to use in other plants, wherever they may be located.

● To date, the Celanese Corporation will not talk with the Rome Newspapers. To date, they will not talk to the representatives of their employees. To date, they will not talk to the community. To date, they will not talk to the United States Federal Conciliator. To date, they will not talk to an arbitrator.

● Let us make no mistake here in Cumberland. If Celanese can "get a way with it" in Rome, Georgia, they will be encouraged to attempt it in Cumberland.

● As far as Local 1874 Textile Workers Union of America is concerned we intend to stand shoulder to shoulder with the courageous strikers at the Rome, Georgia, plant of Celanese.

● It is not only a good Union Policy to do so . . . it is also a necessity to protect our own wage standards and our union contract.

Community Concert Association Begins Fall Membership Drive

KEYSER ,W. Va.—A campaign for membership in the Keyser Community Concert Association was launched at a dinner meeting of the officers and workers of the organization Monday night at First Presbyterian Church, here.

Present at the meeting was Don Higinbotham, organization director from the Columbia Artist Management, New York office, who outlined the duties of the workers for the week. Hikinbotham will remain in Keyser this week to assist with the campaign.

The drive will end Saturday, October 2, at 5 p. m. An effort will be made by the workers here and in the nearby communities, to make a house-to-house canvass for subscriptions. Following the closing of the campaign Saturday night the program for the season will be selected. It will depend on the number of subscriptions received, Leonard G. Withers, president of the association, explained. No subscriptions will be sold after the campaign and no single admissions will be sold at the door, the president added.

Headquarters for the campaign will be in the R. A. Pulliam Music Shop on Main Street. At least three concerts will be given during the season, and possibly a fourth if sufficient number of subscriptions are received.

Officers of the association in addition to Withers are Mrs. Naomi Watson, first vice president; Mrs. Ernest E. Church, second vice president; Mrs. Richard Troy, third vice president; Miss Janet Tyler, secretary; Mrs. Evelyn Shinn, assistant secretary; Mrs. Clyde Hott, treasurer, and Mrs. Warren Kolkhorst, assistant treasurer.

New Curriculum To Be Introduced

FROSTBURG—The new curriculum of First Presbyterian Church, entitled "Christian Faith and Life: A Program for Church and Home," will be introduced Sunday morning at 9:45 o'clock at sessions of the church school.

Material, prepared in Philadelphia by the Board of Christian Education, represents a progressive step in the field of religious education, according to Rev. John Cameron Taylor, pastor.

Present quarterlies will be replaced by reading books on each age level. Kindergarten and primary children will receive four illustrated story books each year. Juniors, junior high and senior young people will have reading books presenting the story of the Gospel, the Bible and the church.

A unique feature of the new curriculum will be five magazines for teachers and parents. Also included in the material will be three novels, "Men Called Him Master," "The Choice," and "The King Nobody Wanted," which will be used to build up a church library.

Members of the teaching staff at the Sunday School are Mrs. James C. Clark, Mrs. Dixon Martin, Mrs. David C. Morehouse, Mrs. Raymond Lapp, Miss Nellie Thomas, Mrs. Martin Hamrick Mrs. Martha Race, Mrs. James T. Taylor, Harry Miller, Miss Helen Park, Mrs. James C. Cobey and Albert T. Camp.

E. Earl Richardson is superintendent. Other officers of the church school are Rudolph Winkler, assistant superintendent; David T. Adams, Sr., secretary; and Miss Ruth Hanson, treasurer.

The new curriculum will be introduced in Presbyterian churches throughout the nation this Sunday.

Democrats Nominate Harry K. Drane

KEYSER, W. Va. — Donald C. Hott, Republican nominee for Mineral County prosecuting attorney, will be opposed in the general election November 2 by Attorney Harry K. Drane, it was announced following a meeting of the Democratic Executive Committee Monday night.

Other candidates who were named by the committee were William Marker, Fort Hill High School teacher, for member of the Mineral County Court; and Miss Irene Taylor, Keyser High School teacher, for justice of the peace in New Creek District. Two Justices of the Peace are to be elected in New Creek District, and it was indicated following Monday night's meeting that the Democrats would name another candidate in the near future.

Marker will oppose George Boyd, Piedmont insurance man, whose term as County Court member expires this year. Miss Taylor will oppose two Republican Justice of the Peace candidates, Miss Madalyn Buzzle and A. A. Hood.

Attorney Drane, who resides in Piedmont, has a law office in Keyser, and has been an active worker in the Democratic Party for many years.

Community Concert Association Begins Fall Membership Drive

KEYSER ,W. Va.—A campaign for membership in the Keyser Community Concert Association was launched at a dinner meeting of the officers and workers of the organization Monday night at First Presbyterian Church, here.

Present at the meeting was Don Higinbotham, organization director from the Columbia Artist Management, New York office, who outlined the duties of the workers for the week. Hikinbotham will remain in Keyser this week to assist with the campaign.

The drive will end Saturday, October 2, at 5 p. m. An effort will be made by the workers here and in the nearby communities, to make a house-to-house canvass for subscriptions. Following the closing of the campaign Saturday night the program for the season will be selected. It will depend on the number of subscriptions received, Leonard G. Withers, president of the association, explained. No subscriptions will be sold after the campaign and no single admissions will be sold at the door, the president added.

Headquarters for the campaign will be in the R. A. Pulliam Music Shop on Main Street. At least three concerts will be given during the season, and possibly a fourth if sufficient number of subscriptions are received.

Officers of the association in addition to Withers are Mrs. Naomi Watson, first vice president; Mrs. Ernest E. Church, second vice president; Mrs. Richard Troy, third vice president; Miss Janet Tyler, secretary; Mrs. Evelyn Shinn, assistant secretary; Mrs. Clyde Hott, treasurer, and Mrs. Warren Kolkhorst, assistant treasurer.

New Curriculum To Be Introduced

FROSTBURG—The new curriculum of First Presbyterian Church, entitled "Christian Faith and Life: A Program for Church and Home," will be introduced Sunday morning at 9:45 o'clock at sessions of the church school.

Material, prepared in Philadelphia by the Board of Christian Education, represents a progressive step in the field of religious education, according to Rev. John Cameron Taylor, pastor.

Present quarterlies will be replaced by reading books on each age level. Kindergarten and primary children will receive four illustrated story books each year. Juniors, junior high and senior young people will have reading books presenting the story of the Gospel, the Bible and the church.

A unique feature of the new curriculum will be five magazines for teachers and parents. Also included in the material will be three novels, "Men Called Him Master," "The Choice," and "The King Nobody Wanted," which will be used to build up a church library.

Members of the teaching staff at the Sunday School are Mrs. James C. Clark, Mrs. Dixon Martin, Mrs. David C. Morehouse, Mrs. Raymond Lapp, Miss Nellie Thomas, Mrs. Martin Hamrick Mrs. Martha Race, Mrs. James T. Taylor, Harry Miller, Miss Helen Park, Mrs. James C. Cobey and Albert T. Camp.

E. Earl Richardson is superintendent. Other officers of the church school are Rudolph Winkler, assistant superintendent; David T. Adams, Sr., secretary; and Miss Ruth Hanson, treasurer.

The new curriculum will be introduced in Presbyterian churches throughout the nation this Sunday.

Democrats Nominate Harry K. Drane

KEYSER, W. Va. — Donald C. Hott, Republican nominee for Mineral County prosecuting attorney, will be opposed in the general election November 2 by Attorney Harry K. Drane, it was announced following a meeting of the Democratic Executive Committee Monday night.

Other candidates who were named by the committee were William Marker, Fort Hill High School teacher, for member of the Mineral County Court; and Miss Irene Taylor, Keyser High School teacher, for justice of the peace in New Creek District. Two Justices of the Peace are to be elected in New Creek District, and it was indicated following Monday night's meeting that the Democrats would name another candidate in the near future.

Marker will oppose George Boyd, Piedmont insurance man, whose term as County Court member expires this year. Miss Taylor will oppose two Republican Justice of the Peace candidates, Miss Madalyn Buzzle and A. A. Hood.

Attorney Drane, who resides in Piedmont, has a law office in Keyser, and has been an active worker in the Democratic Party for many years.

KEEPING UP WITH

HOLLYWOOD

By LOUELLA PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 28.—(INS)—During those golden days when Shirley Temple was the most famous little girl in movies, her picture making was done on the 20th Century-Fox lot. For a long time she was one of the big money makers. Then Shirley started growing up, and like all growing girls she lost some of that childish appeal, so after "Bluebird," in 1940, she and 20th parted company.

June Duprez

Now Shirley is a charming girl of twenty and she's as lovely a young girl as she was a baby—so 20th would like to borrow her for "Mr. Belvedere Goes To College." Such an offer has gone to David Selznick.

C. B. De Mille's insistence that Hedy Lamarr withdraw her suit against Look magazine, before she signed the contract to play "Delilah" for him, is almost without precedent.

It's suprising that C. B. insisted that Hedy drop her suit, inasmuch as he fought a suit through every court in the country for what he believed was right. Hedy alleged that the story that she had undergone plastic surgery on her nose was untrue. Jerry Geisler had worked for days on the case, and an answer already had been filed by the magazine.

Jerry, who seldom says anything, gave a look that was far more expressive than words when I talked with him. Hedy had forgotten to tell him she had changed her mind about the suit.

A flash from New York that June Duprez, motion picture actress, is marrying George Moffat, Jr., food executive, this week, didn't exactly come as a surprise. June has known Moffat for a long time, but she wasn't free until her tangled matrimonial troubles with Charles Boone Smith were straightened out.

Smith had his marriage to June annulled, claiming that the ceremony they went through in Juarez, in 1945, was illegal, inasmuch as he already had a wife.

Nancy, according to my informant, is a beautiful little brunette. Clark gave her the typical Gable treatment, devoting himself to her—so much so that some of the people present said, "This is it!"

Just when you think it is going to be Dolly O'Brien, or someone else, Clark ups and picks himself a new charmer. Perhaps that is why all the gals like him so well.

Donald O'Connor belongs to Universal-International whenever he emots before a camera. But nothing in his contract prevents him from becoming a producer. So he, with three of his pals, Jackie Coogan, Jim Jordan, Jr. (Fibber McGee's boy) and Warner Taub, Jr., have formed an independent company.

The boys flew to Sacramento to file papers for Manhattan Productions. Their first move will be "Mr. Fate."

Jackie Coogan wrote the story, and with all those comedians in the set-up you might think it is a comedy—but no, it turns up a heavy drama. Donald's stint will be co-producer and director.

Snapshots of Hollywood collected a random:

Jane Winton and her husband, Michael Gottlieb, who have been so happily married, have reached a breaking point.

When Bebe Daniels couldn't go to New York with Ben Lyon to receive the award given the men and women who helped entertain during the war, Barbara Bebe, their daughter, went with him. Ben says he took her to the Stork Club and to El Morocco, and everyone thought he was out with a girl. When he introduced her they said, "Oh, yeah?" As for Barbara, she had the time of her life.

After the football game on Saturday, Charlie McCarthy, assisted by Edgar Gergen, took the Northwestern boys on a tour of Hollywood with dinner thrown in. Charlie was done up in a football uniform.

When Thomasina Mix appeared on a television show recently, she wore half a million dollars worth of "jools" that had been loaned her by her ma. In Tom Mix's heydey he covered Victoria, Thomasina's mother, with expensive jewels, the like of which has seldom been seen.

That's all today.

HOLLYWOOD

By LOUELLA PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 28.—(INS)—During those golden days when Shirley Temple was the most famous little girl in movies, her picture making was done on the 20th Century-Fox lot. For a long time she was one of the big money makers. Then Shirley started growing up, and like all growing girls she lost some of that childish appeal, so after "Bluebird," in 1940, she and 20th parted company.

June Duprez

Now Shirley is a charming girl of twenty and she's as lovely a young girl as she was a baby—so 20th would like to borrow her for "Mr. Belvedere Goes To College." Such an offer has gone to David Selznick.

C. B. De Mille's insistence that Hedy Lamarr withdraw her suit against Look magazine, before she signed the contract to play "Delilah" for him, is almost without precedent.

It's suprising that C. B. insisted that Hedy drop her suit, inasmuch as he fought a suit through every court in the country for what he believed was right. Hedy alleged that the story that she had undergone plastic surgery on her nose was untrue. Jerry Geisler had worked for days on the case, and an answer already had been filed by the magazine.

Jerry, who seldom says anything, gave a look that was far more expressive than words when I talked with him. Hedy had forgotten to tell him she had changed her mind about the suit.

A flash from New York that June Duprez, motion picture actress, is marrying George Moffat, Jr., food executive, this week, didn't exactly come as a surprise. June has known Moffat for a long time, but she wasn't free until her tangled matrimonial troubles with Charles Boone Smith were straightened out.

Smith had his marriage to June annulled, claiming that the ceremony they went through in Juarez, in 1945, was illegal, inasmuch as he already had a wife.

Nancy, according to my informant, is a beautiful little brunette. Clark gave her the typical Gable treatment, devoting himself to her—so much so that some of the people present said, "This is it!"

Just when you think it is going to be Dolly O'Brien, or someone else, Clark ups and picks himself a new charmer. Perhaps that is why all the gals like him so well.

Donald O'Connor belongs to Universal-International whenever he emots before a camera. But nothing in his contract prevents him from becoming a producer. So he, with three of his pals, Jackie Coogan, Jim Jordan, Jr. (Fibber McGee's boy) and Warner Taub, Jr., have formed an independent company.

The boys flew to Sacramento to file papers for Manhattan Productions. Their first move will be "Mr. Fate."

Jackie Coogan wrote the story, and with all those comedians in the set-up you might think it is a comedy—but no, it turns up a heavy drama. Donald's stint will be co-producer and director.

Snapshots of Hollywood collected a random:

Jane Winton and her husband, Michael Gottlieb, who have been so happily married, have reached a breaking point.

When Bebe Daniels couldn't go to New York with Ben Lyon to receive the award given the men and women who helped entertain during the war, Barbara Bebe, their daughter, went with him. Ben says he took her to the Stork Club and to El Morocco, and everyone thought he was out with a girl. When he introduced her they said, "Oh, yeah?" As for Barbara, she had the time of her life.

After the football game on Saturday, Charlie McCarthy, assisted by Edgar Gergen, took the Northwestern boys on a tour of Hollywood with dinner thrown in. Charlie was done up in a football uniform.

When Thomasina Mix appeared on a television show recently, she wore half a million dollars worth of "jools" that had been loaned her by her ma. In Tom Mix's heydey he covered Victoria, Thomasina's mother, with expensive jewels, the like of which has seldom been seen.

That's all today.

Amateur Hour To Get Regular Spot On ABC's Network

By C. E. BUTTERFIELD

NEW YORK, Sept. 28—Return of the Amateur hour, already re-established in television, as well as vacation ends for Bing Crosby and Groucho Marx take place all on the same ABC network Wednesday night.

The Amateur hour is patterned after the former Major Bowes shows, even to the style of announcing. It will have an hour at 8 p. m. under a sponsor, the same one that it is taking in on for Dumont television, where it has been running east coast network since January. Ted Mack is M. C.

In coming back for this third ABC season, Crosby at 10 will have Claudette Colbert and his four sons as guests. The boys are singers, too.

The Groucho Marx show, a quizz with quips, will be given back its former 9:30 time on ABC. . . Another quiz is now extant on CBS at 10. It bears the title of Time's a-Wastin'.

MBS reports that "Can You Top This" ex-NBC, is going on at 8. . . The Quiz Kids are the youth month guests for the James Melton concert on CBS at 9:30.

The only announced political broadcast is a Liberal party program on ABC at 10:45 on behalf of Truman and Barkley.

RADIO IN REVIEW

By JOHN CROSBY

The Crystal Ball

Crystal-gazing about the future of television is risky business right now. Nevertheless I think a recent report by the Television Research Institute makes provocative reading if you keep in mind that this is crystal-gazing and nothing else. "Hollywood as we know it is on the way out," says an arresting sentence at the conclusion of the report.

John Crosby

Polls show, the institute declares, that possession of a television set already has changed movie habits to a startling degree. Once the set arrives, movie attendance drops off 20 per cent. "Even the most ardent supporter of video-as-it-is must put television at the lowest level of entertainment," says the institute with remarkable candor. "Its heavy, water-logged cameras are almost immobile. It lacks one of radio's greatest advantages, the imagination of the listener. . . If in its present defective state, the television set can reduce screen attendance by 20 per cent, what will happen when video entertainment creeps out of its swaddling clothes and becomes adult amusement?"

The institute never quite answers this question but it provides an illuminating lesson in economics. When the drain on movie attendance due to television gets really serious, the report says, the three, four or five million dollar picture simply won't return its investment. (The institute, incidentally, kindly refrained from pointing out that the movie makers had budget troubles aplenty this year without losing an appreciable part of their audience to television.)

In recent years Hollywood has succeeded only rarely in turning out first rate pictures for as little as $1,000,000. Yet with the prospect of sharply diminished income the demand for pictures will — and these are conservative estimates — three to four times greater, including the demands for video film. Will the advertiser's dollar make up the difference? The institute says absolutely not.

Last year the nation's biggest advertiser, Proctor & Gamble, spent $28,000,000 in advertising, of which $16,500,000 went to radio. If every cent of the last figure was spent on movie production, the institute figures it would make only thirty-three fairly low-budgeted pictures and P & G certainly can't be expected to gamble its entire resources on thirty-three television shows. The smaller advertisers — General Motors for example, with $2,000,000 alloted last year to network radio — couldn't begin to afford feature films at present costs, no matter how bad.

Major movie producers are considering two types of film — one for theaters, one for video — but, in the light of present experience, the institute feels that the set owners will prefer free films at home, particularly after better fidelity is achieved, to paid attendance at better films in the theaters.

"There will be in the next few years many more pictures produced than ever before," concludes the report. "They will be turned out at a cost level undreamed of by today's cinemoguls. There will be fewer spectacle pictures, more and more Hollywood output designed for television's smaller screens. By the time video makers install their hoped-for 24,000,000 sets, it seems likely that the motion picture marqee will no longer cast its shadow over pavements."

To carry this reasoning a little farther than the institute cared to go, a lot of other things seem likely too. If three or four times as many pictures are made for, say, half as much money, the future quality of the cinema — whether seen at home or in a theater — seems bound to decline. We'll see more pictures and much worse ones. Movie salaries will shrink drastically. Prices for novels and plays will tumble possibly to one-tenth their present inflated levels. The legitimate theater may again be able to compete with Hollywood for talented writers and actors. In short the Hollywood legend, which has cast its shadow (to borrow the institute's phrase) over American culture for so many years, will be cut down to something approximately life size. Not such a bad idea at that.

Don't forget this is crystal-gazing and that the institute which did the crystal-gazing is a little partial to television.

is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this example A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

Wanda Oldaker Becomes Bride

PARSONS, W. Va.—Mr. and Mrs. Harrison Oldaker, Parsons, announce the marriage of their daughter, Wanda Jane, to Robert Paul Johnson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Johnson, Montrose.

The double ring ceremony was solemnized in the home of Rev. A. Brooks Withers at Kerens on Saturday at 3:45 p. m. with Rev. Withers, retired Baptist minister, officiating.

Mrs. Johnson attended Parsons High School and Mr. Johnson attended Pleasant Hill High School in Akron, Ohio.

Immediately following the ceremony a bridal dinner was served to the wedding party and immediate families at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Haskel Schilansky Parsons.

The couple will live in Akron following a honeymoon to be spent in the South.

Amateur Hour To Get Regular Spot On ABC's Network

By C. E. BUTTERFIELD

NEW YORK, Sept. 28—Return of the Amateur hour, already re-established in television, as well as vacation ends for Bing Crosby and Groucho Marx take place all on the same ABC network Wednesday night.

The Amateur hour is patterned after the former Major Bowes shows, even to the style of announcing. It will have an hour at 8 p. m. under a sponsor, the same one that it is taking in on for Dumont television, where it has been running east coast network since January. Ted Mack is M. C.

In coming back for this third ABC season, Crosby at 10 will have Claudtette Colbert and his four sons as guests. The boys are singers, too.

The Groucho Marx show, a quizz with quips, will be given back its former 9:30 time on ABC. . . Another quiz is now extant on CBS at 10. It bears the title of Time's a-Wastin'.

MBS reports that "Can You Top This" ex-NBC, is going on at 8. . . The Quiz Kids are the youth month guests for the James Melton concert on CBS at 9:30.

The only announced political broadcast is a Liberal party program on ABC at 10:45 on behalf of Truman and Barkley.

RADIO IN REVIEW

By JOHN CROSBY

The Crystal Ball

Crystal-gazing about the future of television is risky business right now. Nevertheless I think a recent report by the Television Research Institute makes provocative reading if you keep in mind that this is crystal-gazing and nothing else. "Hollywood as we know it is on the way out," says an arresting sentence at the conclusion of the report.

John Crosby

Polls show, the institute declares, that possession of a television set already has changed movie habits to a startling degree. Once the set arrives, movie attendance drops off 30 per cent. "Even the most ardent supporter of video-as-it-is must put television at the lowest level of entertainment," says the institute with remarkable candor. "Its heavy, water-logged cameras are almost immobile. It lacks one of radio's greatest advantages, the imagination of the listener. . . If in its present defective state, the television set can reduce screen attendance by 20 per cent, what will happen when video entertainment creeps out of its swaddling clothes and becomes adult amusement?"

The institute never quite answers this question but it provides an illuminating lesson in economics. When the drain on movie attendance due to television gets really serious, the report says, the three, four or five million dollar picture simply won't return its investment. (The institute, incidentally, kindly refrained from pointing out that the movie makers had budget troubles aplenty this year without losing an appreciable part of their audience to television.)

In recent years Hollywood has succeeded only rarely in turning out first rate pictures for as little as $1,000,000. Yet with the prospect of sharply diminished income the demand for pictures will — and these are conservative estimates — three to four times greater, including the demands for video film. Will the advertiser's dollar make up the difference? The institute says absolutely not.

Last year the nation's biggest advertiser, Proctor & Gamble, spent $28,000,000 in advertising, of which $16,500,000 went to radio. If every cent of the last figure was spent on movie production, the institute figures it would make only thirty-three fairly low-budgeted pictures and P & G certainly can't be expected to gamble its entire resources on thirty-three television shows. The smaller advertisers — General Motors for example, with $2,000,000 alloted last year to network radio — couldn't begin to afford feature films at present costs, no matter how bad.

Major movie producers are considering two types of film — one for theaters, one for video — but, in the light of present experience, the institute feels that the set owners will prefer free films at home, particularly after better fidelity is achieved, to paid attendance at better films in the theaters.

"There will be in the next few years many more pictures produced than ever before," concludes the report. "They will be turned out at a cost level undreamed of by today's cinemoguls. There will be fewer spectacle pictures, more and more Hollywood output designed for television's smaller screens. By the time video makers install their hoped-for 24,000,000 sets, it seems likely that the motion picture marqee will no longer cast its shadow over pavements."

To carry this reasoning a little farther than the institute cared to go, a lot of other things seem likely too. If three or four times as many pictures are made for, say, half as much money, the future quality of the cinema — whether seen at home or in a theater — seems bound to decline. We'll see more pictures and much worse ones. Movie salaries will shrink drastically. Prices for novels and plays will tumble possibly to one-tenth their present inflated levels. The legitimate theater may again be able to compete with Hollywood for talented writers and actors. In short the Hollywood legend, which has cast its shadow (to borrow the institute's phrase) over American culture for so many years, will be cut down to something approximately life size. Not such a bad idea at that.

Don't forget this is crystal-gazing and that the institute which did the crystal-gazing is a little partial to television.

Wanda Oldaker Becomes Bride

PARSONS, W. Va.—Mr. and Mrs. Harrison Oldaker, Parsons, announce the marriage of their daughter, Wanda Jane, to Robert Paul Johnson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Johnson, Montrose.

The double ring ceremony was solemnized in the home of Rev. A. Brooks Withers at Kerens on Saturday at 3:45 p. m. with Rev. Withers, retired Baptist minister, officiating.

Mrs. Johnson attended Parsons High School and Mr. Johnson attended Pleasant Hill High School in Akron, Ohio.

Immediately following the ceremony a bridal dinner was served to the wedding party and immediate families at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Haskel Schlansky Parsons.

The couple will live in Akron following a honeymoon to be spent in the South.

Lions Will Sponsor Old Clothes Drive

MT. SAVAGE.—The Lions Club of Mt. Savage will sponsor through the month of October an old clothes campaign, the clothing to be given to needy persons in the community.

Persons who have contriboutions may leave them at the A. and P. store or Mulligan's store, both on Main Street in Mt. Savage.

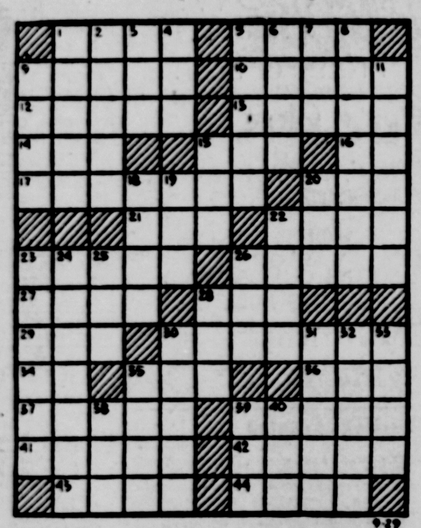
Yesterday's Answer



DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE—Here's how to work it:

is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this example A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

A Cryptogram Quotation

P B K L U B T K U O P A C W K Y M W J V P G J

C D W B X, U B C U A P H K Y M W J V P G J

Rails And Oils Provide Strength For Modest Stock Market Rally

NEW YORK, Sept. 28 (AP)—Rails and oils today provided the strength for a stock market rally of modest size.

Starting from the lowest level since early April, the market regained a little more than one-third of the sharp loss encountered yesterday.

The volume of trading at 910,000 shares was disappointing to those looking for the conventional signs of underlying market strength. It was about average for a rally of today's dimensions. Yesterday's sell-off was accompanied by 1,210,000 transactions.

Trading was a trifle broader than usual with 1,003 issues involved. Of these, 498 advanced and 291 declined. There were 79 new lows and no new highs for 1948 made during the day.

Rail stocks were fractions to more than two points higher. Santa Fe was up 2⅝ to 117¾, Southern Railway up 1½ at 43, Nickel Plate up 1 at 78¼, and Southern Pacific added ¾ at 55⅞.

Railroad loans moved ahead a point or better in the bond market as the first of the August earnings statement on carriers showed increases over a year ago.

The volume was $3,222,000, a little under yesterday's $3,547,000 but an improvement over the lesser figures of last week.

U. S. Government Bonds were up a little in over-the-counter dealings.

NOTICE

Ridgeley Treasurer Mails Water Bills

The town hall in Ridgeley, W. Va., will be open from 1 p. m. until 4 p. m. daily except Saturday and Sunday, between October 1 and October 15, inclusive, for the purpose of paying water rental.

According to Robert L. Zimmerman, town recorder and treasurer, water rental fees are payable each six months. Bills not paid by October 15 are subject to an additional charge of 10 per cent, he explained. Water bills have been mailed to all consumers.

Orbello Posts Bond On Gaming Charge

Frank Orbello, owner of Frank's Cafe, 113 North Mechanc Street, posted $25 bond last night on a charge of maintaining a gaming device.

Officers Kenneth W. Morrissey and James W. Brown, who arrested Orbello, said a tip board was in operation at the cafe when they arrested him.

Police said Orbello will be given a hearing in Police Court at 9 a. m. today.

Lumberman Injures Arm While Driving Tractor

A Friendsville lumberman, Clarence Reckart, 35, was admitted to Memorial Hospital at 4 p. m. yesterday for treatment of a fractured left arm sustained when a cable broke on a tractor he was driving. He was reported in good condition.

Miss Emma Sell, 70, 200 Wills Creek Avenue, admitted to Allegany Hospital after she sustained a fractured hip Sunday in a fall down stairs at her home, was said to be in fair condition.

Lippel and his associate chairmen are now organizing the complete committee of 40 members to make plans for advance gifts work.

Wilbur V. Wilson, local attorney and former U. S. commissioner here, has been appointed campaign treasurer.

James Bishop, classified section chairman, $26,510; and Mrs. Arthur C. Bright, residential section chairman, $5,000.

Charles S. Catherman, Jr., is chairman of the publicity committee, which will meet this afternoon at 3:30 in City Hall auditorium.

Radio Stations WTBO and WCUM will carry a thirty-minute "Red Feather Roundup," September 30, from 10:30 to 11 p. m., opening the October campaigns of the Community Chests of America.

One minute of the WTBO program has been allotted to a local speaker, Frederick W. Eiler, chairman of the Cumberland Community Chest. Eiler will speak on the campaign here.

President Truman will officially launch the campaigns with a talk on the special program which will be carried on all major networks from coast to coast. His talk will climax a star-studded half hour.

To be heard are such stars as Robert Taylor, Jack Benny, Bob Hope, Jo Stafford, Ronald and Benita Colman, the Andrews Sisters, "Red" Skelton and Danny Kaye.

The stars are contributing their talent in support of the 12,000 local Red Feather health and welfare services in more than 1,000 cities and towns throughout the country.

Dorothy Ebert Heads Delta Theta Chi

Mrs. Helen Burke presided and plans were completed for the installation dinner tonight at 7 at Ali Ghan Country Club. Other officers to be inducted are Miss Margaret Clancey, vice president; Miss Rose Stakem, recording secretary; Miss Frances Snoeberger, treasurer, and Miss Mildred Davis, corresponding secretary.

Stolen Car Found

I. W. Smith, 906 Gay Street, last night reported to City Police he had found his 1938 sedan, which he reported stolen from in front of his home Sunday night.

He said he found the car on North Mechanic Street.

DEATHS

MRS. McGADY SERVICE

A funeral service for Mrs. Edith A. McGady, wife of William J. McGady, who died Sunday at her home, 709 Gephart Drive, was held yesterday in the Kight Funeral Home. Rev. Hixon T. Bowersox, pastor of St. Paul's Lutheran Church, was in charge of the service and burial was in Rose Hill Cemetery.

Pallbearers were Harry B. Simpson, David Allender, William Umstott, Ralph Cramer, K. A. Wolfe and William J. Edwards.

MRS. ELBIN RITES

A service was held yesterday for Mrs. Hazel Maude Elbin, 35, who was fatally shot by her husband, Charles R. Elbin, Saturday morning in their Gilpintown home, at the Oldtown Methodist Church. Rev. B. F. Hartman, Flintstone Methodist Circuit, officiated, assisted by Rev. T. E. Richardson, pastor of Oldtown Methodist Church. Burial will be in Mount Tabor Cemetery.

Pallbearers were Elvin Lewis, John Lewis, Willard Bradour, John Twigg, Harry Adams and Earl Nield.

Mignot Service

A funeral mass for Charles Luke Mignot, 79, 509 Beall Street, who died Saturday in Memorial Hospital, was celebrated yesterday in St. Patrick's Catholic Church by Rev. J. Lawrence Kilkenny, pastor. Burial was in St. Mary's Cemetery, Oldtown Road.

Pallbearers were Vernon Hager, George Harrison, H. J. Rolley, Nicholas Holshey, Edward Joyce and Michael D. Reinhart.

PATRICK P. WARNER

Patrick P. Warner, 63, a B. and O. switch tender, died yesterday at his residence, 710 Elm Street. He had been in failing health some time.

Mr. Warner was born December 5, 1883, at Elk Garden, W. Va., a son of the late George M. and Susan M. Kenney Warner, natives of West Virginia. He belonged to the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen.

Surviving are his widow, the former Miss Jennie Robinette; three sons, Patrick G., Edgar V. and Michael W. Warner, this city; three daughters, Mrs. Dolores A. Clarke, Dunellen, N. J., and Mrs. Leona C. Walker and Mrs. Bernadine M. Digman, this city; four sisters, Mrs. Mary Northcraft, Ridgeley; Mrs. Vesta Snyder and Mrs. Nellie Cline, this city, and Mrs. Anna Gothren, Mt. Savage, and 18 grandchildren.

A funeral service will be held tomorrow at 2:30 p. m. at the Scarpelli Funeral Home with Rev. Paul M. Neff, paster of First Brethren Church officiating. Interment will be in Hillcrest Burial Park.

LEONARD WALSH

Leonard Walsh, 58, brother of Clarence Walsh and Mrs. Anna Shinholt, this city, died September 21 at his home, 1208 Sandusky Street, Pittsburgh, Pa.

A funeral service was held Saturday in St. Mary's Catholic Church, Pittsburgh, and burial was in the church cemetery.

Mr. Walsh is also survived by another brother, Frank Walsh, Frostburg, his widow, and a daughter, Mrs. Ruth Janeco, Pittsburgh.

MRS. SARAH R. DARKEY

PARSONS, W. Va.—Mrs. Sarah R. Darkey, 69, resident of Parsons for 35 years, died yesterday in a Montgomery, W. Va., hospital. She had been ill for the past year.

Mrs. Darkey was born February 15, 1879, in Barbour County, a daughter of the late James and Rachel Howell Poling. Her husband, James T. Darkey, died 21 years ago. At the time of her death, she was living with her daughter, Mrs. Robert Trice, Montgomery.

She is survived by two other daughters, Mrs. Elmer Phillips, Parsons, and Mrs. W. D. Tabler, Elkins; four sons, Major Carl Darkey, U. S. Army chaplain, Washington, D. C.; Guy Darkey, Atlanta, Ga.; Harry Darkey, Kansas City, Mo., and J. Harold Darkey, Daily, W. Va.; two sisters, Mrs. Rosa Bowman, Washington, D. C., and Mrs. Alice Bowman, Davis, 18 grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

The body will be returned to Parsons.

MRS. PANSY GRACE PROUD

THOMAS, W. Va.—Miss Pansy Grace Proud, 36, Thomas, died Sunday in a Western hospital following a long illness.

She was born October 4, 1912, in Thomas. Her mother, Mrs. Houston Proud, died in March, 1943; her father, Joseph Proud, died in February, 1948, and her only sister, Miss Mary Proud, died in June, 1948.

A funeral service will be held today at 10 a. m. in the Duncan Funeral Home here with Rev. A. B. Mann, pastor of the Presbyterian Church, officiating. The body will then be taken to Meyersdale, Pa., for burial at 2 p. m. in Union Cemetery.

Washington County

method of financing the project was not announced.

However, when the election board thought there would be no machines this year, they began plans for ordinary paper ballot voting. The question is whether they have gone too far in their plans to make the machines practicable for the November election.

Although the company said temporary machines could be sent to Washington County within a week or two after ordering, it would take two hours to set up each of the 70 machines for use. There would also be the matter of educating election officials.

Should the machines be ordered, Washington County will be the fourth Maryland county to have automatic voting. Anne Arundel, Montgomery, Howard and Baltimore Counties and Baltimore City have already installed them.

The voting machine question in Allegany County is dependent upon the outcome of a referendum to be put before the voters in the November general election. The cost to this county was estimated at $140,000.

Fined In Tax Case

TOWSON, Md., Sept. 28 (AP)—Abe Goldberg was fined $500 in Baltimore County Circuit Court today for failing to collect and pay the state sales tax at his tavern.

Rails And Oils Provide Strength For Modest Stock Market Rally

NEW YORK, Sept. 28 (AP)—Rails and oils today provided the strength for a stock market rally of modest size.

Starting from the lowest level since early April, the market regained a little more than one-third of the sharp loss encountered yesterday.

The volume of trading at 910,000 shares was disappointing to those looking for the conventional signs of underlying market strength. It was about average for a rally of today's dimensions. Yesterday's sell-off was accompanied by 1,210,000 transactions.

Trading was a trifle broader than usual with 1,003 issues involved. Of these, 498 advanced and 291 declined. There were 79 new lows and no new highs for 1948 made during the day.

Rail stocks were fractions to more than two points higher. Santa Fe was up 2⅝ to 117¾, Southern Railway up 1½ at 43, Nickel Plate up 1 at 78¼, and Southern Pacific added ⅜ at 55⅞.

Railroad loans moved ahead a point or better in the bond market as the first of the August earnings statement on carriers showed increases over a year ago.

The volume was $3,222,000, a little under yesterday's $3,547,000 but an improvement over the lesser figures of last week.

U. S. Government Bonds were up a little in over-the-counter dealings.

Washington County

method of financing the project was not announced.

However, when the election board thought there would be no machines this year, they began plans for ordinary paper ballot voting. The question is whether they have gone too far in their plans to make the machines practicable for the November election.

Although the company said temporary machines could be sent to Washington County within a week or two after ordering, it would take two hours to set up each of the 70 machines for use. There would also be the matter of educating election officials.

Should the machines be ordered, Washington County will be the fourth Maryland county to have automatic voting. Anne Arundel, Montgomery, Howard and Baltimore Counties and Baltimore City have already installed them.

The voting machine question in Allegany County is dependent upon the outcome of a referendum to be put before the voters in the November general election. The cost to this county was estimated at $140,000.

TOWSON, Md., Sept. 28 (AP)—Abe Goldberg was fined $500 in Baltimore County Circuit Court today for failing to collect and pay the state sales tax at his tavern.

Jury Debates Kirk's Fate In Murder Trial

Late Night Session Held At Oakland

Early this morning a Garrett County jury still debated the fate of Golden Kirk, 23, Deer Park, tried in Oakland yesterday on a charge of murdering his stepfather, Walter Messenger, last March 26, during a headed argument in the Kirk home, with three blasts from a shotgun.

The case went to trial yesterday morning with Chief Judge Joseph D. Mish, Hagerstown, and Associate Judge Oliver H. Bruce, this city, presiding. Some difficulty was encountered in paneling a jury from the regular list of talismen, and the sheriff and his aides summoned four from the street.

Court Room Jammed

The trial got underway shortly before noon before a jammed court room. When the case went to the jury at 8:15 p. m. in a night session, the crowd of spectators waited throughout the long deliberations of the jury to hear the verdict.

It was after this that Kirk is reported to have gone some distance to the farm of Eston Carr and borrowed a shotgun. Carr testified this morning that he had loaned the weapon to Kirk.

The Messenger girl also testified that her father had been drinking and that she saw Kirk take one drink. She also related how Kirk shot her father.

Sheriff J. S. Teats of Garrett county, and Criminal Investigator William F. Baker, of the Maryland State Police, told of their investigation into the crime.

Kirk was defended by Neil C. Fraley and Stuart Hamill, Jr., who were appointed by the court as counsel.

W. Dwight Stover, state's attorney for Garrett County, was assisted in prosecuting the case by Walter W. Dawson, former state's attorney.

First Degree Verdict Asked

Stover, in his opening statement to the jury, recounted how Kirk had shot his stepfather and events leading up to the slaying. He asked for a verdict of first degree murder.

Kirk, a poor woodsman, has been in the county jail since his arrest. He told authorities and newspapermen after his arrest that Messenger had threatened his mother and that he had trouble with the man on previous occasions. Kirk said he was afraid of Messenger, especially when the man was drinking.

The young defendant said he rode a bicycle about half a mile to borrow the shotgun used in the fatal shooting.

Light And Decker Plan New Business Center

Light and Decker Company, Inc., farm equipment and motor truck dealer, 315 South Centre Street, has purchased a large tract of land at the intersection of U. S. Route 40 and Winchester Road, west of the city, for use as a business site, it was disclosed here yesterday.

A deed was filed in the office of the clerk of court Monday, conveying a tract containing 16 and fourtenths acres of the old Longerbeam farm from James W. Beacham, local realtor, to the Light and Decker Company, Inc., for a consideration of around $18,000, according to attached tax stamps.

Richard E. Light, president of the company, said yesterday a large store room, warehouse and service building will be constructed on the property, and the balance laid off for development into other business sites.

Light, a native of Cumberland, has been associated with International Harvester Company for a number of years, and about six years ago returned here to establish his own business, agency and dealership. About a year ago, the business was incorporated with Ross O. Decker, a native of Marietta, Ohio, and former employe of International and RCA becoming a member of the corporation. Light explained yesterday that the firm has a number of dealerships in various types of farm equipment and machinery, a truck and harvester agency, and does an extensive business in small motor and mechanical parts of all descriptions.

The International Harvester Company has designed a type of distributor building, considered the last word in efficiency, and it is this type which is to be constructed here, Light said. The building is of modern architectural design and includes a large outside parking and display area.

Light said the tract purchased includes about 1,500 feet along Winchester Road and the National Highway. Between 300 and 400 feet will be required for their own purpose and the balance will be laid off in building lots, preferably for new business locations.

Light said parking conditions and other problems in Cumberland make it more and more difficult for a business of his type to operate, since space is needed for parking trucks, machinery, etc., that is not available.

In purchasing this particular site, he explained, consideration was given to future development here. The possibility that Route 40 might some day go over Braddock on to Winchester Road, the possibility that Frostburg and Cumberland will continue to grow and expand along the National Highway between the two cities and the possibility that LaVale will also continue to grow, all led to this choice of site.

Light said much of his firm's business comes from the George's Creek Region and Garrett County, and the new location, outside the present city limits will provide better service and facilities to customers in many ways.

Work is expected to start on the new building and development by next spring, it was indicated.

Additional Street Markers Will Be Ordered By City

A shipment of 65 street markers will be ordered immediately from Lyle Signs, Inc., Minneapolis, and another order for an additional 65 markers will be placed within the next two weeks, Street Commissioner Edgar H. Reynolds said yesterday.

Reynolds prepared to order the additional markers after approving a list of streets, drawn up by City Engineer Ralph L. Rizer, on which the new markers are to be placed.

The commissioner pointed out that street marking in Cumberland, which got underway early this month with the arrival of 208 signs from the Minneapolis firm, will be standardized as far as possible.

All but a dozen of the first shipment of 208 signs have been set up in the downtown section and arterial streets of the city. Erection of the remainder has been delayed pending ordering of additional iron poles from the H. and S. Heating and Plumbing Company.

When the new shipment of 65 markers arrives, 55 will be placed on iron poles and the remaining 10 on existing telephone or electric light poles.

Under present plans, those markers will be placed in South Cumberland and the West Side, on the following streets:

Arrvial of the two shipments of 65 signs each will bring the total to over 300 signs. Rizer has estimated that approximately 700 new signs will be needed to complete the city-wide street marking project.

West Side Yields 15 Tons Of Paper

The Weather

Although yesterday's promised rain did not materialize, the threat still hangs over Cumberland heads today. The sky was cloudy, but the thermometer registered a rather warm 69 degrees. The overnight low was 43—just another in a long series of cool nights which the 10 o'clock temperature last night of 51 degrees seemed about to continue.

Independence Street Brightened By Multi-Colored Dahlia Garden

P. O. Weber, 453 Independence Street, likes flowers. He also likes people. So he sees to it that the two get together as often as he can.

A retired Western Maryland Railway conductor, Weber has been raising dahlias for 12 years. He started out with three or four varieties and has built up his collection year by year.

Last spring he imported Joe McGinty and Red Sunset bulbs from Baltimore to add to the multi-colored assortment.

The blooms went right back to their birthplace when Weber sent a bouquet to six-year-old Deanna Llewellyn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert M. Llewellyn, 431 Independence Street, who has been receiving treatment at Children's Hospital, Baltimore. Maybe they helped in her recovery. At any rate, her parents are expecting her home this week.

Hardy Plants

Although dahlias are not perennials, Weber said they are hardy plants and in their summer's growth reach a height of five or six feet with blooms as large as 11 inches in diameter.

When questioned as to his favoite species, he confessed that there are two schools of thought in the family. He, himself, prefers the Betty Colder for its rose-tinted gold color and perfect shape. However, his granddaughter, Donna Boyd, 5, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Boyd, 812 Kentucky Avenue, who visits her grandparents sometimes, seems to hold out for the all-gold Amelia Earhart.

Although a stroke suffered in 1946 prevents him from working from dawn to dark, as he feels he should to keep his plants in proper trim, Weber doesn't confine himself to dahlias.

From early spring when the croci and hyacinths bloom until the snow kills the last asters and cannas, the Weber yard is filled with color. He plants oddities among his conventional flowers such as "cats and kittens," a cactus that looks like a tiny cabbage, variegated pampas grass which he believes is unique in Cumberland, and wild bleeding hearts.

In addition to his flowers, he has a sizeable vegetable garden. In fact, the beets sometimes get mixed up with the cannas and flowers border the tomato patch.

Weber was born 71 years ago in Wurttenburg, Germany, where his parents had a four or five acre farm so he has always been used to growing things. He came to Baltimore in 1892 when he was 15 years old. After marrying his wife, Mrs. Johanna Weber, he decided to settle in Cumberland.

Once Worked For Bakery

For 12 years he worked for the former John M. Streets Bakery on Centre Street. He then was employed by the Western Maryland Railroad for 32 yars and eight months before his retirement four years ago.

Next year the dahlias with their colors ranging from white through gold to deepest purple may be planted in a different place because he doesn't like to wear out the soil. But neighbors may rest assured that the Weber yard will always be a mass of bright colors for their enjoyment and the gate is only closed to keep Joey, their black cocker spaniel, from digging up the flowers.

Smith Urges "Selling" City's Resources

Cumberland has all the potentials for attracting new industries, and it is to the advantage of every resident to "talk up" the city's resources whenever possible, Howard M. Smith told members of the Cumberland Exchange Club at their diner meeting last night at the Ali Ghan Shrine Country Club.

Smith, who is chairman of Cumberland's newly formed industrial promotion committee, cited facts and figures to prove that Cumberland is ideal for new industries in its location, transportation facilities, employable personnel, water, power and access to markets.

Community Chest Section Quotas Are Established

Advance Gifts Work To Start October 6

Section quotas have been established for the 1948-49 Cumberland Community Chest campaign, Henry C. Swearingen, general chairman, announced yesterday.

Overall goal of the campaign, which will be held October 20 to 28, is $84,009.24, as compared to last year's goal of $75,393.51.

The advance gifts committee, which will begin its work next Wednesday, October 6, will have a quota this year of $52,500.

Swearingen also announced that Clarence Lippel, chairman of the advance gifts committee, has named six associate chairmen.

They are George Schwarzenbach, Edgar Vandegrift, George Buchan-

Washington Co. Seeks Bids On Vote Machines

Board Reverses Its Previous Decision

The Washington County Board of Election Supervisors was authorized yesterday by the Washington County Commissioners to ask for bids for automatic voting machines but they may come too late for the November election, according to J. Richard Rauth, president of the board.

The matter has been up before the Commissioners for the last couple of months, but they indicated at their meeting in Hagerstown last Tuesday they would not vote in favor of the machines.

State Senator D. Kenneth McLaughlin, Hagerstown, appeared before the board yesterday in favor of the innovation and authorization was finally given.

The election board received a previous bid of $84,000 for 70 machines from the Automatic Voting Machine Company which is the only company known to make a machine for the Maryland type ballot. The

Twenty-five of the record crowd of over 1,400 women attending the opening session of the Times-News Food Festival School of Cookery yesterday went home with platters of food, sacks of groceries, pyrex ware and towel sets as prizes.

These will be awarded every day to Friday, inclusive, and on that final day, there will be 12 extra grand prizes.

The school sessions got under way at 9:15 with welcoming remarks by J. William Hunt on behalf of the Times-News, and an introduction of Miss Edalene Stohr, of Chicago, who is conducting her third school in Cumberland under auspices of the local newspapers. Assisting Miss Stohr this year is Miss Barbara Heide. Pages are th Misses Abby McMullen and Dorothy Mullen.

Winners of today's food dishes were Mrs. Alvin Lowery, Hyndman, Pa.; Lena Earsom, 800 Patterson Avenue; Mrs. Lester Corle, LaVale; Mrs. George Miller, 1725 Bedford Street; Mrs. Clay, 54 Boone Street; Mrs. C. W. Sirbaugh, 14 Elder Street; Mrs. Evelyn Driver, 806 Memorial Avenue; Mrs. F. R. Blaul, 309 Greene Street; Mrs. Regina Martz, Baltimore Pike; Mrs. Leo Rhodes, Ridgeley, and Mrs. M. H. Wharton, 423 Laing Avenue.

The set of six towels was awarded to Laura Johns, 1109 Virginia Avenue.

Sacks of groceries were won by Mrs. John Morris, 223 Fulton Street; Mrs. C. E. Witt, RFD 5, Cumberland; Mrs. A. J. Fresh, Mexico Farms; Mrs. N. B. Schiller, 630 Fairview Avenue; Mrs. J. Kerr, 518 Dreyer Avenue; Mrs. Mae Hartman, 507 Warren Street; Geneva Phillips, Ridgeley; Mrs. Thomas C. Huff, 421 Broadway; Mrs. M. Stanton, 600 Louisiana Avenue, and Mildred Shank, 308 Woodside Avenue.

Demonstrated by Miss Stohr yesterday were Spanish pork chops, baked sausage pattie, Swiss steak, budget-wise steak, banana cake, cold meat platter, apple strudel, roast leg of lamb, oatmeal crispies, pumpkin pie and several other dishes.

This year all the recipes are in one book instead of four separate books as in previous years. Sessions of the school will begin each morning at 9:15 and doors will be open at 8:30.

PLATTER WINNERS-- These Cumberland housewives didn't have to worry about preparing lunch when they went home from the Times-News Cooking School yesterday. They won platters of meat prepared before the audience of 1,400 women who watched Miss Edalene Stohr, assisted by Miss Barbara Heide, give pointers on the preparation of economical and tasty food. Carrying home tasty main dishes for their families were (left to right) Mrs. J. W. Earson, 800 Patterson Avenue, swiss steak; Mrs. Regina Martz, RFD 2, Baltimore Pike, leg of lamb, and Mrs. Frank Blaul, 309 Greene Street, economy sirloin.

GOP Campaign Headquarters To Open October 4

Office Will Be In Fort Cumberland

Republican headquarters for the Dewey-Warren-Beall campaigns in Allegany County will be opened Monday, October 4, according to Paul M. Fletcher, chairman of the Allegany County Republican State Central Committee.

Location of the headquarters will be in Room 204, Fort Cumberland Hotel.

Beginning Monday and continuing every weekday through Election Day November 2, the headquarters office will be open from 9 a. m. until 9 p. m.

Arrangements for the location were made by Fred B. Driscoll, this city, a member of the county GOP State Central Committee.

Fletcher said the Fort Cumberland Hotel location will serve as general Republican campaign headquarters for the entire county.

Arrangements are being made to place a campaign banner on an outside wall of the hotel, to indicate the headquarters location.

Two stenographers will be on duty when the campaign office opens Monday. Other personnel will be announced later.

Campaign literature and buttons will be available there, as well as general election information, such as the location of polling places and eligibility restrictions for voters, Fletcher said.

This will be the first time that Republican campaign headquarters has been located at that hotel, he added.

Local Group Asks Traffic Study

The Highways and Transportation Committee of the Cumberland Chamber of Commerce yesterday discussed the local traffic situation and went on record as favoring a complete professional study of the problem.

The group expressed its appreciation of the work of the local police in solving some of the city's traffic problems, but said that any long-range program would have to be based on a detailed, expert study.

It was recommended that some provision be made for parking on side streets. Members of the committee expressed their belief that there is not enough parking space in the scattered parking areas which are now provided.

The committee also discussed the railroad grade crossing elimination project underway between Keyser and McCoole. No report has been received recently from the State Roads Commission.

The Advertising Committee of the Mercantile Bureau met yesterday morning to map plans for the Christmas decoration program. Decorations will be ordered soon. The committee set a joint meeting with the sales promotion committee for Friday at 9:30 a. m. in the Chamber office.

The Civic Improvement Committee will meet at 4 p. m. today to discuss street markings at LaVale and a street-cleaning program for Cumberland.

The Membership Committee will plan its winter program at a meeting next week.

Railroads Ask Freight, Coal Rate Increases

CHARLESTON, W. Va., September 28 (AP)—The 13 railroad companies operating in the state asked the Public Service Commission today for increases in coal and some other freight rates.

They asked that hearing be postponed until action is taken on a similar request for higher interstate rates now pending before the Interstate Commerce Commission.

The proposed increases would add 25 cents a net ton or 28 cents gross ton to the rates for anthracite and bituminous coal and coke, and 20 cents a ton for iron ore.

The railroads said coal freight rates have gone up only 27 per cent since 1939, while the average of all rates is up 44 per cent.

Powers Eligible For Fraternity

Noyes Thompson Powers, former Allegany High School athlete, is among 17 sophomore men at Duke University, Durham, N. C., who are eligible for initiation into Phi Eta Sigma, national scholastic honorary fraternity, it has been announced by Arthur Stringer, president.

The requirement for membership is an over-all 2.25 average for the first year.

WINFIELD H. ADAM

Winfield Adam Is Named General Secretary Of "Y"

Appointment To Be Effective October 1

Winfield H. Adam was appointed general secretary of Central YMCA, effective October 1, at a meeting of the YMCA board of directors last night.

Adam came to Cumberland February 1, 1947, as program and boys' secretary at the YMCA. He has been serving as acting general secretary since April 16 of this year, when Robert L. Sisson resigned as general secretary to accept a position in Detroit, Mich., as membership secretary of the Fisher Branch of the Detroit YMCA.

During the business session last night, at which Adolf Blunk, president, presided, Adam reported on renovation operations conducted this summer at the YMCA building, including painting of the swimming pool, hallway, lobby and gymnasium.

He also noted that plans are being made to paint and renovate the dormitory rooms.

J. Goodloe Jackson, membership chairman, who was in charge of the "membership emphasis week" which ended last Friday, reported that new memberships are still being received, with the total to date about 300.

The board approved plans to replace the present steam water heating system with gas. Four sealed bids, received from local firms, will be opened today, when the contract will be let.

Starting next month, board meetings will be held the second Monday of each month instead of on the fourth Tuesday.

12 Retired Area Miners Receive Pension Checks

Pension payments to eligible soft coal miners have started in this district, according to John T. Jones, president of District No. 16, United Mine Workers of America, with offices in the Clark-Keating Building here.

Twelve retired miners of this district are among the first group to receive their $100 per month pensions from the United Mine Workers' Welfare Fund. The 12 include:

Climax Of Three Year Effort

Start of these pension payments to eligible among the nation's 400,000 soft-coal miners represents the climax of a three-year battle by John L. Lewis, president of the UMWA, to bring security to America's aged, disabled, injured and, in many cases, destitute miners.

In presenting Pension Check No. 1 to a Wyoming coal miner in ceremonies held recently in Washington, Lewis said of the principle of the welfare fund:

"We think that as long as we can preserve that principle that we can make for a contented working force and contended citizenry, and we believe that in so doing we are sitting up America's best insurance policy against communism or any other kind of 'ism' and against those who believe that it is the function of the State to regulate completely the lives of all men who are citizens of that State."

Retire At Age 62

Basic requirements for eligibility are that the miner be at least 62 years old, have worked in the mines for at least 20 years and have retired since May 26, 1946. The pension payments are financed by the UMWA Welfare and Retirement Fund from operator payments into the fund of 20 cents a ton on each ton of soft-coal mined.

A similar health and welfare fund is in operation for the 80,000 anthracite coal miners who work in Eastern Pennsylvania.

In addition to pensions, the UMWA Welfare and Retirement Fund is providing, among other things, for disability benefits to approximately 150,000 injured miners and their wives and children, is paying $1,000 death benefits to miners who die or are killed in mining accidents and is paying for hospitalization and rehabilitation of approximately 200 paraplegic coal miners, whose spinal columns were severed in mining accidents.

Mild Interest Shown In County Registration

Names Added In Scattered Returns

There was only mild interest throughout the county in the first of two registration days for voters prior to the November presidential election, political observers said last night. With the county's 75 precincts open from 9 a. m. until 9 p. m., a spot check indicated that probably not more than 1,500 persons registered.

There were numerous inquiries in most precincts made by people who wanted to know if their names are still on the books, or had been stricken for failure to vote. Those whose names were stricken when the books were transcribed last winter received notices. Some of these appeared yesterday to register again.

Few Transfers

Registrars said there were a few transfers, as people took advantage of the opportunity to get their names on poll books in their present neighborhoods. A few requests were made by women to have their registration record changed to include their married name.

Precincts which reported their results last night show a total of 133 Democrats, 179 Republicans, one Socialist, one Progressive and three Independents registered yesterday. The 14 precints heard from show a total of 317 names added.

The report by precincts reporting follows:

Precinct	Republicans	Democrats	Total
2 Oldtown	1	4	5
5-6 A to J Franklin St.	17	13	30
5-4 K to Z Columbia Ave.	11	6	17
6-1 Cou.. House	10	10	20
6-3 West Side Fire Sta.	12	5	17
6-4 West Side School	14	9	23
6-5 Mt. Royal School	19	12	31
6-6 McMullen Hgwy.	21	13	34
9 Barton	7	2	9
14-1 Market Street	16	12	28
18-2 Midland	5	5	10
21 Gross	10	5	15
23-3 Goethe Street	9	14	23
29-2 LaVale	27	23	50
Totals	179	133	312

West Side Fire Station also registered one independent, and Market Street registered two, while Barton registered on Socialist and one Progressive.

Home Building In City Shows Slight Decrease

Costruction of new homes during the past 30-day period decreased slightly as compared to August, with 11 permits for new residences estimated to cost $51,800 issued by the city engineer's office, according to a report released yesterday.

During August, 14 permits were issued for new homes estimated to cost a total of $73,800.

Although the total number of building permits issued for new construction was slightly lower than in August, the total estimated cost was considerably higher because of the $45,000 Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company storage building being erected at Elder Street and Lexington Avenue.

Twelve permits were granted for additions and improvements estimated to cost $32,850, as compared to 22 such permits totaling $22,985, isued during August.

Applications were made for seven occupancy permits, all of which were granted by the city engineer's office.

Two building permits were issued yesterday.

Mrs. Glennie Shipley Shelton, 611 Hilltop Drive, will build a one-story house, 30 by 32 feet, on Lot 21, Frederick Street, in Eichner's Addition. The structure will have a concrete block foundation, brick walls and composition roof and cost an estimated $8,000.

Business Women Name 18 New Members

Eighteen new members were elected to the Business and Professional Women's Club at the regular dinner meeting last night at Central YMCA, with Miss Orpha-Bonita Pritchard, president, presiding.

Announcement was made that the date of the reception for new members, which will be a feature of the "Business Week" observance next month, has been changed to Sunday afternoon, October 17. The event will be held at Frostburg State Teachers' College.

Last night's program included a tour of Station WCUM, conducted by Floyd Cozad, program director of the station. Arrangements were made by Miss Lena Allison, membership chairman.

The next meeting October 12 will be arranged by the public affairs committee, including Miss Maude Bean and Miss Dorothy Manley.

Mrs. Leary's Death Termed Accidental

A coroner's jury in Bedford, Pa., last night termed "accidental" the death of Mrs. Ethel Eleanora Foreman Leary, 47, Bean's Cove, according to Vernon E. Geisel, Bedford County coroner.

Mrs. Leary was killed in an automobile accident Monday, September 13, on the Bean's Cove Road. Her husband, who was driving the car, was seriously injured.

Leary said he failed to negotiate a curve and ran off the road when he tried to pass a parked car. Leary, proprietor of Leary's Tavern, said he and his wife were only about 300 yards from the tavern at the time of the accident. He and his wife, he said, were returning from a visit to Bedford when the accident occurred.

BIRTHS

Memorial Hospital announced the following birth yesterday:

Mr. and Mrs. William Hogbin, Spring Gap, W. Va., a daughter.

Late Night Session Held At Oakland

Early this morning a Garrett County jury still debated the fate of Golden Kirk, 23, Deer Park, tried in Oakland yesterday on a charge of murdering his stepfather, Walter Messenger, last March 26 during a headed argument in the Kirk home, with three blasts from a shotgun.

The case went to trial yesterday morning with Chief Judge Joseph D. Mish, Hagerstown, and Associate Judge Oliver H. Bruce, this city, presiding. Some difficulty was encountered in paneling a jury from the regular list of talismen, and the sheriff and his aides summoned four from the street.

Court Room Jammed

The trial got underway shortly before noon before a jammed court room. When the case went to the jury at 8:15 p. m. in a night session, the crowd of spectators waited throughout the long deliberations of the jury to hear the verdict.

Ruth Messenger, 11, daughter of the slain man, testified that the night of the shooting her father threatened Kirk and her mother.

It was after this that Kirk is reported to have gone some distance to the farm of Eston Carr and borrowed a shotgun. Carr testified this morning that he had loaned the weapon to Kirk.

The Messenger girl also testified that her father had been drinking and that she saw Kirk take one drink. She also related how Kirk shot her father.

Sheriff J. S. Teats of Garrett county, and Criminal Investigator William F. Baker, of the Maryland State Police, told of their investigation into the crime.

Kirk was defended by Neil C. Fraley and Stuart Hamill, Jr., who were appointed by the court as counsel.

W. Dwight Stover, state's attorney for Garrett County, was assisted in prosecuting the case by Walter W. Dawson, former state's attorney.

First Degree Verdict Asked

Stover, in his opening statement to the jury, recounted how Kirk had shot his stepfather and events leading up to the slaying. He asked for a verdict of first degree murder.

Kirk, a poor woodsman, has been in the county jail since his arrest. He told authorities and newspapermen after his arrest that Messenger had threatened his mother and that he had trouble with the man on previous occasions. Kirk said he was afraid of Messenger, especially when the man was drinking.

The young defendant said he rode a bicycle about half a mile to borrow the shotgun used in the fatal shooting.

Additional Street Markers Will Be Ordered By City

A shipment of 65 street markers will be ordered immediately from Lyle Signs, Inc., Minneapolis, and another order for an additional 65 markers will be placed within the next two weeks, Street Commissioner Edgar H. Reynolds said yesterday.

Reynolds prepared to order the additional markers after approving a list of streets, drawn up by City Engineer Ralph L. Rizer, on which the new markers are to be placed.

The commissioner pointed out that street marking in Cumberland, which got underway early this month with the arrival of 208 signs from the Minneapolis firm, will be standardized as far as possible.

All but a dozen of the first shipment of 208 signs have been set up in the downtown section and arterial streets of the city. Erection of the remainder has been delayed pending ordering of additional iron poles from the H. and S. Heating and Plumbing Company.

When the new shipment of 65 markers arrives, 55 will be placed on iron poles and the remaining 10 on existing telephone or electric light poles.

Under present plans, those markers will be placed in South Cumberland and the West Side, on the following streets:

Arrvial of the two shipments of 65 signs each will bring the total to over 300 signs. Rizer has estimated that approximately 700 new signs will be needed to complete the city-wide street marking project.

West Side Yields 15 Tons Of Paper

The West Side netted 15 pounds of paper in the second day of the monthly wastepaper drive.

The Weather

Although yesterday's promised rain did not materialize, the threat still hangs over Cumberland heads today. The sky was cloudy, but the thermometer registered a rather warm 69 degrees. The overnight low was 43—just another in a long series of cool nights which the 10 o'clock temperature last night of 51 degrees seemed about to continue.

DAHLIA JUNGLE-- P. O. Weber, 453 Independence Street, stands in a maze of dahlia plants higher than his head, holding a few of his prize specimens. Only a technicolor picture would do justice to the blossoms which range in color from white through orange to deep purple. Weber, a retired Western Maryland Railway conductor, says that he has 55 dahlia plants and 22 varieties growing in his yard. The obscurity of the blossoms may be partly attributed to the fact that the leaves and stems of the plants are very large and partly to his tendency to load visitors who stop to admire his garden with samples of the blooms. Dahlias are not perennials but are planted every spring and grow as high as five or six feet.

Light And Decker Plan New Business Center

Light and Decker Company, Inc., farm equipment and motor truck dealer, 315 South Centre Street, has purchased a large tract of land at the intersection of U. S. Route 40 and Winchester Road, west of the city, for use as a business site, it was disclosed here yesterday.

A deed was filed in the office of the clerk of court Monday, conveying a tract containing 16 and fourtenths acres of the old Longerbeam farm from James W. Beacham, local realtor, to the Light and Decker Company, Inc., for a consideration of around $18,000, according to attached tax stamps.

Richard E. Light, president of the company, said yesterday a large store room, warehouse and service building will be constructed on the property, and the balance laid off for development into other business sites.

Light, a native of Cumberland, has been associated with International Harvester Company for a number of years, and about six years ago returned here to establish his own business, agency and dealership. About a year ago, the business was incorporated with Ross O. Decker, a native of Marietta, Ohio, and former employe of International and RCA becoming a member of the corporation. Light explained yesterday that the firm has a number of dealerships in various types of farm equipment and machinery, a truck and harvester agency, and does an extensive business in small motor and mechanical parts of all descriptions.

The International Harvester Company has designed a type of distributor building, considered the last word in efficiency, and it is this type which is to be constructed here, Light said. The building is of modern architectural design and includes a large outside parking and display area.

Light said the tract purchased includes about 1,500 feet along Winchester Road and the National Highway. Between 300 and 400 feet will be required for their own purpose and the balance will be laid off in building lots, preferably for new business locations.

Light said parking conditions and other problems in Cumberland make it more and more difficult for a business of his type to operate, since space is needed for parking trucks, machinery, etc., that is not available.

In purchasing this particular site, he explained, consideration was given to future development here. The possibility that Route 40 might some day go over Braddock on to Winchester Road, the possibility that Frostburg and Cumberland will continue to grow and expand along the National Highway between the two cities and the possibility that LaVale will also continue to grow, all led to this choice of site.

Light said much of his firm's business comes from the George's Creek Region and Garrett County, and the new location, outside the present city limits will provide better service and facilities to customers in many ways.

Work is expected to start on the new building and development by next spring, it was indicated.

Smith Urges "Selling" City's Resources

Cumberland has all the potentials for attracting new industries, and it is to the advantage of every resident to "talk up" the city's resources whenever possible, Howard M. Smith told members of the Cumberland Exchange Club at their diner meeting last night at the Ali Ghan Shrine Country Club.

Smith, who is chairman of Cumberland's newly formed industrial promotion committee, cited facts and figures to prove that Cumberland is ideal for new industries in its location, transportation facilities, employable personnel, water, power and access to markets.

Independence Street Brightened By Multi-Colored Dahlia Garden

P. O. Weber, 453 Independence Street, likes flowers. He also likes people. So he sees to it that the two get together as often as he can.

Many persons passing his side yard filled with 55 dahlia plants of 22 different varieties have stopped to admire the blooms only to go away loaded down with some of his choice specimens.

A retired Western Maryland Railway conductor, Weber has been raising dahlias for 12 years. He started out with three or four varieties and has built up his collection year by year.

Last spring he imported Joe McGinty and Red Sunset bulbs from Baltimore to add to the multi-colored assortment.

The blooms went right back to their birthplace when Weber sent a bouquet to six-year-old Deanna Llewellyn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert M. Llewellyn, 431 Independence Street, who has been receiving treatment at Children's Hospital, Baltimore. Maybe they helped in her recovery. At any rate, her parents are expecting her home this week.

Hardy Plants

Although dahlias are not perennials, Weber said they are hardy plants and in their summer's growth reach a height of five or six feet with blooms as large as 11 inches in diameter.

When questioned as to his favoite species, he confessed that there are two schools of thought in the family. He, himself, prefers the Betty Colder for its rose-tinted gold color and perfect shape. However, his granddaughter, Donna Boyd, 5, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Boyd, 812 Kentucky Avenue, who visits her grandparents sometimes, seems to hold out for the all-gold Amelia Earhart.

Although a stroke suffered in 1946 prevents him from working from dawn to dark, as he feels he should to keep his plants in proper trim, Weber doesn't confine himself to dahlias.

From early spring when the croci and hyacinths bloom until the snow kills the last asters and cannas, the Weber yard is filled with color. He plants oddities among his conventional flowers such as "cats and kittens," a cactus that looks like a tiny cabbage, variegated pampas grass which he believes is unique in Cumberland, and wild bleeding hearts.

In addition to his flowers, he has a sizeable vegetable garden. In fact, the beets sometimes get mixed up with the cannas and flowers border the tomato patch.

Weber was born 71 years ago in Wurttenburg, Germany, where his parents had a four or five acre farm so he has always been used to growing things. He came to Baltimore in 1892 when he was 15 years old. After marrying his wife, Mrs. Johanna Weber, he decided to settle in Cumberland.

Once Worked For Bakery

For 12 years he worked for the former John M. Streets Bakery on Centre Street. He then was employed by the Western Maryland Railroad for 32 yars and eight months before his retirement four years ago.

Next year the dahlias with their colors ranging from white through gold to deepest purple may be planted in a different place because he doesn't like to wear out the soil. But neighbors may rest assured that the Weber yard will always be a mass of bright colors for their enjoyment and the gate is only closed to keep Joey, their black cocker spaniel, from digging up the flowers.

Community Chest Section Quotas Are Established

Advance Gifts Work To Start October 6

Section quotas have been established for the 1948-49 Cumberland Community Chest campaign, Henry C. Swearingen, general chairman, announced yesterday.

Overall goal of the campaign, which will be held October 20 to 28, is $84,009.24, as compared to last year's goal of $75,393.51.

The advance gifts committee, which will begin its work next Wednesday, October 6, will have a quota this year of $52,500.

Swearingen also announced that Clarence Lippel, chairman of the advance gifts committee, has named six associate chairmen.

They are George Schwarzenbach, Edgar Vandegrift, George Buchan-

Washington Co. Seeks Bids On Vote Machines

Board Reverses Its Previous Decision

The Washington County Board of Election Supervisors was authorized yesterday by the Washington County Commissioners to ask for bids for automatic voting machines but they may come too late for the November election, according to J. Richard Rauth, president of the board.

The matter has been up before the Commissioners for the last couple of months, but they indicated at their meeting in Hagerstown last Tuesday they would not vote in favor of the machines.

State Senator D. Kenneth McLaughlin, Hagerstown, appeared before the board yesterday in favor of the innovation and authorization was finally given.

The election board received a previous bid of $84,000 for 70 machines from the Automatic Voting Machine Company which is the only company known to make a machine for the Maryland type ballot. The

Twenty-five of the record crowd of over 1,400 women attending the opening session of the Times-News Food Festival School of Cookery yesterday went home with platters of food, sacks of groceries, pyrex ware and towel sets as prizes.

These will be awarded every day to Friday, inclusive, and on that final day, there will be 12 extra grand prizes.

The school sessions got under way at 9:15 with welcoming remarks by J. William Hunt on behalf of the Times-News, and an introduction of Miss Edalene Stohr, of Chicago, who is conducting her third school in Cumberland under auspices of the local newspapers. Assisting Miss Stohr this year is Miss Barbara Heide. Pages are th Misses Abby McMullen and Dorothy Mullen.

Winners of today's food dishes were Mrs. Alvin Lowery, Hyndman, Pa.; Lena Earsom, 800 Patterson Avenue; Mrs. Lester Corle, LaVale; Mrs. George Miller, 1725 Bedford Street; Mrs. Clay, 54 Boone Street; Mrs. C. W. Sirbaugh, 14 Elder Street; Mrs. Evelyn Driver, 806 Memorial Avenue; Mrs. F. R. Blaul, 309 Greene Street; Mrs. Regina Martz, Baltimore Pike; Mrs. Leo Rhodes, Ridgeley, and Mrs. M. H. Wharton, 423 Laing Avenue.

Sacks of groceries were won by Mrs. John Morris, 223 Fulton Street; Mrs. C. E. Witt, RFD 5, Cumberland; Mrs. A. J. Fresh, Mexico Farms; Mrs. N. B. Schiller, 630 Fairview Avenue; Mrs. J. Kerr, 518 Dreyer Avenue; Mrs. Mae Hartman, 507 Warren Street; Geneva Phillips, Ridgeley; Mrs. Thomas C. Huff, 421 Broadway; Mrs. M. Stanton, 600 Louisiana Avenue, and Mildred Shank, 308 Woodside Avenue.

Demonstrated by Miss Stohr yesterday were Spanish pork chops, baked sausage pattie, Swiss steak, budget-wise steak, banana cake, cold meat platter, apple strudel, roast leg of lamb, oatmeal crispies, pumpkin pie and several other dishes.

This year all the recipes are in one book instead of four separate books as in previous years. Sessions of the school will begin each morning at 9:15 and doors will be open at 8:30.

PLATTER WINNERS-- These Cumberland housewives didn't have to worry about preparing lunch when they went home from the Times-News Cooking School yesterday. They won platters of meat prepared before the audience of 1,400 women who watched Miss Edalene Stohr, assisted by Miss Barbara Heide, give pointers on the preparation of economical and tasty food. Carrying home tasty main dishes for their families were (left to right) Mrs. J. W. Earson, 800 Patterson Avenue, swiss steak; Mrs. Regina Martz, RFD 2, Baltimore Pike, leg of lamb, and Mrs. Frank Blaul, 309 Greene Street, economy sirloin.

GOP Campaign Headquarters To Open October 4

Office Will Be In Fort Cumberland

Republican headquarters for the Dewey-Warren-Beall campaigns in Allegany County will be opened Monday, October 4, according to Paul M. Fletcher, chairman of the Allegany County Republican State Central Committee.

Location of the headquarters will be in Room 204, Fort Cumberland Hotel.

Beginning Monday and continuing every weekday through Election Day November 2, the headquarters office will be open from 9 a. m. until 9 p. m.

Arrangements for the location were made by Fred B. Driscoll, this city, a member of the county GOP State Central Committee.

Fletcher said the Fort Cumberland Hotel location will serve as general Republican campaign headquarters for the entire county.

Arrangements are being made to place a campaign banner on an outside wall of the hotel, to indicate the headquarters location.

Two stenographers will be on duty when the campaign office opens Monday. Other personnel will be announced later.

Campaign literature and buttons will be available there, as well as general election information, such as the location of polling places and eligibility restrictions for voters, Fletcher said.

This will be the first time that Republican campaign headquarters has been located at that hotel, he added.

Local Group Asks Traffic Study

The Highways and Transportation Committee of the Cumberland Chamber of Commerce yesterday discussed the local traffic situation and went on record as favoring a complete professional study of the problem.

The group expressed its appreciation of the work of the local police in solving some of the city's traffic problems, but said that any long-range program would have to be based on a detailed, expert study.

It was recommended that some provision be made for parking on side streets. Members of the committee expressed their belief that there is not enough parking space in the scattered parking areas which are now provided.

The committee also discussed the railroad grade crossing elimination project underway between Keyser and McCoole. No report has been received recently from the State Roads Commission.

The Advertising Committee of the Mercantile Bureau met yesterday morning to map plans for the Christmas decoration program. Decorations will be ordered soon. The committee set a joint meeting with the sales promotion committee for Friday at 9:30 a. m. in the Chamber office.

The Civic Improvement Committee will meet at 4 p. m. today to discuss street markings at LaVale and a street-cleaning program for Cumberland.

The Membership Committee will plan its winter program at a meeting next week.

Railroads Ask Freight, Coal Rate Increases

CHARLESTON, W. Va., September 28 (AP)—The 13 railroad companies operating in the state asked the Public Service Commission today for increases in coal and some other freight rates.

They asked that hearing be postponed until action is taken on a similar request for higher interstate rates now pending before the Interstate Commerce Commission.

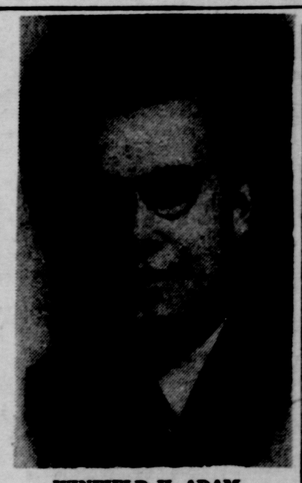
The proposed increases would add 25 cents a net ton or 28 cents gross ton to the rates for anthracite and bituminous coal and coke, and 20 cents a ton for iron ore.

The railroads said coal freight rates have gone up only 27 per cent since 1939, while the average of all rates is up 44 per cent.

Powers Eligible For Fraternity

Noyes Thompson Powers, former Allegany High School athlete, is among 17 sophomore men at Duke University, Durham, N. C., who are eligible for initiation into Phi Eta Sigma, national scholastic honorary fraternity, it has been announced by Arthur Stringer, president.

The requirement for membership is an over-all 2.25 average for the first year.



WINFIELD H. ADAM

Appointment To Be Effective October 1

Winfield H. Adam was appointed general secretary of Central YMCA, effective October 1, at a meeting of the YMCA board of directors last night.

Adam came to Cumberland February 1, 1947, as program and boys' secretary at the YMCA. He has been serving as acting general secretary since April 16 of this year, when Robert L. Sisson resigned as general secretary to accept a position in Detroit, Mich., as membership secretary of the Fisher Branch of the Detroit YMCA.

During the business session last night, at which Adolf Blunk, president, presided, Adam reported on renovation operations conducted this summer at the YMCA building, including painting of the swimming pool, hallway, lobby and gymnasium.

He also noted that plans are being made to paint and renovate the dormitory rooms.

J. Goodloe Jackson, membership chairman, who was in charge of the "membership emphasis week" which ended last Friday, reported that new memberships are still being received, with the total to date about 300.

The board approved plans to replace the present steam water heating system with gas. Four sealed bids, received from local firms, will be opened today, when the contract will be let.

Starting next month, board meetings will be held the second Monday of each month instead of on the fourth Tuesday.

12 Retired Area Miners Receive Pension Checks

Pension payments to eligible soft coal miners have started in this district, according to John T. Jones, president of District No. 16, United Mine Workers of America, with offices in the Clark-Keating Building here.

Twelve retired miners of this district are among the first group to receive their $100 per month pensions from the United Mine Workers' Welfare Fund. The 12 include:

Climax Of Three Year Effort

Start of these pension payments to eligible among the nation's 400,000 soft-coal miners represents the climax of a three-year battle by John L. Lewis, president of the UMWA, to bring security to America's aged, disabled, injured and, in many cases, destitute miners.

In presenting Pension Check No. 1 to a Wyoming coal miner in ceremonies held recently in Washington, Lewis said of the principle of the welfare fund:

"We think that as long as we can preserve that principle that we can make for a contented working force and contended citizenry, and we believe that in so doing we are sitting up America's best insurance policy against communism or any other kind of 'ism' and against those who believe that it is the function of the State to regulate completely the lives of all men who are citizens of that State."

Retire At Age 62

Basic requirements for eligibility are that the miner be at least 62 years old, have worked in the mines for at least 20 years and have retired since May 26, 1946. The pension payments are financed by the UMWA Welfare and Retirement Fund from operator payments into the fund of 20 cents a ton on each ton of soft-coal mined.

A similar health and welfare fund is in operation for the 80,000 anthracite coal miners who work in Eastern Pennsylvania.

In addition to pensions, the UMWA Welfare and Retirement Fund is providing, among other things, for disability benefits to approximately 150,000 injured miners and their wives and children, is paying $1,000 death benefits to miners who die or are killed in mining accidents and is paying for hospitalization and rehabilitation of approximately 200 paraplegic coal miners, whose spinal columns were severed in mining accidents.

Mild Interest Shown In County Registration

Names Added In Scattered Returns

There was only mild interest throughout the county in the first of two registration days for voters prior to the November presidential election, political observers said last night. With the county's 75 precincts open from 9 a. m. until 9 p. m., a spot check indicated that probably not more than 1,500 persons registered.

There were numerous inquiries in most precincts made by people who wanted to know if their names are still on the books, or had been stricken for failure to vote. Those whose names were stricken when the books were transcribed last winter received notices. Some of these appeared yesterday to register again.

Few Transfers

Registrars said there were a few transfers, as people took advantage of the opportunity to get their names on poll books in their present neighborhoods. A few requests were made by women to have their registration record changed to include their married name.

Precincts which reported their results last night show a total of 133 Democrats, 179 Republicans, one Socialist, one Progressive and three Independents registered yesterday. The 14 precints heard from show a total of 317 names added.

The report by precincts reporting follows:

Precinct	Republicans	Democrats	Total
2 Oldtown	1	4	5
3-4 A to J Franklin St.	17	13	30
3-4 K to Z Columbia Ave.	11	6	17
6-1 Cou. House	10	10	20
6-3 West Side Fire Sta.	12	5	17
6-4 West Side School	14	9	23
6-5 Mt. Royal School	19	12	31
6-6 McMullen Hgwy.	21	13	34
9 Barton	7	2	9
14-1 Market Street	16	12	28
18-2 Midland	5	5	10
21 Gross	10	5	15
23-1 Goethe Street	9	14	23
29-2 LaVale	27	23	50
Totals	179	133	312

Home Building In City Shows Slight Decrease

Costruction of new homes during the past 30-day period decreased slightly as compared to August, with 11 permits for new residences estimated to cost $51,800 issued by the city engineer's office, according to a report released yesterday.

During August, 14 permits were issued for new homes estimated to cost a total of $73,800.

Although the total number of building permits issued for new construction was slightly lower than in August, the total estimated cost was considerably higher because of the $45,000 Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company storage building being erected at Elder Street and Lexington Avenue.

The 23 permits for new construction total $103,950, as compared to the August figure of 25 permits for a total of $81,525.

Twelve permits were granted for additions and improvements estimated to cost $32,850, as compared to 22 such permits totaling $22,985, isued during August.

Applications were made for seven occupancy permits, all of which were granted by the city engineer's office.

Two building permits were issued yesterday.

Mrs. Glennie Shipley Shelton, 611 Hilltop Drive, will build a one-story house, 30 by 32 feet, on Lot 21, Frederick Street, in Eichner's Addition. The structure will have a concrete block foundation, brick walls and composition roof and cost an estimated $8,000.

Business Women Name 18 New Members

Eighteen new members were elected to the Business and Professional Women's Club at the regular dinner meeting last night at Central YMCA, with Miss Orpha-Bonita Pritchard, president, presiding.

Announcement was made that the date of the reception for new members, which will be a feature of the "Business Week" observance next month, has been changed to Sunday afternoon, October 17. The event will be held at Frostburg State Teachers' College.

Last night's program included a tour of Station WCUM, conducted by Floyd Cozad, program director of the station. Arrangements were made by Miss Lena Allison, membership chairman.

The next meeting October 12 will be arranged by the public affairs committee, including Miss Maude Bean and Miss Dorothy Manley.

Mrs. Leary's Death Termed Accidental

A coroner's jury in Bedford, Pa., last night termed "accidental" the death of Mrs. Ethel Eleanora Foreman Leary, 47, Bean's Cove, according to Vernon E. Geisel, Bedford County coroner.

Mrs. Leary was killed in an automobile accident Monday, September 13, on the Bean's Cove Road. Her husband, who was driving the car, was seriously injured.

Leary said he failed to negotiate a curve and ran off the road when he tried to pass a parked car. Leary, proprietor of Leary's Tavern, said he and his wife were only about 300 yards from the tavern at the time of the accident. He and his wife, he said, were returning from a visit to Bedford when the accident occurred.

BIRTHS

Memorial Hospital announced the following birth yesterday:
